FREIGHT SHIPPED BY WAY OF BEND

Four Auto Trucks Operat- ing Between Bend And Burns

Oregon Journal: Freight shipments from Portland to Burns by way of Bend have increased so much in volume this month that four auto trucks are being operated from there to the Harney county town. This would indicate that the Burns people are fast awakening to the fact that they can get goods laid down at their stores much cheaper by routing over the new lines up the Deschutes.

The passenger business to the interior country is also growing fast, an auto stage line being operated regularly between Bend and Burns, and from here to the towns to the south. A daily average of four passengers has been taken to Burns since the first of the month.

Though not as many homeseekers have arrived here this spring as had been expected, a large number are coming in to take up government land. Since March 1, 22 cars of emigrants movables have been received by the two railroads. A total of 263 cars of freight of all kinds has come in in the six weeks, a daily average of six cars.

Wool Outlook Good

The senior partners of the firm of Justice, Bateman & Co., a firm of wool commission merchants of Philadelphia, well known by the Lake county sheepmen, have announced their intention to retire on account of advancing years. The business will continue under the firm name of J. Bateman & Co. This firm expresses the belief that the outlook is encouraging for a good demand for wool for the balance of the year, so that notwithstanding political uncertainties and some unrest among the laboring classes it is their conviction that wool growers are justified in expecting fair prices for their product, and that sales at a sacrifice due to fear of the future will be a source of regret later on.

Simon Jaunto, one of Lake County's prosperous sheep men was in Lakeview Monday.

DELEGATE SENT TO MEET DENVER MEN

Secretary Wendt Resigns From Pine Creek Com- mercial Club

By J. SCOTT TAYLOR.
The New Pine Creek Commercial Club held another meeting Wednesday evening of last week at which President Schauer presided. Secretary Wendt presented his resignation as secretary of the club on account of the pressure of his personal business and the same was accepted and Dr. Patterson elected to fill the vacancy.

The subject of sending a delegation of New Pine Creekers down the road to meet the Denver excursionists was brought up and in this connection President Schauer remarked that he did not think it well to "butt in" on the Denver excursion as the Fort Bidwell people had been instrumental in getting it up.

Mr. Bramley: "When the Bidwell people state that over 14 feet of snow will be encountered on the trail from New Pine Creek to the summit it is time that we put the Denver people wise."

Mr. Patch: "I was very much surprised when I learned that this report had gone out."

Mr. Gard: "Quite a number of people on the excursion are personal friends of mine and I consider it a personal duty to meet them at Alturas and I want to tell them what kind of a place you have here. I do not feel that it would be quite the thing for me to go down there alone as I am a stranger here and I do not feel quite competent to present your advantages to the excursionists."

Mr. Fisk: "These people should be advised of the easiest and best way to set into the mines. All they want are the facts. Two or three men can do a great deal of good by meeting the train."

Mr. Keller: "I am not in favor of intercepting a private train to Bidwell by a committee from here, but I move that this club pay Mr. Gard's expenses to Alturas." The motion carried.

Mr. McCleary stated that he had personally raised $100 in Lakeview for

KLAMATH FIRE DE- PARTMENT STRICT

Trouble Caused by Chief Enforcing Laws Of The State

Oregon Journal: Klamath Falls, Or., April 18.—Members of the Klamath Falls volunteer fire department paraded the street Wednesday in protest against the action of the city council, which attempted to oust Fire Chief Edward Wakefield from office because of the enmity he aroused by a campaign for the enforcement of the state law compelling the owners of lodging houses and public buildings to provide rope fire escapes for their tenants. As the fire chief was elected by the members of his company it was impossible for the council to remove him, but an effective blow was dealt when a resolution was passed discontinuing his salary.

When members of the fire company learned of the council's action a midnight meeting was held at which every member of the company declared his intention to resign. Chief Wakefield finally persuaded the men to remain in the fire fighting organization by pointing out that it would be unjust to the public for the company to desert in a body. Then it was decided to organize a parade of protest on the streets wearing large badges inscribed: "Who are you for? Hanks or the boys who protect your lives and property?"

Hanks is the councilman who introduced the resolution in council cutting off the fire chief's pay.

Wakefield's campaign for the enforcement of the state fire protection laws was a direct result of a fatal lodging house fire a few weeks ago in which two men lost their lives. As a result of the fire the city was aroused to its danger and united in a demand for better fire apparatus, fire escapes on school houses and more fire hydrants.

Sam Bailey, the mason, is erecting a brick residence on his property in the Watson addition.

A large number of new arrivals at New Pine Creek joined the club at this meeting.

Will Aid Homesteaders

Portland Journal: Representative Hawley has asked the Interior Department to make an investigation of the conditions near Arrow, Lake county, near where homesteaders who expected to irrigate have found a lack of water. He cites the case of W. L. Powers, who claims that it will be necessary to be granted an additional quarter section, so that he can engage in dry farming.

The local Elks are requested to meet at the Court House Monday night, April 29th, at 8 p. m. to discuss the matter of opening Snider's Opera house with a dance. The Opera House will probably be completed about May 10th and should be given a proper christening.
