Mr. and Mrs. Joe Arzner were made happy last Thursday morning early by the arrival of a bouncing baby girl. Congratulations are certainly in order as this is the first girl to be born in the family of six children.
W. K. McCormack, the well known Summer Lake rancher and stockman was in town during the past week. He was pleased over the recent advance in the mutton market and believes the wool market will follow suit shortly.
From Jerome ranch on West side of Goose Lake sorrel filly 17 months old, large of size, star in forehead, not branded unless recently. Stockdealers take notice. Reward for her whereabouts. H. I. Jerome, Lakeview, Ore.
Mr. and Mrs. Alva Lewis, of Klamath Falls, Friday, arrived in town and are now spending a few days here as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Brown. Mr. Lewis is Deputy U. S. Game Warden for Oregon and California.
L. C. Vineyard, who has been engaged in blacksmithing for a number of years past and whose shop was destroyed by fire last month, has decided to try his luck in Old Mexico and this week left for the land of many revolutions.

Mart Hookins, he of agricultural fame, has forsaken the ranch and returned to the city. Farm life was too much for him, and as a consequence he leased his ranch to Brown Miller, who arrived a few months ago from Colorado.
Ed Patch, the real estate dealer, Tuesday, made a trip by auto to Davis Creek, and from that point went by rail to Alturas to attend to some business matters. He had several passengers with him on the trip south to Davis Creek.
W. O. Harmon, an employee of the U. S. Geological Survey, last week, arrived in town and expects to be stationed in this part of the country for sometime. Tuesday he made a trip to Davis Creek to look after some work at that point.
F. H. Fawcett, who has been acting as Deputy U. S. Game Warden in this county for sometime past, Saturday, left for The Narrows, Oregon, where he will be stationed from now on. He will have charge of the greater part of Malheur county.
The J. W. Flood Show Company returned last week to Alturas, and will remain there during the winter. In a short time they expect to open a moving picture show at the Opera House, and promise to give the people some good entertainments.
The weather during the past week has been ideal, the sun shining brightly during the day with crisp mornings and evenings. There has been no precipitation whatever, and it begins to look as if Sol Rehert's prediction of a dry winter would be correct.
Geo. Ede is sinking another artesian well for A. H. Hammersley on his ranch northwest of town. He is down about 150 feet and expects to soon strike flow. The well is being sunk on the high land and the water will cover practically all of the ranch.
Mr. and Mrs. Eoh Miller are now residents of Paisley, having removed there the first of the week. Mr. Miller has accepted the management of the Chewaucan Mercantile Co., and will probably remain permanently at the Central Lake County metropolis.
Sol Rehert, with his helpers Bill Pitts and Arthur Holmes, have just completed an extension to the water main in front of the Arzner and Mayfield residences in the Drenkel addition. N. Corv's residence is also supplied with water from this extension.
Several local people went down to Pine Creek to attend the opening dance last Tuesday night at Wendt's new Opera House, and all report an excellent time there. Mr. Wendt is certainly a hustler as will be evidenced by the very quick erection of the dance hall after the recent fire.
Haves & Grob of the Lakeview Meat Market have been re-modeling their sales room during the past week in the endeavor to get more room for the display of meats. They recently purchased over 100 head of fat hogs in Surprise Valley which they are now putting on the block.
R. E. Benedict, a National Forest inspector with headquarters in Portland, Sunday, arrived in town from Paisley to look over conditions in this part of the country. Mr. Benedict was pleased with what he saw of the country in passing through. He left Tuesday for Davis Creek.
Elder A. F. Simmons, now of Lake City, will take charge of the Baptist Church work in this city beginning with the first of the year. Mr. Simmons several years ago was in charge of the work here, and the fact that he is to return shows that his services were highly appreciated.
Charles Mahan and John Braemer, who recently purchased the Fred Snyder property in Warner Canyon, were busy repairing the houses on the place during the forepart of the week, preparatory to moving their families to the claim for the winter. They will be engaged in the wood cutting business.
Hunting licenses are still being issued at the County Clerk's office although the season is practically closed. Up to yesterday there had been issued during the present year 598 hunters' licenses and 359 for anglers, of which but three licenses for hunters and one for fishermen were issued to non-residents.
Walter G. Rea, of the Auten & Rinehart Company, is the happiest man in town just now. Walt has a good reason, too, for he is receiving congratulations on the arrival of a ten pound boy, born last Saturday afternoon. Mother and child are getting along nicely and the Examiner extends its best wishes.
Wm. Vore and E. L. Heine, of Richmond, Cal., are in Lakeview on business. They are connected with D. W. McLaughlin Co., who are promoting East Richmond Heights. Both gentlemen are highly recommended, both for efficiency and reliability, and will no doubt be found perfectly trustworthy in all their dealings.
Walter Howard, the Drews Valley stockman, was in town the forepart of the week on a business visit. Mr. Howard, as well as other cattlemen in the Drews Valley section, are now preparing to dip their cattle in accordance with State regulations. A large tank for the purpose has already been constructed in that vicinity.
J. D. Venator, A. H. Hammersley and C. W. Combes, all enthusiastic local sportsmen, Saturday, returned after a several days hunting trip in and about the Warner lakes. They made the round trip by auto, and reported considerable luck in the number of birds killed. In one-half day shooting each one managed to bag the limit.

A party of Elks and Elks-to-be this morning left for Klamath Falls to be in attendance at the meeting of the lodge this evening and also to attend memorial services next Sunday. Included in the party were W. Lair Thompson, J. N. Watson, W. H. Shirk, W. P. Hervford, J. C. Dodson, F. P. Light, V. L. Snelling, C. H. McKendree and F. P. Cronemiller.
Mr. and Mrs. Harry Goff passed through town Sunday en route for Valley Falls. Mr. Goff will be remembered as a former homesteader of the Chewaucan country, who returned east after proving up on his homestead. When last heard from there he was married and engaged in the grocery business with his father. Mr. and Mrs. Goff expect to remain in this vicinity for sometime.
Valley Falls Items
Lakeview visitors the past week were G. H. Heckman, C. S. Stone, Elliott, Fox and Frank Brinkman.
Ray Curtis Saturday went to Pine Creek where he has the contract to wire some new buildings in course of construction there.
Trappers in the valley are having fair luck and the mice are prime. They complain that the covotes are getting cute, as is usual this time of year.
Mr. McDonald, of McDonald & Edler, of Paisley, who have some 500 head of cattle in the old 70 ranch, was a visitor the fore part of the week.
Tom Mulkey has his cattle in the north field of the old 70 ranch.
Sheep belonging to the following parties passed through here in the past 10 days: Simon Juanto, Dave Eder, Dan Jones, Murphy, Wilson Bros., Meyers, Chandler, and Sanders.
Wm. Roush has purchased about 500 head of Angora goats, which he will take to the Desert to winter.
McDonald and Malone were visitors going South Sunday and Bartline, who is also of the Wagontire region, stopped going North.
Mr. Harry Goff, our old time neighbor who went to Nebraska a year ago to straighten his affairs preparatory to moving out here and incidentally to get married, is expected to return in a day or so. Mr. Goff is bringing with him some 400 thoroughbred chickens, geese and ducks.
A. Carlson and A. G. Preston, eastern parties who own land in this valley, were visitors the past week. They seemed highly pleased with this valley.
H. A. Utiev, who has been delivering fruit trees in the Paisley and Summer Lake region has returned.
Range on the desert is reported fine. The only drawback at present is the late rains and therefore the scarcity of water. Most of the sheep are ranging in the Six Juniper region.
