Lakeview, Oregon, Thursday, April 6, 1911

The submission of the Sunday-closing ordinance to the people of Ashland resulted in its defeat by a vote of 469 to 365. And now the good people who favored the Sunday-closing of theaters have instituted proceedings declaring the election illegal. Had the vote been reversed and a like action taken by the people favoring an open Sunday, how Rome would have howled?

Oregon Postmasters will hold their annual convention in Portland June 7, 8, and 9. Selection of the place of meeting and the dates were made during the past week. Postmasters of California, Washington and Idaho will be invited. Matters for the betterment of the service will be discussed and many suggestions made that will likely be adopted by the department.

Supreme Court Justice James Aloysius O'Gorman, Democrat, of New York City, was elected United States Senator last Friday night by the Legislature, after this most protracted struggle over the position ever held in the Empire state. On final ballot, the sixty-fourth, he received 112 votes to 80 cast for Chauncey M. Depew, whose term expired March 4th last. The vote for O'Gorman was then made unanimous.

The state land agent has compiled a table showing the amount of unsold lands in the state. While several of the counties have no unsold lands, the counties of Crook, Grant, Harney and Malheur contain large areas yet to be disposed of, and which the state is desirous of having settled. Baker, 19,840; Benton, 200; Coos, 120; Curry, 940; Gilliam, 3,520; Crook, 40,200; Douglas, 905; Grant, 21,840; Harney, 145,280; Jackson, 400; Josephine, 1,260; Klamath, 920; Lake, 94,240; Lincoln, 360; Malheur, 175,520; Morrow, 1960; Tillamook, 160; Sherman, 1400; Umatilla, 4,360; Union, 5,120; Wallowa, 2,320; Wasco, 3560; Wheeler, 8160.

Portland gained considerable prestige as a livestock market from the recent Fat Stock Show held there. Not only was the show a great success but it broke former price records for stock. The sale of the champion steer for $409, or 26 cents a pound, on foot, is the highest figure paid for beef in that market. The steer was two years old and was raised in Baker county. Livestockmen, the Commercial Club and the railroads contributed to the prizes and they brought out a large number of splendid exhibits. Breeders in attendance were impressed as never before with the importance of that market and its future as a livestock center. That is also the highest market for cattle in the United States, quality and conditions being considered. Inside of five years, predicted a Montana stockman at the show, all the cattle in the Northwest will come to Portland.

Paisley Press Items

Lute Moss has taken a contract for plowing the George Conn farm.

Paisley now has a roller skating rink. The rink is located in the Paisley hall, Mr. Cotterill being the proprietor.

Miss Jessie Moore on last Friday completed a very successful term of public school in the Withers neighborhood on Summer Lake.

The advance guard of a large army of homeseekers is beginning to arrive. There has been more strangers in town during the past week than ever before.

According to reports received an artesian well will be sunk at Horn valley near Alkali lake, during the coming summer. If the promoters of the project succeed in their object it will result in the influx of a great many new settlers into that part of Lake county.

Valley Falls Items

The improved condition of the roads is reflected in the increased travel lately.

The new house on the homestead of H. E. Curtis is fast nearing completion.

F. A. ELLIOTT IS STATE FORESTER

Plans for Work of the New Board Not Yet Outlined

Salem, March 30.—F. A. Elliott, of Salem, was elected State Forester today over S. C. Bartrum, of Roseburg, at the first meeting of the new State Board of Forestry. Members of the board say that Elliott was selected because of his long practical experience in the timber industry, and that he will devote his time largely to the practical work of the office, while his deputy will have charge of the work in the office itself and the publicity features in connection with a campaign to ward off the destruction of vast timbered resources by fire.

State Forester Elliott has long been employed by the Spalding Logging Company, of this city, and has been engaged in various capacities in the timber business for thirty years. At one time he was at the head of the Oregon and California fire-fighting forces, organizing them and keeping the company's loss at the lowest notch.

No selection of the deputy has been made, the State Board instructing Forester Elliott to reserve this appointment until he can secure a man of good technical training who will be able to handle the publicity work and take charge of the office details in connection with the policy which will be outlined by the Forester and the board.

The board decided that a publicity policy of wide scope should be inaugurated, that the new law and its purport be placed fully before the people. They declared that the board will not stand for any one class and that the property of all will be protected insofar as it comes under the purview of the statute. A full representation of the membership was present, including the Governor and Forester and the balance of the appointees, as follows: L. S. Hill, of Junction City, of the Oregon and Washington Lumber Manufacturer's Association; A. P. Sprague, of Portland, of the Oregon Forest Fire Association; A. T. Buxwell, of Hillsboro, of the Oregon State Grange; George H. Cecil, of Portland, of the United States Forestry Service, and Dan P. Smythe, of the Oregon Woolgrowers' Association, and George W. Peavy, of the Forestry department of Oregon Agricultural College, also ex-officio member of the board.

