WORLD'S HEAVIEST STEEL SWING SPAN

On the outskirts of the city of Sacramento, California, the Southern Pacific Company is erecting a steel bridge across the Sacramento river that contains the heaviest swing span of any bridge in the world. This span is 400 feet in length and its weight is 6,300,000 pounds. The entire bridge, however, will weigh more than 10,000,000 pounds when it has all been placed in position upon the heavy concrete piers.

There are only two steel bridges in the world that have swing spans that exceed the new Sacramento river bridge in length. One is across the Willamette river and is a part of the Spokane, Portland and Seattle railway system. Its weight, however, is only 5,400,000 pounds, 900,000 pounds less than that of the Sacramento river bridge. The Omaha Terminal Company operates a large steel bridge across the Missouri river that has a swing span 502 feet in length, but the steel is of much lighter construction, the weight being only 512,000,000 pounds.

The new Sacramento river bridge of the Southern Pacific is a part of the double tracking of the Harriman lines. It will contain not only two tracks for the trains but a concrete wagon and automobile road. The American bridge company, which is fabricating the steel work for the structure, have records of numerous heavy swing spans but none that can equal that of the new Southern Pacific Company bridge.

SILVA LOST LIFE IN ALTURAS FIRE

Alturas New Era: The unfortunate man who lost his life in the fire which destroyed the Riverside Hotel on the 4th inst., has an uncle in Milpeters, who is a large potato grower. Mr. Joe Silva, the deceased, was known to have over eighty watches in his room at the time of the fire, as he was an expert jeweler, and quite a trader of all kinds of watches. He also had upon his person at the time of his death some $1,200 which he had been saving. He recently showed this amount to a friend here in town, and stated that he was planning to soon visit his uncle in Milpeters. Every thing about him was destroyed, and a portion of his body was found where the back stairs were, as though he was making an effort to escape. This point was one of the hottest of the fire, and only a portion of his body was recovered, and partially identified by the remnants of a few watches.

Mr. Silva was raised in Chili and has traveled all over the world. He formerly did a large business in London by misfortune, and began to wander over the earth, and finally drifted into Alturas, where he has been off and on for over a year, endeavoring to recuperate his finances, and has been doing well. He had planned to make a visit to his uncle in the near future. Last year he had a narrow escape from being burned up in the Alturas Hotel when it was destroyed.

Now an Eastern Ministerial association favors a movement to extend the same observation of holidays from Fourth of July to Christmas. The appeal is to avoid extravagance in Christmas buying; to make the holiday remembrance more a matter of affection and of the real manifestation of that regard and respect which friends owe to each other, rather than an ostentatious display of false generosity. Give tokens of affection and friendship rather than expensive presents—that's the slogan of sanity in Christmas time. There is no denying the fact that foolishness characterizes a great deal of Christmas buying. People run in debt to buy expensive presents, and aside from that spend money with which they ought to pay their current bills. As a sequel to all this there is embarrassment and sometimes distress. That manner of Christmas celebration is pure foolishness and ought to be abandoned.

There is little danger from a cold or from an attack of the grip except when followed by pneumonia, and this never happens when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is used. This remedy has won its great reputation and extensive sale by its remarkable cures of colds and grip and can be relied upon with implicit confidence. For sale by all dealers.

Bankers of the state are taking a part in back-to-the-soil movement and at a recent meeting of officers and directors of the state association, a committee was named to devise ways and means to make country life more attractive. Literature will be issued and steps taken to educate the young to the attractions of farm life.

For coughing, dryness and tickling in the throat, hoarseness and all coughs and colds, take Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. Contains no opiates. For sale by A. L. Thornton.

ELECTION RESULTS PLEASING TO ALL

Elections last week in many states and cities throughout the country resulted in the election of Democratic governors in Massachusetts, Kentucky and Mississippi, a republican governor in Rhode Island, a republican assembly in New York, which will challenge the continuance of Governor Dix's policies, a New Jersey legislature with majorities not in accord with Governor Woodrow Wilson of that state, with results of the state elections in Maryland and New Mexico still in doubt.

In Massachusetts, Governor Foss, democrat, was elected by a reduced plurality of about 8,000 over Louis Frothingham, republican. The contest was unexpectedly close and early returns indicated Governor Foss' defeat. The republican candidate for Lieutenant Governor was elected by seven thousand majority and the other republican state candidates are elected. In Rhode Island, Governor Forthier, republican, is re-elected over Louis C. W. Waterman, democrat, by a greatly increased plurality. The state senate is solidly republican and the assembly large ly republican.

New York state furnished one of the chief surprises of the election, reverting to the present democratic majority of 24 in the state assembly and electing a republican majority of 50 upward. Four congressmen were elected to fill vacancies namely: W. D. Aimey, republican, in the fourteenth Pennsylvania district, Wm. J. Browning, republican in the first New Jersey district, and Daniel V. Stephens, democrat, of the third Nebraska district.

MINING FIELD LOOKS PROMISING

The prospects for some large operations in the mining fields of Lake and Modoc counties the coming year are very promising. Recently the Jumbo mines at Windy Hollow in the Covote Hills changed hands with some people at the head who have sufficient capital to develop the properties and prove that the faith of the men that have held on so long in that part of the country was not ill founded. In the Hoag District new men have invaded the field and promise development work that will make the former efforts of the men that have hung on there look very feeble in comparison. Those that have done so much for the districts mentioned are loyal to the new owners and say that they will make winners out of their new acquisitions. With mining and agriculture running a close race with the timber and stock interests of the county there is a fine outlook ahead for this part of Oregon that only the most blind cannot see.

Road Completed

Klamath Herald: D. E. Burrell, of Fort Rock, who has charge of the gang of road builders who have been improving the Klamath county highways under direction of the county court, reports that the county road is completed from Chiloquin to Silver Lake.

This highway runs on the east side of the marsh, and along it the following new bridges have been built: Solomon's Flat, 72 feet long; Wocus Bay, 16 feet long; Skellog, 16 feet long; across Williamson River at the upper end of the marsh, 67 feet. When Mr. Burrell settled in the Fort Rock region there were only seven other people at that place, and now there are a larger number, and this season 5,000 bushels of grain have been threshed, despite the still primitive conditions and the large amount of unbroken land.

A La Bige Archie

Anderson Faithful, a Klamath Indian, was arrested last week on a charge of murdering his wife and taken to Portland for trial.

Mr. Faithful's wife was found on the morning of October 25th in their cabin on Whiskey Creek. A blunt weapon, such as a club, had apparently been used, according to the inspection made by Dr. W. S. Johnson, of Bonanza. The head, back, shoulders and breast had been badly beaten. Faithful had been imbibing the night before, which strengthens suspicion of him. He denies any knowledge of the crime, although he elent in the same room with his wife.

A Good Position

Can be had by ambitious young men and ladies in the field of "Wireless" or railway telegraphy. Since the 8-hour law became effective, and since the wireless companies are establishing stations throughout the country there is a great shortage of telegraphers. Positions pay beginners from $70 to $90 per month, with good chance of advancement. The National Telegraph Institution of Portland, Ore., operates under supervision of R. K. and wireless officials and places all graduates into positions. It will pay you to write them for full details.
