Lakeview, Oregon, Thursday, January 25, 1912

It now looks as if the Republican leaders of Oregon would get together at least on State and District candidates. Statement No. 1, the initiative and referendum and similar questions are now conceded to be fixed principles and there is no inclination on the part of any one to either oppose or in any way attempt to violate the provisions of those facts. Such being the case there is no reason why every successful candidate at the primaries should not be supported by the voters of his political faith.

A permanent state organization that will have considerable influence on Oregon affairs is promised through the formation of the Oregon Irrigation Congress, which has been called for February 19, 20 and 21, in the convention hall of the Portland Commercial Club. All interested in irrigation are urged to attend and suggestions will be welcomed. The purpose of the congress is to have an effective organization to deal with irrigation questions and to secure the rights Oregon feels itself entitled to from the Federal Government.

Indications are that there will be a big attendance from all parts of the state. Government officials and irrigation experts from all parts of the state will be invited and the proposed organization promises to make itself very useful to Oregon in the work of future development.

If Lake county is to receive any benefit from the reduced excursion rates from the East it will be absolutely necessary to issue literature of some sort. The question is now being considered by the Commercial Clubs of the county and a decision will probably be reached shortly. The rates will become effective March 1, thus allowing but one month in which to get them out. As is usual in such cases, almost every individual has his own ideas as to how the literature should be prepared. The cost is the principal item considered, and in connection therewith it should be understood that there is as much difference in the cost of printing as there is in a suit of clothes. The latter can be purchased at from $5 to $75 and yet be full value for the amount expended. And the same is true of printing. Every one knows that it is high class work that produces results, and if Lake county does anything it should at least be equal to her deserts.

It is far the best for people to be optimistic, to look on the bright side of things. One loves to see the sunshine, the flowers, and to view the trees when they are budding into leaf; the green grass; to hear the birds sing; to see life at its best. And still the dark side of the picture has its compensations. If lowering clouds hang like a pall over the sky, and the rain comes down in pelting showers, one can enjoy sitting indoors and watch the raindrops fall upon the parched earth, or even in winter time, when the snow covers the ground; for it means a revival of those forces in nature which make possible the growth and maturity of a crop during the coming year. The shadow of the cloud helps one to appreciate the sunlight when it comes—just as the darkness of the night comes as a relief from the glaring sunshine of the day, and the dull hues and cold of winter fittingly offsets the glow and heat of summer. If there were nothing bitter in nature could one fully enjoy the sweets of nature? Is it not a beneficence in providence which presents these contrasts? Thus it is that life in all its phases is made up of contrasts: of light and shadow; of sweet and bitter; of joy and sorrow; of defeat and victory; of labor and rest; of sad things and good things.

Additional Briefs

Joe Lane, one of the proprietors of the Palace bar on Tuesday evening received a telegram from Portland conveying the sad intelligence of the decease of his mother, Mrs. Elenor Lane, of that city, who died Tuesday. She was about 78 years of age, and had not been in good health for some time. Mr. Lane regrets his inability to be present at the funeral.

Messrs. T. E. Henderson of Cozwell Creek, and B. T. Harriman, of Long Valley, Nevada, were in town Monday, and took the stage Tuesday morning for Seattle, whither they go to meet and return here with their wives, who are sisters, and who have been making a winter's visit with relatives in British Columbia. The party expects to return to Lake county about March 1st.

Mrs. T. H. Cloud yesterday entertained the Ladies' Aid society, serving dainty refreshments. Among those present were: Mesdames Eph Miller, Moran, Linville, Thos. Bernard, Peacock, Wm. Bernard, Leonard, Russell, Wood, Warren, Castelle, Woodcock, Alger, Low, Cronemiller, Dyer, Patch, Hahn, Dykeman, Chandler, Moss, Barnes, Amick, Gibbins, Cloud, and Harris. The aid will meet in two weeks with Mrs. M. S. Barnes.

Mated.

Any one with half an eye could see that he was madly in love with her, but he had not courage enough to put his fate to the test. But she was a young lady who knew her way about, as the saying goes, and one night she suggested a game of chess. He, poor fellow, eagerly swallowed the bait. If he was a novice at lovenaking he was certainly no novice at chess, and he soon had the fair maid hopelessly beaten.

"Ah!" he exclaimed as he put her in a hopeless corner. "You're in a tight corner now, Miss Mabel."

She looked at him with those beautiful eyes of hers and then said:

"I hadn't noticed any compression, George. Have I no escape?"

"None whatever," said the guileless George. "I shall mate you next move."

"Oh, George!" said she, with a becoming blush. "Er—hadn't you better ask father first?"

They are married now, and George often wonders if she is as dense at chess as she would make him believe.

Lincoln With His Children.

