Murderer Captured

The murder of George Dufurrena which was chronicled in the Examiner two weeks ago, has been solved by the capture of Martin Aznarren the herder in the employ of the murdered man and his brother, by Sheriff Elzie Smith, of Modoc County, at the Cooley ranch six miles south of Alturas last week. The man has confessed his crime and there will be no trouble in securing a conviction. He states that he and the dead man had had a quarrel and that he shot in self defense though the position of the body and the wound showed that the man had evidently been shot in the back. The weapon that caused the death of the sheep man was a .25-35 Winchester and bears the marks "DGE" "PV" and "AD" on the barrel with some other old marks that are undecipherable owing to wear. The crime was committed near Denio, Ore., and is one of the most atrocious crimes that has ever been committed in that part of the state. The sheriff from that part of the country is on his way to Alturas for the prisoner for whom a reward of $500 had been offered. Sheriff Smith is on the job when it comes to being on the lookout for wanted men.

New Truck Line

R. M. Boller, who has been engaged in the truck and transfer business for several years past at Klamath Falls, has decided to cast his lot with Lakeview, and is now on his way here with three trucks and two buses, together with several teams. He has a complete equipment for moving pianos, safes and other heavy pieces in addition to his trucks and buses.

A short time since he closed a deal for the property just south of Farnum Harris' residence property, including the McElhenny barn, and he expects to reach here in a few days, and be ready for business. Mr. Boller has had much experience in his line of business and has an enviable reputation for promptness and square dealing.

Mayfield Boone, who was reported sometime ago to be very ill with inflammatory rheumatism at his New Pine Creek home, is now feeling considerably better and is up and around now.

Tardy Justice

This matter of chasing thieves and murderers for whom a large reward has been offered is not all joy according to Sheriff A. E. Smith, of Modoc County. It will be remembered that he is one of the officers that took part in the chase and hunt with the Little High Rock Canyon Indian Murderers that killed the Surprise Valley stockmen last winter in which one of the members of his posse was killed. At that time rewards aggregating $9,140.50 were offered for the capture of the murderers and strange to say at this time only $3,143.50 of the amount has been paid. The rewards offered by the citizens of Surprise Valley have been turned over to the men that earned them at the risk of their lives and after enduring hardships in the worst weather that the mountain country through which they trailed the men has ever seen, but the $5,000 offered by Nevada and the $1,000 offered by California have never been paid and the outlook precludes this matter being attended to properly in the near future. When men go out and work as hard as the men did that fought the Indians and killed the most of them, it seems as though their work should be better appreciated. The six thousand dollars that is due is needed in many instances by the men that earned it and there should be no hesitancy on the part of the state officials that offered at the time, to seeing that every cent is promptly paid.

County Controls

By referring to Lord's Oregon laws the County Commissioners yesterday discovered that there is a state law giving telephone and telegraph companies the right to place poles and string wires along county roads subject to the control of the County Courts. Streets and roads within the limits of incorporated towns are not included within the meaning of the law.

The discovery was made in the search for material with which to force the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Company into line with the Commissioners' demand that the county be supplied with telephone free of charge in return for the use of county roads. The city gets the majority of its telephones, including those in the fire stations, and between the fire stations, for nothing in exchange for franchise privileges.

The prize fruit cake offered by August Doring, the baker, to the person guessing nearest to the weight was won Thanksgiving day by Miss Nellie Duke. Second and third prizes were awarded to Mrs. D. F. Brennan and Kenneth Metzker. The cake weighed four pounds and two ounces.

Some Corral This

The largest cattle corral in Klamath County has been built this Fall on the Indian reservation on the David Connerfield ranch. David Connerfield is an Indian, and the corral probably will become his although built by Luke Walker, a white man, who has put in scales for weighing cattle, with the understanding that when he takes the scales away the big corral will remain. The Connerfield ranch is on the Whiskey Creek, five miles from Yanix, in the Klamath reservation. The ranch lies just at the foot of Black Butte, about three miles from the mouth of the Swan river. Mr. Walker has taken out a permit for five years' trading on the reservation for which it is said he paid $250, and is buying cattle from the Indians, butchering some of them and selling beef back again to them, and selling the remainder of the cattle to buyers who do not have permits to trade with the Indians. Walker is 22 years old.

Teachers Examination

The regular examination of applicants for teacher's certificates will be held on December 20, 21 and 22, 1911, at Lakeview, and Silver Lake, Lake County, Oregon.

The program indicating the subjects for the different days has not yet been received.

The examination will occur at the two places simultaneously and applicants may elect where they will take the examination.

For convenience of the teachers in the extreme northern part of the county, Silver Lake has been selected.

