

KANSAS "JUSHER" GETS IN HIS WORK

Says Lakeview Has 800 Population--50 Years Behind Times

The Examiner is in receipt of a letter written by H. H. Jones, of Lakeview, to the Haddam, Kansas, Clipper. Mr. Jones' letter is quite entertaining, inasmuch as it contains much that is new, although perhaps he was in a jocular mood when inditing his epistle. Among other things he says:

"The town has about 800 inhabitants, counting Indians and all. There are about one dozen real estate offices and I don't know how many saloons, as I never had time to count them, for it takes a man all the time to make a living. I put in about 70 acres of small grain; it came up and looked nice, but froze off till the first of June. Most of the grain is killed. Nearly all of the fruit except apples is killed."

The entire letter is of similar vein, and in a postscript Mr. Jones states that we are 50 years behind the world in this country.

With bumper grain crops that will yield many bushels to the acre, this section has nothing to fear from such letters as the above. Strawberries, raspberries, loganberries, dewberries and other small fruits have been abundant, while apricots and peaches in the Summer Lake district are very plentiful. Apples are always abundant and this year is no exception. Mr. Jones was no doubt joshing the people of William Allen White's state and did not mean to knock Lake county.

one of which will open the safe, and hence if one lock should fail to operate the safe could be opened by the other. The inside of the safe is about 12 inches deep and 28 inches in diameter, divided into two compartments, and each of these are also closed by doors equipped with combination locks.

The safe is to all intents and purposes burglar and fire proof, its class having withstood all tests. It is practically drill-proof also, while all joints are so neat fitting that it would be impossible for a burglar to insert any explosive which would blow the safe open. The safe occupies a prominent place in the bank and is greatly admired by all who see it.

PAISLEY PROJECT IN AIR

applicants. The land lies in the artesian water belt and entrymen could obtain water for irrigation purposes much cheaper by sinking wells than by any other method.

Salem, Ore., July 27.—In response to demands from settlers on the Paisley project in Lake county, the desert land board today cancelled the state's contract with the Portland Irrigation Company. The project will be advertised so all reclamation companies will have an opportunity to get the contract. This was one of the projects personally investigated by the state officials earlier in the month.

The contract between the state and the United States for the reclamation of 12,037 acres from the Chewaucan river, in northern Lake county, was executed September 11, 1907. The contract between the Paisley Irrigation company and the state was executed on February 25, 1907, providing for commencement of work within six months after the date of execution of the state's contract with the United States. Owing to the financial crisis, work was not commenced within this time. An extension of time was granted, and again, August, 1908, and again February 24, 1909, still other extensions of time, within which to begin work were granted. Since that time the company and the board have been unable to agree on any further extension.

People residing in the vicinity of the project protested against further extensions and requested the state to cancel the company's contract so that lands would be thrown open to entry.

This company's contract with the state provided for the construction of an 80 foot dam, which would flood 2380 acres in what is known as the Upper Chewaucan valley, and store 12,800 acre feet of the surplus water of this stream, the water to be released when needed and conveyed in a natural stream channel about 20 miles north and diverted upon the valley lands, which are located on the divide between Abert and Summer Lakes.

The contract with the Deschutes Land company, for which 31,023 acres has been selected under the Carey act, is under consideration now by the board.

New Summer Resort

Mrs. S. A. Ramer, of Davis Creek, has arranged her right of way matters with the railroad in regard to her property around Sugar Hill, recently bought from Lester and E. C. Bonner. In addition to a cash payment for the right of way, Mrs. Ramer is to have a side track and flag station and the summer resort about to be opened by her at the foot of the hill on the lake, is to be liberally advertised by the railroad.

This spot is far ahead of any place on Lake Tahoe, according to the opinion of those who have been in both places, and should prove to be one of the banner summer resorts in the State of California, when it is properly developed. The long stretch of level, beach is of pebbles, the water deep, and usually warm enough for bathing while the boating and fishing is superb.

Warning to Campers

Now that the grass in most places has dried up, and the weather has become exceedingly warm, the fire risk is necessarily greater. Campers and hunters should be careful to see that all fires are thoroughly extinguished before leaving. Another thing to be borne in mind is that camping grounds especially those in the neighborhood of streams, springs or other bodies of drinking water, should be thoroughly cleaned of refuse. It is a well known fact that carcasses of animals and other decaying foodstuffs pollute water very easily, with injurious results to the person drinking the water. Most people are particular on these points, but occasionally we run across one who is somewhat neglectful.

Davis Creek Items

Davis Creek will have a big picnic as well as railroad day on August 19th. There will be an excursion train from Reno, and everybody is invited to attend. There will be a big barbecue and basket dinner, with an open air dancing pavilion and other amusements. The different committees have been appointed and are all busy making preparations for a big time. The people of Davis Creek extend a cordial welcome to the people of Lakeview and New Pine Creek to join us and try to make it a day worth remembering. The people of Davis Creek will also do all they can to show their visitors that they appreciate their coming.

In Huckelberry City

Klamath Chronicle: The first to arrive at Huckelberry City, away up on Huckelberry mountain this year, was a Klamath Falls party consisting of Tom O'Connell and Lionel Robert son and Dan P. and Maurice O'Connell, sons of the former. On the way up they caught 37 trout the largest weighing 3 1-2 pounds. The berries will not be ripe in any quantity for several days but they intend to hunt, fish and prospect for gold and several more things not including work. They made two camps on the way up, one at Chilquin bridge and the other at Pole bridge—the latter two miles from Camp Arant. O'Connell's dog, Tatters, gave them the slip somewhere and the finder will be rewarded in bear meat or venison, fish or huckleberries if he will deliver the dog at Huckelberry City.

Cuts and bruises may be healed in about one-third the time required by the usual treatment by applying Chamberlain's Liniment. It is an antiseptic and causes such injuries to heal without maturation. This liniment also relieves soreness of the muscles. For sale by all good dealers.
