Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Finley, of Bly arrived in the city Friday and were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. Q. Willis. Saturday morning they left for Warner Valley where Mr. Finley will look over the Walter Dent ranch, which he thinks of purchasing.

With potatoes now selling at 5 and 6 cents per pound it is a matter of wonder to us why more eastern people do not take advantage of the many opportunities which this section offers and take up the growing of garden produce. There's money in it.

O. U. Metcalf, traveling freight and passenger agent, at Reno, Nev., for the Southern Pacific was in Lakeview a couple of days the first part of the week calling on the business men. He will return here on July 8 to be in attendance at the wool sale.

A very pleasant meeting of the Catholic Ladies' Aitar Society was held Thursday afternoon last at the home of Mrs. A. McNab. After the necessary business had been transacted refreshments were served and a social time was enjoyed until a late hour.

Some very nice pictures of the laying of the corner stone of the new Catholic Church are now on exhibition in the window of A. Kaufman's jewelry store. The pictures were snapped by Stone the photographer and are being sold by him at sixty cents each.

G. K. Harrington, one of the attendant at the Salem Asylum arrived in Lakeview Monday evening and left the next morning for Salem with Thos. J. Dijarrette who was brought here from New Pine Creek several days ago and upon examination was adjudged insane.

Until within a few weeks ago we have been obliged to confine ourselves principally to beef, as the only meat available. However, now that sheep are beginning to come in on their way to the summer ranges it is possible occasionally to buy mutton, and the change is certainly appreciated.

County Sheriff Warner Snider, who recently acquired a new Ford auto, may be seen about our streets almost any day now in his new purchase. Warner has learned to handle the wheel like a veteran, and appears to have no trouble whatever whizzing around the corners.

Dan Sullivan, a well known sheepman appeared in town last week for the first time since his departure for the desert early last fall. Dan appeared to be glad to see Lakeview once more, especially after the severe winter on the desert, and immediately noticed the many improvements since his last visit with us.

A very enjoyable band concert was given on the Court House grounds Sunday afternoon last, and a large audience was pleased with the selections rendered. If anyone doubts that our band boys can deliver the goods let them listen to the music once or twice and we have no doubt but what they will see things as we do.

Dr. C. D. Marsh, of the Bureau of Plant Industry, Sunday evening arrived here to work in co-operation with W. W. Eggleston, assistant botanist of the same bureau, who has been on the ground for the past few weeks. Dr. Marsh is an authority on sheep sickness, and any owner who has the misfortune to lose any of his stock through poisoning otherwise should immediately report the matter to these officials, who are making their present headquarters at the local Forest office.

On July 1 the Fremont National Forest, with headquarters in this city will be decreased in area by several thousands of acres. The northern part of the Forests, that portion lying north of the town of Silver Lake and west of Silver Creek, with a portion of the Des Chutes National Forest, will be included in what is known as the Paulina Forest and will be in charge of Supervisor Cryder. Mr. Cryder was until recently a Ranger on the Deschutes district, from which position he was promoted to the place he is to assume.

Paisley Pick-ups
(Chewaucan Press)

Chas. Arthur and Fred Snelling, of Lakeview, were in Paisley Sunday.

Mrs. Sherlock and daughter, Ena, returned from the Willamette Valley Saturday.

Two big wagon loads of wool started for the railroad Saturday, shipped by the Chewaucan Mercantile Co.

Mr. George Conn has completed his new irrigation system and turned the water into the flume on Saturday. From the flume the water passes into the small ditches and can be switched from one ditch to another. Mr. Conn found that surface irrigation was unsatisfactory and so at considerable expense changed it to sub-irrigation. He is one of the few men in this section who conduct their farming operations on up-to-date lines. He proposes buying a traction engine with which to do his plowing and land clearing.

Loss by Fire

Saturday morning Samuel Riley, the well known West Side rancher, received a telegram from San Angelo, Texas stating that a house owned by him at that place valued at $2500 had been struck by lightning and completely gutted by fire. The loss was covered by only $1200 insurance. At the time of the fire a family was occupying the house but fortunately no one was injured.

Chief Deputy Here

J. B. Gentry, Chief Deputy Grand Master of the A. O. U. W., is in Lakeview again and will meet with the lodge to-night. Mr. Gentry states that the organization is in a most flourishing condition and that many unsolicited applications are coming in all over the State. This is due to the high class policy they are issuing, it being the only guaranteed policy issued by any fraternal organization. It carries the same values as any of the old line policies only about 25 per cent cheaper, with just as good a guarantee. Mr. Gentry wants to meet all the members tonight at the meeting.

Farewell Dance

A very nice farewell dance in honor of Miss Erma Sharp was given Thursday evening at the Civic Improvement Society's Hall. About fifteen couples were present for the occasion and it is needless to say that all enjoyed a very pleasant evening. Music was furnished by the Lakeview Mandolin Club and punch was served to the dancers. Miss Sharp, accompanied by her mother, Saturday morning left for Haley, Idaho, where they expect to reside permanently.
