

OREGON ENTITLED TO 10 DELEGATES

Salem, Dec. 11.—Oregon is entitled to send ten delegates to the national convention, according to a communication received by Secretary of State Oleott from William Hayward, acting secretary of the Republican national central committee.

At the last election this state had eight, but since then Multnomah has been made a congressional district, giving the state two more. In his communication Mr. Hayward, after quoting the law, says there is no provision for alternative delegates. He says: "Said national convention shall consist of four delegates-at-large from each state, two delegates for each representative-at-large in the congress, two delegates from each congressional district and from each of the territories of Arizona, New Mexico and Hawaii, two delegates from the District of Columbia and two delegates each from Alaska, Porto Rico and the Philippine Islands. For each delegate elected to this convention an alternate delegate shall be chosen to serve in case of the absence of his principal."

According to the statute under paragraph "d," there is no provision made for alternatives who would be called to serve in the absence of their principals. The election of delegates makes no provision for the election of an alternative, and there is some doubt as to how this question will work out.

About Growing Dates

Where the hot winds of the Sahara meet the verdure of the oasis the Arab pitches his tent under the palm trees by a limpid fountain and laying down on his prayer rug he turns his face to the East and thanks Allah for bringing him to pleasant places where he and his camels may rest.

Did you know that the date palm which gives the Arab bread and meat and sweetmeats, which furnishes him literally with the staff of life, are grown in Southern California and that they will be shown at the San Diego Exposition bearing great clusters of ripening fruit?

For ten years the United States Department of Agriculture has been experimenting with dates in Arizona and Southern California. It has had brought from Egypt, Arabia, from the Sudan, and from everywhere that the date grows, the finest kinds of date palms to be found in those countries, and its scientists have patiently cultivated these date palms and have experimented in the ways to produce the best fruit. Last year one date palm in the Coachella Valley yielded 100 pounds of dates which sold in Los Angeles at 80 cents per pound. Fifty date palms are set to the acre, so that there is promise of good profit in raising dates. The American Date Company expects to have an acre of date palms in bearing at the Exposition in 1915, although the climate of San Diego is not so hot as the date best loves.

Every family has need of a good, reliable liniment. For sprains, bruises, soreness of the muscles, and rheumatic pains there is none better than Chamberlain's. Sold by all dealers.

BE CAREFUL WHO MARRIES YOU

Were you married in Oregon by a minister who lives in some other state? If you were it is up to you to hustle right down to the county clerk's office and secure a new marriage permit; hunt up a local minister and have the knot tied over.

Ministers of the gospel from other states cannot perform marriage ceremonies in Oregon, according to an opinion written by Attorney General Crawford. The law requiring all ministers to file statements of their authority to solemnize marriage contract, provides that they shall be ministers or priests of churches or congregations within this state. So Ministers from Nevada, Washington, or any other state cannot cross the state line and perform marriage ceremonies in Oregon, nor can they secure the right to do so by any means. This opinion was written in answer to an inquiry from Robert C. Lee of Huntington, near the Idaho boundary line in eastern Oregon.

"I had been troubled with constipation for two years and tried all of the best physicians in Bristol, Tenn., and they could do nothing for me," writes Thos. E. Williams, Middleboro, Ky. "Two packages of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets cured me." For sale by all dealers.

Kelly, an ex-engineer, says: "Three years ago my kidneys became so bad that I was compelled to give up my engine and quit. I cannot say too much in their praise." For sale by A. L. Thornton.

SENATOR BOURNE HAS A BILL FOR PARCELS POST

Washington, Dec. 5.—With the end in view of supplying a basis for the work of the Committee on Post Offices and Post roads, Senator Jonathan Bourne soon will introduce a bill providing for a parcels post system.

The measure will authorize an increase to eleven pounds in the size of fourth class mail packages from the present maximum of four pounds and at the same time provide for a diminution of charges from the present rate of one cent an ounce.

Pound packages will be carried for ten cents, with an additional charge of four cents for each additional pound. For the smallest package provided for, weighing 8 ounces, there will be a charge of 6 cents. In cases in which the package does not go beyond the rural route on which it originates, the charge will be reduced one half.

WINGFIELD BUYS JARBRIDGE MINE

Reno Gazette: It is stated on good authority that at a conference held Wednesday afternoon at Ogdon between Ed. Bannan, one of the owners of the Bluster property of the Jarbridge district and George Wingfield, president of the Goldfield Consolidated company, a deal was consummated by which Mr. Wingfield secures the control of this property on the basis of $750,000 for the whole. The deal, therefore involves practically $500,000, says the Salt Lake Tribune.

Mr. Wingfield is operating the Success property at Jarbridge, which adjoins the Bluster, and the latest reports have it that he has drifted to within twenty feet of the Bluster lines on excellent gold ore, demonstrating that the Success resources are extend into the Bluster, making the latter well worth the price stipulated.