It was a frequent custom of Lincoln, this of carrying his children on his shoulder. He rarely went down street that he did not have one of his younger-boys mounted on his shoulder, while another hung to the tail of his long coat. The antics of the boys with their father and the species of tyranny they exercised over him are still subjects of talk in Springfield. Mr. Roland Diller, who was a neighbor of Mr. Lincoln, told one of the best of the stories. He was called to the door one day by hearing a great noise of children crying, and there was Mr. Lincoln striding by with the boys, both of whom were wailing aloud. "Why, Mr. Lincoln, what's the matter with the boys?" he asked.

"Just what's the matter with the whole world," Lincoln replied. "I've got three walnuts and each wants two."—From Tarbell's "Life of Lincoln."

Paying For Extras.

In one of the luxurious golf club houses in the south of England a visitor approached the steward and asked for a luncheon ticket.

"Five shillings," said the official.

"That's rather a lot, isn't it?" inquired the visitor.

"A lot? Think of the cost of this club. See those pictures? They're worth thousands of pounds. And those tapestries? Their value is simply enormous."

On the following day the visitor again asked for a luncheon ticket and tendered half a crown.

"I've already told you, sir," said the steward, "that the charge is five shillings."

"Yes, I know," was the reply, "but I only want half a crown's worth today. I saw the pictures and the tapestries yesterday."—World of Golf.

Dynamite.

The action of dynamite is comparatively precise. The firing point is 180 degrees C. At that temperature it either burns or explodes. If free from all pressure, jar, vibration or force of any kind it merely burns. That is how it comes about that one can burn dynamite safely in the hand if all conditions be wholly favorable. But any least vibration from such requisites will cause an explosion, which is an excellent reason for avoiding too intimate ventures with the compound. When ignited in small quantities in the open air dynamite does nothing more startling than to burn fiercely. When, however, larger quantities are ignited explosion almost invariably results, as the temperature is raised by the flames.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Old Time Carving.

An ancient book on carving says that the only meats that were "carved" were mutton and beef. You had to "break a deer, rear a goose, lift a swan, sauce a capon, spool a hen, crush a chicken, embrace a mallard, unlance a cony, dismount a heron, display a crane, disfigure a peacock, unjoint a bittern, untack a curlew, or a pheasant, wing a partridge or a quail, mince a plover, thigh a pigeon or any other small bird and border a game pie."

TO OUR ADVERTISERS BOTH PRESENT AND PROSPECTIVE

We want you to know a few things about the LAKE COUNTY EXAMINER—a few things that should be of vital interest to you who are spending your money for advertising:

The EXAMINER has a much greater circulation than any other paper published in Lake County, and by reason of such fact has been designated by the County Court as the Official Newspaper for Lake County during 1912.

The EXAMINER goes into more homes in Lake County than all the other papers of the county combined. And not only that, but its circulation throughout the county, as well as its general circulation, is at least three times that of any other paper published in the County.

These are strong statements, but the EXAMINER is prepared to back them up not only in a written contract, but welcomes the examination of its subscription list, paper bills, postoffice receipts, or any other reasonable manner any advertiser or prospective advertiser may desire.

Paisley Pick-ups (Chewaucan Press)

There is a move on foot to incorporate the town of Silver Lake, and a petition will be circulated for presentation at the next session of the county court.

I. N. Hale, the artesian man of Summer Lake, was in town on business Saturday. He says he is getting lots of water now, in fact every time he tries for it he secures a good flow.

The Methodist Parsonage has been equipped with a telephone on the Moss line, so anyone wishing to get married can communicate with the official knotter, conveniently and expeditiously.

Hanging over the door of the Chewaucan Bar is a fine deer head, with extra long antlers, each of which has ten points. The animal was killed in the Fremont Forest some time ago and the head was stuffed by taxidermist Peterson, of Silver Lake.

All around us there is reported bitter cold weather, in some cases even thirty below zero. Yet in Summer Lake and Chewaucan valleys it has not yet reached zero, except possibly once. It would be hard to beat our ideal winter weather, just as it is hard to beat our summers.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Gritten, almost lost their baby boy last Friday night. They attended the joint installation of the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs and left the baby in its carriage in the lobby. Fearing that it would catch cold, they wrapped it up very warm, and must have covered its mouth, for when Mr. Gritten went to look at it, it had every appearance of being about to die.

At High Noon Sunday, a marriage ceremony was performed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Withers, which united in the bonds of matrimony Miss Alvina Seitem and Mr. G. H. Koster. Rev. E. S. Wilcox officiated and a few friends of the contracting parties were present. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Seitem, who formerly owned a ranch in Schoolhouse Canyon, but who have recently removed to Mexico. The groom is a popular young homesteader in the middle Chewaucan valley. A tasty wedding dinner was served by Mrs. Withers and the happy couple were the recipients of numerous gifts, both useful and ornamental.

Chicago, January 20.—According to a cablegram from Peking to the Chicago Daily News, the abdication of the Manchu dynasty is an accomplished fact and the delay in issuing the edict already drawn up is solely to prevent an uprising by the reactionary wing of the Imperial family headed by Prince Kung.
