NEW STATE ROAD LAW IS A HOT ONE

Makes Radical Changes for All Vehicles in Carrying Lights

SALEM, MARCH 9.—When Governor West signed substitute house bill No. 32, which completely changes the status of automobile registration he made Oregon one of the first Western states to adopt uniform highway legislation. In fact, there are but few Eastern states that have as complete and intelligent a set of road laws as this state.

The new automobile law, as many call it, or the "Oregon motor law," as it is known, is said to be the most complete law governing traffic in force in the United States. The committee from the Portland Automobile club, headed by W. C. Bristol and assisted by a committee of dealers which drew up the law, had made an exhaustive study of Eastern laws and changed them to suit the needs of this Oregon country, and it is the unanimous verdict of the automobile owners of the city that they have been successful.

One of the most radical changes makes it necessary for every vehicle, including automobiles, carriages and bicycles, to carry a lighted lamp on the front, visible at least 100 feet in advance of the vehicle, and showing a red light to the rear. This provision is expected to do away with many of the accidents on the highways at night in which teams and horses and carriages have been run down by automobiles.

There is a heavy penalty attached to the violation of this and every other section of the law. Fines of $25 for first offense, $50 and imprisonment, if necessary, for a second offense, and still more for any other offense make it incumbent upon the owners of all vehicles to obey the law. The second radical change is in the law governing speed. While the law is changed and the rate of speed permitted increased through the clause calling for a reasonable speed at all times, it is possible to arrest a man driving eight miles an hour if he has been driving his car at a rate which is unreasonable in view of the traffic on the streets which surround him. However, it is allowable to drive at a speed of twenty-five miles an hour on any street or highway in the state not clearly marked otherwise.

In its treatment of the driving on mountain roads and street crossings, and its regulations regarding all intersections, the law has made a great change. It goes into effect August 1, 1911.

Paisley Press Cleanings

A baby girl made her arrival at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Brattain Wednesday, March 21, Dr. A. A. Witham in attendance.

Word comes from M. C. Reed, of Portland, who intends looking over this field with the intention of opening a bank, that he will be in Paisley in a short time.

Sheep men are wearing the smile that went come off. The winter is over, green grass is starting and the loss of sheep has been little worse than usual during the winter.

A new townsite has been laid off in the Anna river section at the head of Summer Lake. J. W. Nelson is the moving spirit in this new enterprise. The new town is to be named Spring River. The director of the Anna River Irrigation and Power Company met last week and ordered the pump shipped at once, arranged for the speedy completion of all contracts for building ditches and flumes and instructed the Secretary to prepare for signature contracts for water users. The company is making all promises good and is now ready for the signing of contracts by the stockholders.

Jim Harper went down to the Narrows the fore part of the week and loaded his wagon with about a half ton of catfish. Everybody in town who has a tooth for fish surely had a treat. The river just swarms with them and it takes only a few minutes to get a supply for the whole of Lent. Jim only saved the big ones and threw back as many or more than he brought home. It may not be much sport for the real fisherman but with the fish eater it is all the same for the catfish is a juicy bird.

MURDERED MEN'S PROPERTY FOUND

Clothing Taken From Stockmen Found On Their Slayers

Relative to the killing of the Eagleville Valley stockmen by a band of renegade Indians, the Alturas New Era furnishes the additional particulars:

A search of the camp resulted in finding many articles which had belonged to the four murdered men. Harry Cambron's watch was found, while the automatic pistol with which young Hogle of Eagleville was killed was the one which Harry Cambron had carried. The clothing taken from the murdered men also was found, and most of it had been altered to fit the Indians. One pair of "chaps" had been cut off to fit an Indian boy of twelve years. The Indians also had some of the horses taken from their victims, but all the horses were shot by the posse to prevent the Indians from escaping.

The saddest part of the affair was the death of Young Ed Hogle. The men saw one of the squaws and tried to capture her without shooting at her. When about thirty steps away, an Indian, who was hiding behind her, rose up and shot Hogle. Instantaneously the posse fired and the Indian fell riddled with bullets.

The chief of the band was old Shoshone Mike, and the remainder were his sons and their families. It was really a renegade family of Indians, who escaped from the reservation in Idaho and have been roaming about for years, living on what they could kill or steal. Old Mike lived for two hours after the fight and confessed to other murders, one a Chinaman, of which they still had his quon, and the other a young white boy near Elko. Two white men are now imprisoned under charge of murdering this boy.

Mike stated that they saw one man, evidently Indian, come up and look at the meat on the rock, where they had been jerking it and then go away. Later when Cambron, Era mouse, Indian and Laxague appeared the Indians thought they were officers coming to arrest them, and for that reason ambushed them and shot them.

Mr. Cambron and Mr. Smith had with them many curiosities, taken from the camp, some of them being large bullets which the Indians had moulded themselves out of lead, he sides fine specimens of the Indians' weaving, at which they seemed expert.

Greater Than Expected

PORTLAND, March 15.—Reports from railroad centers in the Middle States indicate that the rush of home seekers to Oregon during the colonist rate period will be far beyond expectations. The rates became effective March 10th, and several trainloads of people are now speeding westward, with others following them daily.

H. A. Jackson, assistant general freight and passenger agent of the Great Northern Railway company, with headquarters in this city, stated this morning that every indication points to a very heavy movement during the colonist rate period.

"The movement has exceeded expectations," said Mr. Jackson this morning. "The overflow of the night of the 11th and the morning of the 12th on our line required thirteen extra sleepers. Great Northern No. 1 of the 12th from Chicago left in two sections, and indications are that No. 3 will run in two sections. Our correspondence and inquiries indicate that the majority of parties inquiring are bound for Oregon."

R. M. Young who is an expert orchardist in the employ of R. L. Edwards, is clearing 210 acres of the James Thomas ranch of sage brush, says the Alturas New Era. The brush is being hauled to the Morse Hotel and making good fuel. After clearing the parties expect to plant an extensive orchard.

Fully nine out of every ten cases of rheumatism is simply rheumatism of the muscles due to cold or damp, or chronic rheumatism, neither of which require any internal treatment. All that is needed to afford relief is the free application of Chamberlain's Liniment. Give it a trial. You are certain to be pleased with the quick relief which it affords. W. C. Nave and Miss Zelma Hastings, Thos. Lush and Flora Chambers and J. H. Williams and Miss May Bowman were three couples who were married at Alturas last week.

Fred Baker, the half breed, and who is not unknown in Lakeview, last week at Alturas plead guilty to breking out of jail and was sentenced to five years in Folsom.
