FRIENDS AND FOES

Regardless of what the result of the Republican nomination for President may be, few men would care to undergo the experience either Taft or Roosevelt has had. Men that were the closest of friends are now bitter enemies and are engaged in slinging mud in a way that puts the average admirer of either to shame.

While many are of the opinion that President Taft was forced into the game by the derogatory statements of Roosevelt, yet at the same time the office of President should be above such sayings. The result is likely to be that neither Taft or Roosevelt will secure the desired plum, although it is practically certain that Taft will name the next Republican candidate for President, inasmuch as he will likely have enough delegates in the National Convention to dictate the nominee.

While Attorney General Crawford's opinion to the effect that the delegates to the National Convention selected at the recent primary convention are not legally compelled to cast their votes for Roosevelt may be legally correct, yet at the same time it is not likely that they will care to do otherwise regardless of the statements that followed their names on the ballot. It will be a mighty odd day for the candidate or official chosen under the "Oregon System" when he goes contrary to the provisions, implied or otherwise, of that famous document. The directions say "Take It," and the dose must be downed, regardless of personal feeling in the matter, and woo to him who seeks to do otherwise.

Justin McCarthy, the famous Irish novelist and home-ruler, died last week at Folkestone, England. He was chairman of the Irish parliamentary party in the House of Commons, and has always occupied a prominent position in politics. His death will be universally mourned throughout the civilized world.

Senator Bourne, on learning of his defeat at the primary election, sent the following very courteous letter of congratulation to his successful competitor for the position, Ben Snelling: "I am informed that the Republicans of Oregon have nominated you as my successor by a very handsome majority. Accept my sincerest congratulations and assurances of hearty support."

Presbyterian Services
 At the Masonic Hall next Sabbath at 11 A. M. and 8 P. M., divine services may be expected as usual. The Rev. Sherwood L. Grigsby, of Medford, pastor-evangelist of the Presbytery of Southern Oregon, representing the Presbyterian Board of Home Missions, of New York City, will preach morning and evening. Subject of the morning sermon, "Power From On High." At night subject, "Hope the Souls Sure Ancho." A card of invitation is extended to the general public. Everybody will be welcome.

Chautauqua Circle
 The Chautauqua Circle will meet at the home of Mrs. Wm. Fryse Monday May 6, 7:30 P. M. Program: Roll call, current events, "Tolstoyism," Adams, chapter XII, Miss Mabel Snelling, "Public Activities and Investigations," Adams, chapter XIII, Mrs. Vanderpool.

Klamath Falls holds her city election on the 20th inst. It promises to be a regular Teddy and Taft proposition before the election takes place, Mayor Sanderson has his opponent for reelection the present police judge, T. F. Nicholas, who has opposed some of the Mayor's ideas.

News in Brief

Nelson Rounsevell, of New Pine Creek purchased the first car from the E. M. F. shipment received last week by T. E. Bernard. Mr. Rounsevell had a Brush car, but it was unable to stand up under the work, and hence he found it necessary to get another car. O. W. Robinson and J. F. McGuire, of Klamath Falls, who came over last week to see what was doing in the High Grade district, returned home this week. They were well pleased with the outlook and will probably return again as soon as the weather is favorable.

A. P. Koozer, the West Side rancher and fruit man, brought in about a ton of field corn Friday, to be ground into corn meal at the local mill. This is the second lot he has brought to town, having delivered 1,500 pounds some time ago. This has not yet proven a corn country, but it will grow.

Friday night the Rebekahs held a reception in the I. O. O. F. hall for the local Oddfellows in commemoration of the 33rd anniversary of the founding of that order. A large attendance was present and elaborate refreshments were served. The greater part of the evening was spent in dancing.

Miss Bessie Brown, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Brown, Saturday afternoon, entertained several of her school friends at a party. Refreshments were served during the afternoon, various games were indulged in, and an altogether pleasant time was enjoyed by all the youngsters present.