All applicants will please take notice and govern themselves accordingly.
J. Q. WILLIAMS,
County Superintendent.

New Fish Store

The fish store started last week in the Wallace Candy store by Manley Whorton and Byron Graves, both of whom are well known to our readers, proved to be very much of a success from the very beginning. A consignment of fresh fish and lobsters was received from Sacramento on Wednesday night, and practically everything had been sold by Saturday. Another consignment was received Tuesday night—and if you wish to enjoy some excellent eating—hurry yourself quickly to the stand mentioned before everything has again been disposed of.

A Huge Success

The pastor and members of the Methodist church are certainly to be congratulated on the success of the dinner and Bazaar held by them in the Masonic Hall on Thursday last, Thanksgiving day. A great many people were fed during the noon hours, and so much was eaten that no food was left for the supper table. It is estimated that about $100 was cleared from this source. The bazaar was a particularly interesting feature of the affair, especially to the children who enjoyed themselves thoroughly in the hall above the dining room. A great many articles were sold during the afternoon and evening, and it is thought that about $100 additional was cleared from this source.

C. H. Robinson, of the 77 ranch, was in town Tuesday. He reports everything going along smoothly in the Warner country.

FRUIT GROWERS GET SOME POINTERS

Pertinent Truths Aptly Told By Experienced Orchardist

The desirability of cutting back fruit trees severely or moderately is governed by the varieties of the trees and the character of the soil, its fertility, etc., but it is now more important than formerly that the heads of the trees should be kept comparatively low, in order to be able to spray every portion of the tops thoroughly.

It is now out of the question to expect to succeed with orchard fruits, unless spraying is done just as systematically and regularly as the fertilizing, and cultivating has to be done in order to succeed.

In shortening and pruning the growth, it is essential the pruning be done every year, and not wait to do too severe cutting back later. The first year the pruning should only be sufficient to make the trees symmetrical. If the trees are making too long a growth, the ends of the shoots should be pinched off to check them, and this summer pinching of unsymmetrical branches should be done in later years. If one studies the growth carefully, they can determine just where the branches will grow from the direction they start from the base. The second year the surplus branches should be cut out, and the foundation branches pruned back from one fourth to one half, according to the variety, in order to make a strong foundation base for the top that must be developed later. In pruning, avoid the formation of crochets, as they are sure to cause trouble later by splitting when loaded with fruit. The third year the trees should be pruned about as for the second year. At this age do not remove the short, stubby branches that form on the older wood, which are known as fruit spurs. When the tree is four years old, and about to produce a small quantity of fruit, keep the top just sufficiently open to allow the sun and air to get in without making an open or bare appearance.

The fourth and following years, and until trees begin to bear, foundation branches should be cut back annually sufficient to make them strong and heavy enough to bear the loads that will be put upon them later. After fruiting, not much pruning is necessary, except to thin out surplus growth and keep the trees symmetrical in shape. In pruning, prune from the top down, and not from the bottom up.

In cutting or sawing a limb from the trunk, or a small limb from a large one, the cut should be made close up to the trunk so as to leave no stub. The large wounds should be covered with a good, heavy bodied lead paint made of linseed oil and white lead.
DICK KINGSLEY.

Real Big Men

Alturas people are trying to find out who is the tallest man in Modoc County, which is famous for many big men. Peter Weber, an American born resident of the county, of Swiss parentage is at the head of the list with six feet, four and three quarter inches marked up against him. There are a number of others that are said to excel this figure though they have not registered as yet.

Pleasant Time

On Saturday Dec. 2, Mrs. Anna McGrath, Mrs. F. A. Fitzpatrick and Miss Pearl Hall entertained a large number of friends at the home of the former on Center street. The living rooms were tastefully decorated with holly, chrysanthemums and carnations; these having been sent for the occasion by friends and relatives living in California. Eight tables of "500" were played and dainty refreshments were served. Those present were; Mesdames Harvey, McCurdy, Bemis, Ahlstrom, Chandler, Lane, Thornton, Harry Bailey, Beall, McKendree, Clark, Umbach, Watson, Grob, Kuhl, Cobb, Brattain, Noris, Moss, Snelline, Cronmiller, Farrel, Batchelder, Cory, O'Neil, Shirr, Thompson, Wm. Hervford, Sr., Wm. Hervford, Jr., Willita, Smith, Swift, Florence, Stone, Cressler, Dewey, Storkman, Whorton and Miss Josephine Beach.

C. E. McCleary, the Pine Creek business man, was in town last week attending to some business. "Mac" reports that everything is progressing nicely down the Pine Creek way.
