A Complete Record

We have made an entire transcript of all Records in Lake County which in any way affect Real Property in the county. We have a complete Record of every Mortgage and transfer ever made in Lake County, and ever Deed given.

Errors Found in Titles

In transcribing the records we have found numerous mortgages recorded in the Deed record and indexed; and many deeds are recorded in the Mortgage record and other books. Hundreds of mortgages and deeds are not indexed at all, and most difficult to trace up from the records.

We have notations of all these Errors.

Others cannot find them. We have put hundreds of dollars hunting up these errors, and we can fully guarantee our work.

The WORLD'S MOST PERFECT EAR OF CORN
The Unique Story of its Discovery
PLANS FOR THE GREAT NATIONAL CORN SHOW IN 1913

"Just a countryman—that is all," is the way the grower of this remarkable ear of corn, Mr. Fred C. Palin, styles himself. Though he is admitted to be one of the leading corn experts of the country—one whose services are greatly in demand as a judge of corn exhibits, Mr. Palin asks for no greater honor or distinction than to be known as a plain Hoosier farmer, and while he openly professes a reasonable pride in the achievement of growing corn the famous ear of corn which was adjudged the most perfect ever grown, it is without shadow of ostentation.

The champion ear of corn was not at all an accident. There can be no greater lesson in the value of careful study and painstaking selection of seed and breeding than the experiences of this same Palin. The farmer who thinks he stands a chance to go into his corn field and a piece of luck pick out an ear which nature has fashioned even more perfectly and with it wrest the honors from this Indiana man, cannot do better to disabuse his mind of this fallacious notion than to read the story of Palin and his champion ear.

In the first place, Palin knows corn. If there were no more proof of this fact than the bare story of the development and discovery of the champion ear, it would be enough. And in proof of this fact, here is the story as he told it himself:

It was in November, 1910, and we were just harvesting our crop. The weather had been good, but we were a little late with the harvest. The men were going through the field with the wagon in the usual way gathering the corn, and the harvest was a promising one.

"We have a sort of corn show at my farm all the time, and there is always an award for exceptionally good ears of corn—ears sufficiently true to permit of their being exhibited. There is a small box in each wagon in which most perfect ears are kept. These, when properly selected, constitute the seed corn, and among these more perfect ears we occasionally find a ear

SELECTIONS MADE FROM RESERVES

To provide for carrying out an agreement under which South Dakota school lands will be exchanged for National Forest land of equal area and value, President Taft has signed a proclamation which makes it possible for the state to select immediately 60,143 acres of land from the Harney and Sioux National Forests.

This will permit of indemnity selection by the State in place of school lands, lying along and within the boundaries of the Black Hills National Forest, which will become part of the Forest. A board of three, on which Supervisor Paul Kelleter of the Black Hills National Forest has represented the Department of Agriculture and F. F. Brinker, Commissioner of the Department of Schools and Public Lands of the State of South Dakota, has represented the State, with Seth Bullock as the third member, has made a careful study to learn the value both of the school lands and of the areas now relinquished by the Government. Field parties have gathered data from every section involved, with the result that the lieu areas are known to be a fair exchange for the school lands to which the State relinquishes its claim.

That we are willing to exhibit in a contest. "On the day the champion ear was found, I was at the house and at dinner time one of the men brought it in and laid it, with a number of other ears, upon the window sill in the well room for me to take and put away in the seed house.

"Well," I said, "do you think you've got a good ear there?"

"It looks to me like a good ear he said. "What do you think of it?"

"I picked it up and looked it over.

"Well," I said finally, "I think it is the most perfect ear of corn I ever saw. It's good enough to win the W. K. Kellogg $1000, trophy this year at Omaha."

"And I was confident the moment I saw it, and looked it over, that I held the trophy winner in my hand. So much so that when I left for Omaha to exhibit the ear, I took it out of my grip and showed it to the station agent with the words, "That is the ear I'm going to win the $1,000 trophy with."

So there is the story of the champion ear as Palin told it himself. And on the strength of it who will say that Fred C. Palin doesn't justly merit the title, "The man who knows corn?"

But that's not all of Palin's story. He tells it willingly though modestly, for he knows that his story whenever told is a source of great encouragement to the thousands of farmers who never had a better chance than he had himself. Palin was born and brought up near Newton, Ind. He has never owned a foot of farm land in his life and the 300-acre farm on which the champion ear of corn which won the Kellogg Trophy was grown is a rented farm.

The Kellogg trophy was won in 1910 at Columbus, Ohio, by R. A. James of Charlestop, Ill., with a magnificent ear of Reid's Yellow Dent, but not so perfect an ear as that which originally won the trophy and which has become known as "the best ear of corn ever grown."

The next award of this trophy will be made at the next National Corn Exhibition, which will be held in February, 1913, at Columbia, S. C. It is planned to make this exposition much broader in scope than any held in the past, and consequently a longer time will be required for preparation. Special buildings are being erected for the exposition, the main building to be 400 by 167 feet, ground measurements. The show will last ten days. The state of South Carolina has appropriated $40,000 for the expense of the exposition and the prospect is that Dixie will "do herself proud" in an effort to make this exposition the greatest of its kind ever held.
