"IKE" DAVIES HAS STRANGE CAREER

Was an Old Time Stock Raiser in This County

Klamath Chronicle: Old Ike Davies is still staying with his friend Dave Shook, on the Shook ranch, two miles south of Dairy. Davies has had a mottled career. Coming from his native state of Maine by way of the Isthmus, some thirty odd years ago, he lived for years in Nevada; thence migrating to Drews valley, not far from Lakeview, where he invested in a herd of sheep and became a shepherd, making a little money out of the venture. Selling his herd when sheep were low in the market, he came to Dairy 11 to 12 years ago, he bought out a stock of merchandise, and began "keeping store," and was postmaster for years. Liberal to a fault, and careless in keeping his accounts, he had his ups and downs till some four years ago he was forced into bankruptcy by his creditors. Still having some credit, he built another structure and attempted to recoup his fallen fortune by selling his merchandise, but with no cash in hand wholesale dealers refused to sell goods to him. He lost the postoffice and went adrift—herding sheep for Rex Bord for a year, and then went to work for Dave Shook. Although "down and out," in a financial sense, his likable qualities have endeared him to many who have known and dealt with him in the years ago. In Lake county where he was well known every one has a kindly word for "Ike," and here he retains the active friendship of nearly all of those who were his former customers. He is bright and witty in speech, and has quite a faculty of making rhymes. High in the ranks of Free Masonry, his chief delight is found in attending Masonic functions, wearing his "regimentals" with becoming pride. Although a failure in a business sense, who is there to say that he has done no good in the world? Was it not a Pharisee who prayed "Lord, I thank thee that I am better than that poor Publican?"

There is a scheme on to merge the United States Express company, with the Wells-Fargo Express company, which is controlled by the Harriman interests. The Harriman interests now have four of the seven members of the U. S. Express board, which gives the control.

NATIONAL PARK OF MT. SHASTA

Sisson, Cal., Feb. 13.—The establishment of Mount Shasta as a national park by the government is the project which has been undertaken by the leading citizens of Sisson. By such a move it is expected that many improvements could be added now not possible, and the wonders of nature around the grand old sentinel could be taken full advantage of. It is proposed in the arguments to be laid before the government to refer to the fact that Mount Rainier in Washington is a national park and Mount Shasta is entitled to the same privilege.

The citizens of Sisson will start on the project through the Sisson Promotion association, obtaining all other necessary data, and indorsement of the corporations and citizens of this county. Supervisor Kaupp of this district is enthusiastically in favor of it, and has pledged his greatest support to gain the recommendation of the county supervisors and other influential sources.

As soon as possible the matter will be laid before Congressman Baker, who will be asked to introduce a bill in congress to create Mount Shasta a national park and work for its passage.

Pay Fire Fighters

District Forester George H. Cecil has just received information that March 31, 1912 has been set by the Department of Agriculture as the latest date on which claims under the General Deficiency Bill, approved March 4, 1911, can be presented for casualties and disabilities suffered by temporary employees while fighting fire on the National Forests prior to December 1, 1910.

Mr. Cecil believes that all claims originating in Oregon and Washington properly payable this act have already been presented, but in case there are any still out standing they may be submitted at once to the Forest Supervisor in charge of the Forest where the accident occurred.

How to cure a cold is a question in which many are interested just now Chamberlain's cough remedy has won its great reputation and immense sale by its remarkable cure of colds. It can always be depended upon. For sale by all dealers.

Representative Hawley has secured inclusion in the army appropriation bill of an item to pay John E. Butler, of Junction City, $417 due him for past service in the army.

HARNEY COUNTY HAVING TROUBLE

Portland Telegram: Burns, the leading town of Harney County, is suffering from a severe case of fright, declares Joe Mahan, a resident of the county. This fright has been instigated by the railway construction plans of the Oregon & Eastern Surveys for this line, which is to be the first penetrating the Harney Valley, to reach Dog Mountain only, which is several miles from Burns, and from the point now terminating the survey it is believed by many that the Oregon & Eastern will press in a direct line for the Natron-Klamath cutoff.

"Should the railway not build to Burns, the residents of that town fear they will lose the county seat," declares Mr. Mahan, "and to prevent such a change the commissioners, working solely for the interest of Burns, have issued an extra tax levy for a large structure to be used as a courthouse and for several county offices. This is undertaken when we have no need of a new structure, the old courthouse being ample for Harney County for some time to come."

Mr. Mahan came to Portland to enlist legal services, to see if the special levy could not be beaten in some way.

JOHN P. RUSK

Salem, Ore., Feb. 9.—Adopting as his campaign slogan "For Roosevelt and Progress and Against Taft and Standstillism," John P. Rusk, of La Grande, Speaker of the House of Representatives at the last session of the Legislature today filed with the Secretary of State his declaration of intention to become a candidate at the primaries for Congress from the Second Congressional District. If elected, he says he will support the efforts of Roosevelt, LaFollette, Cummins and other progressive leaders. He declares in favor of Roosevelt for President, and says if Roosevelt will not accept the nomination he will support some other fighting progressive.

