PRIMARIES TO BE

Oregonian: If the special session f Congress now in session or the regwhich convenes next December, provides for a reapportionment of representation in the National House of Representatives, the voters of Oregon next year will be called upon to elect three Representatives, as well as a sucessor to United States Senator Bourne, the senior Senator from this state. Election of these Congressional officers will be in addition to the selection of other candidates for state. county, district and precinct offices.

Anticipating action by the National Congress, which would give to Oregon in the reapportionment another Representative at Washington, and to which this state is entitled by reason of its population, the last session of the State Legislature enacted a bill by Representative Mahoney, of Morrow and Umatilia, creating Multnomah County into a separate Congressional district, making three in this state. By a condition incorporated in the Mahoney measure, the additional district created thereunder is not to assume legal shape until Congress makes the reapportionment that is expected.

In addition to a United States Senator and at least two, if not three, Representatives in Congress, the electorate of Oregon will be called upon to choose 15 State Senators and 60 members for the House of Representatives according to the existing basis of representation. The election of these olons will be in accordance as the state is divided into Senatorial and Representative Districts, an attempt to change this basis of representation at the 1911 session of the Legislature of last year provided that if a tariff

UNDERWOOD BILL PASSED BY HOUSE

Washington, June 20, The House today passed the Underwood Wool ular session of National lawmakers, Tariff revision bill, 221 to 100, a number of insurgent Republicans voting with the Democrats.

Washington, June 20,-In a special message to the House of Representatives to day President Taft said the Tariff Board would not be ready to submit a comprehensive [report on woolen and cotton schedules of the tariff law until December next.

In this statement the Board said that statistics compiled by it from the latest available foreign and domestic sources covering the production, distribution and consummation of raw wool and woolen manufactures had already been transmitted on request to the ways and means committee of the House, and used by it. The Board declares it is conducting an inquiry which involves original research work that is world-wide in its scope.

"This incomplete information," the Board says, "necessarily is fragmentary in character, and transmitted to Congress would be not only of doubtful utility, but actually misleading. We shall develop the essential facts in relation to both the wool and cotton schedules in time for forwarding to Congress next December."

The President says in part:

"The Board of experts was first engaged in assisting the Executive in the discharge of his duties under the maximum and minimum clause of the Payne tariff bill. Its attention was then directed to accumulation of information for use in connection with the reciprocity agreement made with Canada.

"The sundry civil appropriation act commission or board was established it should report on the wool schedule commission bill was lost, but under like the one described in the bill as possible a nonpartisian board of five members and I directed them to make examination into schedule K, its meaning and cost of production of wool and
