TO EXTERMINATE THE PLANT LICE

Corvallis Oregon, May, 15.—Plant lice are playing havoc with rose bushes, currants and various garden crops this season, and A. L. Lovett, assistant entomologist at the Oregon Agricultural College, has prepared directions for recognizing and getting rid of the pest.

On currant bushes the work of the lice at present appears as irregular galls on the leaves, discolored a deep reddish hue. On the under side of the leaf are found many small, pale green, soft bodied insects with their beaks inserted in the plant tissues, busy sucking the plant juices. On the roses the lice are found about the stems of the leaf and flower buds. Later the flowers will be misshapen and smaller than normal.

A contact spray should be used, and its effectiveness depends entirely on its being used thoroughly in such a way that it actually reaches the body of the insect. "Black Leaf 40," a commercial preparation for sale in all railroad towns, is perhaps the best for lice. Directions are on the can. It may also be used diluted in 800 parts of water, with a half pound of soap added for every ten gallons of the solution. Whale oil soap is best but common laundry soap will do. It should be shaved fine and dissolved in hot water first.

Another solution is the kerosene emulsion spray. Half a pound of hard soap dissolved in a gallon of boiling water, and when removed from the fire two gallons of kerosene is stirred in. A hand pump is best for mixing it, the solution being drawn through the hose and back into the container again until it is a creamy white. After diluting it with fifteen gallons of water the plants should be wet with it, especial care being taken to reach the under sides of the leaves, where the lice are found.

ROAD CAMPAIGN IN RURAL DISTRICTS

Portland Oregonian: After canvassing the returns from Oregon's first Good Roads day, held under the auspices of the Oregon Development League, the men behind the move to enact constructive highway legislation through the six measures drafted by Governor West's harmony committee, will start a comprehensive campaign in the rural districts. The object will be to make the voters of the country town familiar with the new bills.

One fact developed by the good roads demonstration is that in many sections of the state the voters are not aware that completely new bills are now in the field. In the majority of instances little was accomplished because the people had not taken the time to analyze the bills and decided whether they are for or against them.

In Linn County, for instance, nothing was done regarding the petitions, because no one had taken the trouble to circulate them.

Preparing For Rodeo

Klamath Northwestern: Forty members of the Klamath Falls Elks lodge spent Sunday doing carpenter work and wheeling dirt at the Fair Grounds where the Rodeo is to be held May 31, June 1 and 2. Rapid progress on the reconstruction of the grounds to meet the requirements of the Rodeo was made and it is expected that when the lodge men turn out again next Sunday the work will be practically complete.

Notice to Wool Buyers

The Lakeview Storage Co. will hold its second annual wool sale under the sealed bid system on the 1st of July, 1912. Over one million pounds of wool will be offered at the wool warehouse in Lakeview, Oregon.

Wool dealers intending to have buyers present will please notify the Secretary.

HARRY BAILEY, Sec.

Notice to Sheepmen

The Wilcox shearing corral at Warner Canyon will be ready to receive sheep May 27. A full crew of shearers will be employed and patrons are guaranteed first class service. M9-27

Additional Briefs

H. D. Roberts, of Plush, arrived here Tuesday.

Final examinations for the pupils of the eighth grade were held last week at the local Grammar school.

It is now openly charged that William "Alsorandolph" Hearst is slated as a running mate on the Presidential ticket with Speaker Champ Clark.

Harry Glazier is back at work again in Ahlstrom & Gunther's Saddlery, after a week's absence, during which time he did considerable improvement work about his residence in the way of filling in the lots, graveling the walks, etc.

J. C. Brocklesby a few days since came down from Paisley, where he is engaged in contract work. He has been building a couple of cottages for Geo. S. Park, but states that a shortage of material has delayed the work somewhat.

F. M. Miller Monday left for Bakersfield, Cal., where he was called as a witness in the second trial of Bernard C. Sita, charged with defrauding people in connection with land deals in this valley. In his first trial the jury disagreed.

H. M. Ratcliffe, fire insurance adjuster of Salem, arrived the first of the week to be present at the trial of Richard Willis at this term of court. Mr. Ratcliffe was the agent sent to adjust the losses sustained in the Snider building fire.

J. Frankl, representing Koshland Bros., will arrive in town to night with a view of entering the field for the remainder of the wool clip. It is estimated that there is not to exceed 500,000 pounds remaining unsold in the county.

George Wingfield is expected to arrive in Lakeview at any time, it being understood that he left Reno yesterday. He may visit the Windy Hollow mines before coming here, and if he does he will probably not be here before next week.

Wm. Harvey, the horse buyer, returned this week from a trip through Central and Eastern Oregon where he went in search of horses. He says the market is very quiet, and brought no horses on his return aside from one span of driving horses.