Produce Exposition

Seven states have again combined to hold a great exposition to show the products of their soil, mines, lakes, rivers, forests and factories after the harvests are over and the state and county fairs have made the collection of the finest products in the world available.

The Northwest Products Exposition, as it will be called, will be held in Minneapolis November 12 to 23. The seven states which will participate are Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Montana, Idaho, Washington and Oregon.

To make this exposition possible the business men of Minneapolis will erect a building of solid steel, brick and concrete with a great exposition floor 250x152—as large as Madison Square Garden, New York City.

At a cost of $10,000 the Civic and Commerce Association of Minneapolis and the St. Paul Association of Commerce have bought space from the Northwest Development League for the seven states where their official exhibit will be installed.

Burns Times-Herald: A. O. Faulkner and his brother Charles M., accompanied by the latter's family, arrived home yesterday, coming over from Lakeview in Mr. Faulkner's auto. The brothers had just returned from the family home in Indiana where they had been called to the sick bed of their father, whom they left convalescing. They came by way of Lakeview to bring C. M. Faulkner's family as they intend making their home here. They had had roads coming over, the mud being quite deep.

A piece of bannel dampened with Chamberlain's Liniment and bound on to the affected parts is superior to any plaster. When troubled with lame back or pains in the side or chest give it a trial and you are certain to be more than pleased with the prompt relief which it affords. Sold by all dealers.

EDITOR SMITH FOR REPRESENTATIVE

A Resident of Klamath County for the Past Ten Years

Klamath Press: The latest local man to enter the political campaign is Wesley O. Smith, editor and publisher of the Evening Herald, who yesterday afternoon announced his candidacy for the republican nomination as state representative. The legislative district of which Klamath county is a portion also includes Lake, Crook and Grant counties.

Smith has been a resident of Klamath county for the past ten years and has been engaged in newspaper work. His long service in the local journalistic field has given him a clear insight into the needs as well as the possibilities of this section, and his determination to make the race is due almost entirely to see the fulfillment of a number of legislative ideas which he believes will be for the betterment of not only Klamath, but the other counties in the district as well.

"I believe that Klamath county is now ready to take a more important part in the development of the state," said Mr. Smith yesterday, and it is to promote the interests of this section that I am entering the race. I have waited for some other republican to file his announcement of candidacy for the office, but as none have done so, I have concluded to come forward, and I'm in the race now to win."

There have been several republicans who have been seriously considered by their friends for the nomination sought by Smith, but these men, learning that Smith was being urged to make the run, have declined to oppose him, pledging him instead their support. Smith being the first candidate for the office, is another strong point in his favor.

Though he has never before sought an office, Smith since first coming to Southern Oregon, has been prominently connected with work of the republican party, a fact that has made him well and favorably known in all parts of the district he seeks to represent at the legislature. His daily paper, and its weekly issue, the Klamath County Republican, have worked in the interests of the party during campaigns past, and two years ago Smith was chairman of the county central committee of the republican party.

SEVERAL BILLS CONCERNING TAXES

Salem, Ore., Feb. 12.—The state tax committee, composed of five members of the last senate and seven members of the last house of representatives, is in session this afternoon considering tax measures to be presented to the voters of the state at the next general election. The committee went into session at 2 o'clock.

Among the important bills being considered is one providing for a constitutional amendment permitting the substitution of a state income tax for the present scheme of taxing property. This is similar to the present law in force in Wisconsin.

Another bill will provide for reasonable exemption from taxation of household furniture and effects, farming implements and mechanic's and workmen's tools in use.

Exemption of equitable assessment of intangible personal property will be provided in another bill. The committee is also trying to devise a simpler system of tax collection and not abolish the present system of granting rebates.

A bill is being prepared revising the inheritance tax law, along lines suggested by the model law on that subject prepared by a committee of the International Tax association.

A Good Position

Can be had by ambitious young men and ladies in the field of "Wireless" or railway telegraphy. Since the 8-hour law became effective, and since the wireless companies are establishing stations throughout the country there is a great shortage of telegraphers. Positions pay beginners from $70 to $90 per month, with good chance of advancement. The National Telegraph Institute of Portland, Ore., operates under supervision of B. K. and wireless officials and places all graduates into positions. It will pay you to write them for full details.

You are probably aware that pneumonia always results from a cold, but you never heard of a cold resulting in pneumonia when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy was used. Why take the risk when this remedy may be had for a trifle? For sale by all dealers.

The Lane county Prohibitionists are preparing for the campaign, and a mass meeting or convention was held in Eugene to elect delegates to the state convention.
