Lakeview, Oregon, Thursday, September 21, 1911

W. G. Fuller, of South Main Street has about completed his fine residence. The building of this home goes to show how some people in less favored localities can appreciate the many advantages of our climate here. Mr. Fuller lived for many years at Crookston, Minn. During the past winter he came here and spent a month or two during the coldest weather. When it was over he said that the climate had no fears for him and that he was going back to Minnesota and get his family and bring them here and make his home. Mr. Fuller is without doubt, a man of his word and the home that is a credit to his part of town is a result of his coming back early in the year. Lake County has so much to offer and can appreciate men of this class so much, that his value as an asset to the county cannot be estimated in dollars and cents, though some communities place value on every new man that comes to make his home there. It is estimated by the roads that every man alone their lines, increases the value of their road many thousands of dollars. In other words; the man that settles along their lines by living there, makes a certain amount of interest upon their capital stock. The same can be said of a settler in Lake county. He adds to the value of every piece of property. He buys of the merchant, butcher or grocer helps the lawyer sometimes, assists the doctor to keep from the poorhouse, attends the theatre, purchases farm products if he is a dweller in town or if he is a farmer adds to the productivity of the community. He is an asset to every man and woman in the county. The man or woman that is blind to this fact is blind to their own welfare. If every man in Lake county could grasp the fact there would be a demand for a thorough advertising campaign that would reach out to the people of the East and tell them the plain truths regarding this part of Oregon. The man that comes here adds to the value of your property whether he buys a farm, lot or takes a homestead.

Fine Watermelon

When it comes to raising watermelons of quality Goose Lake Valley will not have to take a back seat for any other section of the State. As to that fact the Examiner speaks advisedly, for a few days since Wm. Wallace presented it with the real home grown article. It was grown on the Vernon place south of town, and was not only of fine quality but of good size as well. The office force voted Mr. Wallace a prize, and only wish there were more like him.

STATE AID FOR HIGHWAYS

pointing a State Highway Commissioner. It provides that the Highway Commissioner shall be appointed for four years by the governor and must be a skilled road engineer. His office is to be in the State Capitol and he is to have all roads under his direct supervision that are built by the state aid.

The Highway Commissioner is to be required to compile statistics on the work within his jurisdiction, make a monthly report of the work of his department at each session of the Legislature. His salary is fixed at $5000 a year, payable monthly, and the bill provides for the appropriation out of the state treasury of $50,000, or such sum as may be necessary, for payment of salaries and needful expenses.

The second bill calls for the creation of "a fund to be known as the State Highway Fund," and makes provision for "an annual levy to produce revenues therefor, a distribution of license taxes and distribution and apportionment of the fund among the counties of the state for road construction."

Sixty-six and two-thirds per cent of the license taxes on vehicles, etc., is to be turned into the "highway fund" thus created is to be divided equally among the counties of the state. The remaining 25 per cent is to be apportioned among the counties according to their area.

The bill also requires that County Courts shall make a certificate to the highway commission of all work in construction, improvement and maintenance of roads under state aid.

The third bill, entitled an act "to provide for procedure for construction, maintenance, improvement and repair of public highways out of the State Highway Fund in this state and out of funds provided by the several counties therefor," was the one that provoked the sharpest argument in the afternoon.

Roads made under these provisions, according to the bill, "shall be known as State-aid roads." The cost of their construction is to be paid out of the state fund, and all road construction in the counties under the supervision of the state-aid bill, must be done subject to the supervision of the state commission.

The issue raised, of whether the maintenance of state-aid roads should be left to the state or the county, while of minor importance, provoked a brisk interchange of argument. L. R. Webster leading the supporter of county maintenance, and W. C. Bristol and J. H. Albert standing for state supervision.

The fourth bill is an act enabling the counties to avail themselves of the provisions of section 10 of article XI of the state constitution, as amended by the initiative petition at the last election. It permits counties to create and issue bonds for the prosecution of road work, at a special election called by the County Court upon petition of ten per cent of the voters of the county.

Resolutions of thanks were adopted in courtesy to the Commercial Club, which had placed its convention hall at the disposal of the Commission, and in courtesy of W. C. Bristol, who had given the use of his office and the services of his stenographers to the committee which drafted the bills. A resolution was also adopted commending the citizens of Jackson county for the activity they have shown in the past year in road improvement, by availing themselves of the clause in the constitution permitting counties to bond themselves to raise funds for road improvement and maintenance.

Additional Briefs

The new Forest Service telephone line, being built from Thomas Creek to the Chewaucan River, has been completed to a point nine miles out from the Thomas Creek Ranger Station.

H. B. Millard manager of the Warner Lake Irrigation project, Sunday morning left for Klamath Falls en route for Portland after having made a thorough examination of the Warner Valley country and adjacent lands which come under the project.

Frank Gunther, who has won considerable fame locally through his ability to handle all varieties of autos, Monday, returned from a several week's visit to San Francisco. Frank is quite enthusiastic about the big city, and may some day become one of its citizens.

Mrs. Neilson is now exhibiting in her store window a very fine picture of the former John Brites orchard lands at Davis Creek, of which she is the agent. These lands are now being sold in five and ten acre tracts, and Mrs. Neilson is having much success in the sale of them.

The camping party consisting of Guy and Lynn Cronemiller, Carl and Hugo Umbach, Walt Dutton and Willie Storkman, who had been spending a few days in the Chewaucan country, Saturday morning returned to town and report an excellent time during their absence.

Mr. and Mrs. Zim Baldwin, of Klamath Falls, spent several days in Lakeview during the past week. Mr. Baldwin installed a number of Peest-o-lite gas outfits on numerous autos about town, he having made arrangements to supply extra tanks at very moderate cost.

The Indians about town were all intensely interested in the preliminary hearing over the Indian who killed his wife in Warner Valley. A large number were on hand at the examination, which was conducted Tuesday and Wednesday by Justice Bailey at the Court House.

Jack Aneland and Dan Sullivan, both well known local sheeppmen, Monday, started for New York City, en route for Ireland. They will be gone for several months, during which time they expect to visit their home towns as well as other points of interest in the United Kingdom.

J. Frankl this week returned to his home at San Francisco, after having spent the summer in Lakeview in the interests of Koshland & Co. the well known wool dealers. Mr. Frankl always secures the largest part of the wool clip of this section for his house, and this season was no exception.

J. Charles Smith, the old, original looster whom everybody hereabouts has heard about, claims that he is now harvesting tons of watermelons, thousands of bushels of tomatoes, etc., on his property at the south end of town. If you want to know what the "Golden Goose Lake Valley" is capable of growing see Mr. Smith. He knows.