This is one of the largest deals in the history of Jarbridge, and it is without question the most important, as Mr. Wingfield undoubtedly has a great respect for the camp since beginning his Success property operations. The deal promises to attract public attention as nothing else could, and the property owners there should find capital more willing from now on to venture in that field.

All who are familiar with Jarbridge and who have given Mr. Wingfield's operations there careful study, believe that he is working along the lines of a big consolidation, and they are certain a merger will be effected of a number of Jarbridge companies within the next few months. Conditions at the camp are at their best so far, and everything points to this being one of the most active as well as attractive spots in Nevada gold mining during 1912.

Will power and won't power are much alike.

Better one foot in the grave than two.

Pleasure often turns out to be a stepping stone to misery.

It is an easy matter to economize when you don't have to.

And the man who shaves himself is apt to cut his best friend.

If a man is too slow to catch cold it can at least overtake him.

Some men imagine they can get what they want only by fighting for it.

All men desire riches—and a few are even particular how they get them.

Horses that furnish the motive power for brewery wagons are driven to drink.

Only a man who is very rich can afford to say all the things he would like to say.

Many a man generates a dislike for all ministers soon after having been married by one.

Spinsters are probably unhappier than married women are, because they have less to worry about.

If there is anyone we would like to impose upon, it is the chap who is forever trying to get something for nothing.

If a man thinks he knows it all we can't help feeling sorry for the misguided individual who undertakes to convince him that he doesn't.

CHINA FINDS HER DELIVERER

For centuries China has been found in political slavery. So oppressed and debilitated were the masses that it seemed as if they could never arise to claim their birthright of freedom. But China has awakened. In a patriotic and cultured subject, Dr. Yat Sen, she found a deliverer from the rule of the Manchus, and the people have thrown off the folds of the Imperial dragon which had almost destroyed them.

From London has come private advice that Dr. Sun, a scholar and diplomat well known in London has come private advice that Dr. Sun, a scholar and diplomat well known in London, New York and Paris, is to become president of the first provisional government now being established at Shanghai, the capital of the Republic of China, and that by the first of the year the new government will be fully established. The old China has all but passed away, and in its place has come a new republic with a constitution promising liberty, justice, self government and brotherly love. The change is almost too great to credit. Dr. Sun promised that all foreign rights shall be fully respected, and foreign enterprises will be encouraged. He appeals to the Powers to permit the solid establishment of the new government, declaring that the Chinese will never submit to the retaining of power by the Manchus.

Fattening Porkers

The value of shorts and middlings as a supplement to ground wheat in feeding pigs for fattening is the subject of an experiment now being conducted by Prof. E. L. Potter of the animal husbandry department of the Oregon Agricultural College.

Eastern Oregon is becoming greatly interested in hog raising, and as shorts and middlings are the most available supplementary feed for the wheat growers, the experiment will be of special value to that part of the state. Other tests made by the college prove wheat alone is not the best feed for fattening purposes, and thus if some good supplement easily secured by eastern Oregon farmers is found it will do much to further the swine industry of that part of the state.

The comparative value of scrubs and well bred pigs for fattening purposes is to be determined in another test of the experiment farm for which a herd of 30 pigs has been set aside.

Since February daily records of all the feed given the swine and monthly records of their individual weights have been kept, and this is a regular part of the experiment farm work, for the purpose of gaining in time accurate knowledge of the total cost of production. Reliable results are not expected until data for some years can be compiled and coordinated. Ear tags with numbers are to be put on all of the pigs to make identification easier. The cost of fattening is already fairly well known, but the cost of breeding and raising them to the weaning point is as yet a matter largely of speculation. The new farm bought last summer makes it possible to raise swine under actual farm conditions.

OREGON GOVERNOR SCORED BY HILL

St. Cloud, Minn., Dec. 8.—Governors who are talking politics and not exploiting the natural resources of their country on the governor's special were taken to task today at the meeting of the Northern Minnesota Development association by Louis W. Hill, president of the Great Northern Railway.

He declared that some of them were talking politics in the east, where their brand of politics is of no interest and that the Great Northern road has been receiving inquiry about the natural resources of their states.

Mr. Hill created a mild sensation by this charge. He directed his remarks especially to Governor Oswald West of Oregon.

"The governor of Oregon is frittering away his time telling the east what he knows about woman's suffrage and airing his personal views on other public questions," he said. "What does the east care for that? He is forgetting his state. That fellow is over looking a big bet. He is exploiting himself rather than his state."

When your feet are wet and cold, and your body chilled through and through from exposure, take a big dose of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, bathe your feet in hot water before going to bed, and you are almost certain to ward off a severe cold. For sale by all dealers.
