TEDDY INCREASES ANNANIAS CLUB

Certain Unnamed Muck-raking Magazines are Now Included

Berkeley, Cal., March 28.—Theodore Roosevelt concluded his series of Earl lectures here this afternoon with a ringing condemnation of those newspapers and magazines—the "Ananias muckrakers," he termed them—that "misrepresent and discredit honest public servants that, with the result that the mind of the people is so confused that it is unable to distinguish the honest official from the dishonest." "The public man," said Colonel Roosevelt, "occupies a very important and responsible position but in a country like ours, where public opinion prevails so paramountly, the public man doesn't occupy nearly so important position as he that moulds public opinion. The cardinal sin of the moulder of public opinion is mendacity; the cardinal sin of the public man is theft. I abhor the thief, but I abhor even more the assassin of character—he thunders to destroy the public's faith in the honesty of the man who rightfully should be where he is."

Citing the obverse of that declaration the colonel declared that "the newspaper man or magazine writer that sustains the crook shares the crook's guilt." But the honest man that is fit for public life, the speaker thought, should have a fairly thick skin and be capable of viewing with grim contempt the accusations of those that made a living out of mendacity.

"There's a type of magazine," the colonel went on, "a type that it is hardly fair to call 'muckraking,' because certain muckraking magazines have performed a splendid public service—type which may be designated as 'Ananias muckrakers,' than which no influence can play a more contemptible part. No convicted alderman or disgraced public man doing time in a penitentiary is baser than this type of magazine which purveys disgraceful accusations against honorable men whom they know to be true to their principles."

The danger of such magazines, he said, lies in confusing the public mind, "and if once you get the public thinking all public men are 'pretty much alike' there is a great danger of ruining American citizenship."

"The man who poisons the public mind," he asserted, "is as thoroughly reprehensible a scoundrel as the man who poisons the public's bodies."

TO PROBE STATE'S LOANING SYSTEM

State Land Agent Will Examine Securities Held By State

State Land Agent Rinehart, under the direction of Governor West, will start immediately making a personal investigation of every outstanding mortgage loan of the state land board in Oregon for the purpose of reporting to the board.

In his message, the governor declared, that in making its mortgage loans in the past the land board has been guided by information furnished by its local attorneys in each county.

"If any of these have been careless or guided by selfish motives in recommending the loans it is possible that the state has been carrying some bad paper," he states.

It will be the duty of the state land agent under this new order of the board to take steps to protect the loans where the security is found to be inadequate.

There are about $5,000,000 worth of these loans outstanding.

THE AMER WAS THOROUGH

There were some interesting episodes in the life of Sir Charles Edmund Smith. Once in the market place of an Afghanistan town he was fired at by a native. He lodged a complaint with the ameer, who appeared to take no notice of the incident, merely remarking, "That's all right." Sir Charles complained again and met with the same reply. He still thought that the ameer was treating a serious matter with less consideration than it deserved, but thought it advisable to say no more on the subject. About a week afterward he was invited by the ameer to ride with him. They rode for some distance outside the town, and they passed gibbet after gibbet. At length Sir Charles said, "Your highness has been busy of late." "Oh, no," replied the ameer; "they are your little lot." He had seized all the members of the would be assassin's family and hanged every one of them.

MAGAZINES MAILED AS FAST FREIGHT

Postmaster-General Hitchcock Inaugurates Plan to Reduce Cost

Washington, March 27.—Magazines and other bulky periodicals after July 1 next will be transported by the Post-office Department in carloads, as fast freight.

Postmaster-General Hitchcock is developing plans as rapidly as possible to utilize fast freight in the transportation of magazines where practicable and in instances where a saving to the Government in transportation charges may be effected.

"The plans I have decided upon," said Mr. Hitchcock, "are not proposed as a solution of the pending controversy over the suggested increase of the second-class rates on advertising sections of magazines, but they probably will tend to bring about a solution of that question."

Distribution terminals have been established in Boston, New York, Philadelphia, St. Louis, Omaha, St. Paul, Chicago and Cincinnati. Through matter that can be handled in carload lots will be sent through the weighing section by freight and such additional distribution as is necessary before the matter is delivered to other railway Postoffice lines will be done at the terminals.

Arrangements will be made with the publishers for a finer separation in the publishing offices and for an earlier mailing of their matter so that the slower method of transportation may not affect the regularity or promptness of its delivery.

"We expect," said Mr. Hitchcock, "to effect considerable economies, not only in the actual cost of transportation of the matter, but also in the railway Postoffice car pay."

Members of Parol Board

Salem, Or., March 28.—Governor West has appointed James R. Linn and John Minto, of Salem members of the newly created parole board. They will act with Superintendent James of the penitentiary, who is a member of the board by virtue of the office he holds. John Minto has been chief of police and postmaster at Portland, Mr. Linn is a member of the firm of hop dealers of Catlin & Linn, of Salem, and is a close friend of Governor West. The duties of the board do not begin until after May 20, the date upon which the new law goes into effect.

POSTAL SAVINGS BANKS WIN OUT

System Proves Successful But Deposits Are Not Large

Klamath Herald: Postmaster Emmitt is in receipt of a statement from the postoffice department, showing the number of accounts in the postal savings banks throughout the country, giving the total amount on deposit and average balance per depositor on February 28th. There is but one postal savings bank in each state, and Klamath ranks 26th in the list.

Leadville, Colo., heads the list, with a total deposit of $212,253, and Newberry, S. C., brings up the rear with $199. Klamath Falls has $1,071 on deposit, and as there are twenty-five depositors, the average is $42.99 each.

Considering the size of the other cities in which postal savings banks are located, the showing made by Klamath Falls is indeed great, and Mr. Emmitt reports the amount deposited as on the increase.