State Forester Elliott said tonight that the general policy of the board has not been decided upon and that he has not arrived at a definite conclusion as to what course he will pursue. But it has been settled, he says, that all of the fire wardens, who are paid employees of the various lumber companies and appointed by the Forester shall be under the direct supervision of the state.

Forester Elliott is unable to say what will be the magnitude of the state patrol system, and does not know as yet how many deputy fire wardens will be appointed. It is probable, however, that some such system as is in vogue in the Forestry Service of the United States will be established and rangers will be put in use to carry out the plan to subdue and prevent forest fires.

Big Success

Spring was opened last Saturday by the Parisian Millinery, with a large display of beautiful models in Easter hats. The store was decorated with peach blossoms, and the windows much admired by all who saw them. There were no favorites in Parisian Millinery. This it would seem was the ruling law this season, for never did we see such a variety of styles, shapes and trimmings. To group them into classes, would be next to impossible so few features being common to any large number. The store was crowded, and it is safe to assume a good business was done.

Contract to Let

Contract to let for work on canal. Good job. Particulars see L. J. Conn or write or call on Geo. Conn, Paisley, Oregon. Also good man and woman wanted to work on ranch. Good situation. GEO. CONN, Paisley, Ore.

Perry Retired

Washington, March 29.—In recognition by the United States Government of his north pole achievements Robert E. Perry today was commissioned a "civil engineer in the navy," with the rank of rear admiral on the retired list. The commission is retroactive, dating April 6, 1909, when the explorer reached the "top of the earth."

He will be formally detached from active duty by the secretary of the navy within a few days. For several days months he has been detailed for special service with the department of justice acting as an adviser to the attorney general in naval matters. Congress gave the explorer the highest retired pay of rear admiral, $6000, his previous rank being captain at $5000 yearly.

RUBBER OYSTERS.

They Brought Trade and Saved Their Inventor From Failure.

"Rubber oysters laid the foundation of my success," said a millionaire hotel man.

"I had a small saloon in them days, and things looked very black. They looked, in fact, like bankruptcy. So in desperation I cut an old rubber doormat into oyster shaped pieces on April 1 and fried them in egg and breadcrumbs to a tasty brown.

"There was only one man in the bar when I feigned in that dish of smoking rubber oysters. His eyes glittered, and he grabbed a fork, jabbed it into a big fellow and took a hungry bite.

"Seeing the surprised look that spread over his face, I turned away to hide a smile. He gave an awkward laugh and said:

"Them's fine oysters. I'll bring a couple of the boys in to sample them."

"Sure enough, he brought two friends a half hour later. The friends no sooner saw the appetizing rubber oysters than, setting down their beer, they each sunk their teeth in one.

"They, too, sent in friends for oysters. I fried up no less than three old doormats and two overshoes that April fool day. The whole town laughed, and the papers printed funny stories about my joke. My joint got real popular.

"In short, I was saved—saved from bankruptcy by rubber oysters." — Washington Post.

To Husband and Wife.

Preserve sacredly the privacy of your own house, your married state and your heart. Let no father or mother or sister or brother ever presume to come between you or share the joys or sorrows that belong to you two alone.

With mutual help build your quiet world, not allowing your dearest earthly friends to be the confidant of aught that concerns your domestic peace. Let moments of alienation, if they occur, be healed at once. Never, no, never, speak of it outside, but to each other confess, and all will come out right. Never let the morrow's sun still find you at variance. Renew and renew your vow. It will do you good, and thereby your minds will grow together contented in that love which is stronger than death, and you will be truly one.—National Magazine

Dogs and Fleas.

If your dogs are troubled with fleas a very simple way to get rid of the pests is to provide beds of fresh cedar shavings or, better, cedar excelsior in the kennels or wherever the dogs sleep. The scent is not at all unpleasant to the dogs, but is abhorrent to the fleas. When a dog's coat gets thoroughly scented not only do the fleas leave him while asleep, but they will not jump upon him when he is out during the day.—Brooklyn Eagle

Entirely Apt.

At first glance the novel's title, "The Rainbow," seemed to be lacking in significance, but as it afterward developed that the hero blushed crimson, was blue with the cold, had his lips grow gray, was seized by a black rage, fell into a brown study, grew green with envy, purple with indignation, livid with fear, yellow with chagrin and scarlet with embarrassment, the title proved to be entirely apt.—Puck

Your tongue is coated.
Your breath is foul.
Headaches come and go.

These symptoms show that your stomach is the trouble. To remove the cause is the first thing, and Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets will do that. Easy to take and most effective. Sold by all good dealers.

A GOOD POSITION

Can be had by ambitious young men and ladies in the field of "Wireless" or Railroad telegraphy. Since the 8-hour law became effective, and since the Wireless companies are establishing stations throughout the country there is a great shortage of telegraphers. Positions pay beginners from $70 to $90 per month, with good chance of advancement. The National Telegraph Institute of Portland, Ore., operates six official institutes in America, under the supervision of R. K. and Wireless officials and places all graduates into positions. It will pay you to write them for full details.