The ladies of the Presbyterian Aid Society met Thursday afternoon last at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Campbell. A very social time was enjoyed by all present, but the feature of the meeting was the serving of some delightful English dishes, which had been prepared especially for the occasion by George Campbell. Mr. Campbell and his mother recently arrived here from Texas.

R. M. Boller, of the City Transfer, has secured the baggage privilege on the N. C. O. trains. He will have an agent on all incoming trains who will check and handle baggage for passengers just the same as is done on the big railroads. It will prove of much more convenience to travelers, as they will not be bothered with looking after their baggage on arriving at this station.

Mrs. Camp, the wife of an eastern lumber man, was visiting the ladies of the Presbyterian Aid Society last week at a brief rest in a tour of the West. Mrs. Camp also stopped to visit Mrs. L. E. Seeger at Davis Creek before returning her travels. Her interest in Lakeview was primarily aroused at the time of their bazaar a year ago last winter and she has kept in touch ever since.

T. J. Sullivan, the popular hotel man of Plush, remembered a few of his Lakeview friends this week by sending them some fine trout from the waters of Honey Creek. The fish are probably the best found in the waters of Lake county, and those who were fortunate enough to be remembered by Tom greatly appreciated his thoughtfulness. Such kindnesses add much to the pleasure of living, and it is only to be regretted that there are not more Tom Sullivans.

A bunch of mules driven through town last Saturday attracted much attention, from the fact that there is much construction work in view hereabouts and it was at once concluded that some contractor was bringing in an outfit. However on inquiry it was learned that the mules belonged to J. F. Hanson and were being taken from the feeding grounds at New Pine Creek where they were kept during the winter to the Point Ranch on the West Side.

Birthday Party
 Mrs. Wm. Gunther yesterday gave a party in honor of her mother, Mrs. Roxie Cleland, the occasion being the celebration of the anniversary of her birth. Refreshments were served and a most enjoyable social visit had by all present. The guests were: Mesdames R. A. Paxton, M. T. Walters, S. T. Colvin, T. J. Magilton, E. L. Dunbar, Daniel Crossmiller, C. E. Down, Mary Russell, E. J. Jackson, H. W. Morgan, R. Cleland, A. McGrath and J. W. Maxwell.

Prize Given Away
 Valuable prize will be given away free by Hall & Reynolds. A city lot in the town of New Pine Creek, worth $250.00, free to the holder of the lucky number. A ticket with every dollar purchase, which entitles you to a chance on the lot. A duplicate of each ticket will be dropped in a sealed box. On the evening of June 30th the drawing will take place at Smith's Picture Show. Out of town customers will receive their tickets by mail. Everybody has an equal chance.

Resolutions of Condolence

To the Worshipful Master, Wardens and Brethren of Lakeview Lodge No. 71, A. F. & A. M.

Whereas: The Grand Master of the Universe having been pleased to call from earthly labor to eternal refreshments on April 16, 1912, our well beloved brother, Leland B. Whorzon, who during the period that he has been a member of this lodge so endeared himself to us by his courtesy and affability that his memory will ever be cherished in our hearts, therefore be it

Resolved: That in this bereavement this lodge is deprived of an active, zealous and painstaking member who was thoroughly imbued with the precepts and principles of our order, who evinced in a life marked by integrity and uprightness the cardinal Masonic virtues and who presented not only to his brethren but to the community an example and an inspiration to better deeds.

Resolved: That bowing as we do in humble submission to the Divine will we mourn the loss of an efficient and earnest brother, a devoted adherent of Free Masonry and a faithful friend whose daily life so clearly reflected the fundamental truths and tenets of our fraternity.

Resolved: That we sincerely, deeply and affectionately sympathize with his afflicted family in their sorrow, reminding them that "He, who tempest the wind to the shorn lamb," looks down with infinite compassion upon them in the hour of their desolation.

Resolved: That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the beloved wife of our deceased brother and also spread in full upon the minutes of this lodge.

Committee: A. W. ORTON,
 J. N. WATSON,
 J. S. FULLER.