An attempt to abolish the mints at San Francisco, New Orleans and Carson, Nevada, and the assay offices at Boise, Idaho, Deadwood, S. D., Helena, Mont., Seattle and Salt Lake City, was defeated in the house last week by a vote of 92 to 61.

Walter Paxton, by his untiring efforts will soon have a good farm on the hill side east of the county road to Warner canyon. This valley is surrounded by similar land waiting for such men as Paxton to dot our valley with pleasant and profitable homes.

E. Arabolad, the New Pine Creek and Alturas merchant was a business visitor in Lakeview Monday. He has installed a full and up-to-date line of merchandise at the former place and has much confidence in the future development of the State Line town.

Judge H. L. Benson arrived Saturday evening from Klamath to hold the regular term of Circuit Court. The Judge was delayed on his return from Coos County, where he had been holding court for Judge Coke, and hence he did not reach here as soon as expected.

Officials of the Paisley Irrigation Company are now planning to survey a suitable road way from the Camp Creek sawmill to the Chewaucan, over which to haul lumber for their project. The scarcity of timber at Paisley appears to be as great as it is here.

Mrs. Charles Shockey, of Rodeo, Calif., daughter of the late Mrs. Emeline Linville, accompanied by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Ray Burns, came up to attend the funeral of Mrs. Shockey's mother. They will remain for a couple of weeks visiting with relatives. He also investigated a merry-go-round plant that he had in view to buy, but informed us that he had abandoned this idea for the present. However, he expects to install a picture machine as soon as arrangements have been completed for a suitable location.

Last week a contract was awarded the Utah Construction Company for the construction of the Fernie-Lassen branch of the Southern Pacific Company. This line will be 137 miles in length and for large portion of the distance will be in Washoe County, Nevada.

BAILEY & MASSINGILL

THE HOME OF GOOD VALUES

A. Bieber, one of Lakeview's pioneer merchants has announced his intention of closing out his stock and retiring from the mercantile business. He is advertising a great reduction in prices and reports that the results from this campaign have met his expectations.

J. C. Hotchkiss is installing a ram at his place at Valley Falls which will supply his residence with water. The ram is located at the falls of the Chewaucan, and will raise sufficient water for household purposes as well as for watering stock and irrigating a garden.

T. A. Crump, a well known rancher of Adel, has been in town this week. He states that the late storms have been of much benefit to his section, and that the crops now promise to be excellent. Fruits of all kinds promise to be better than usual in South Warner this year.

J. C. Dodson, who left for Portland the forepart of the month, extended his visit east, and the last heard from him was at St. Louis, Mo., where he was investigating the possibilities of the Dorris cars. He will likely return home soon, and when he does come it will be in a Dorris.

Paisley is going to hold a grand celebration this year. At a mass meeting held in that town last week preparations were made for the affair. Committees have been appointed and those in charge of arrangements give promise that a glorious time will be furnished to all attendants.

Chas. D. Arthur, proprietor of the Mammoth Livestock Stables, has again resumed charge of the business after having had the stables leased for the past two years. They will be conducted on the previous system and horses to hay will be charged at the rate of 75 cents per span over night.

Hon. H. A. Brattain was down from Paisley this week, and he reports the mining excitement as reaching quite good sized proportions in the neighborhood of the tiavlor mines. Many new claims have been staked and the locators are of the opinion that there will soon be something doing.

Capt. J. C. Rutenic, a prominent member of the Klamath Falls bar, is attending Circuit Court, being employed in the Willis case on the part of the defense. The Captain has not been in Lakeview for several years previous to this time and he notes many wonderful improvements since his last visit.

Tom Watson, assisted by Elmer Keene, has been busy during the past week scraping the roof and tower of the Court House preparatory to administering a fresh coat of paint. It will be remembered that the entire south side of the roof and tower was badly scorched by the heat from the Snider Opera House fire.

In giving a list of expenses of Lake county candidates filed with the county clerk, the Examiner last week inadvertently overlooked the account of R. A. Hawkins, democratic candidate for county treasurer and F. W. Payne, democratic candidate for county clerk. The account filed by Mr. Hawkins amounted to $20, and Mr. Payne's expense was $32.

D. P. Brown, of the Warner Valley Stock Co., is in town on a business trip. He reports that C. B. Parker last Friday stepped on a nail, which nearly pierced his foot. At first he paid no attention to the wound, but in a few hours it commenced paining him and for two days caused him much agony. He was then removed to Bidwell, where a physician lanced the wound from both sides, which relieved the pain, and at last accounts Mr. Parker was getting along nicely.

H. G. Dickinson has arrived from Ulisses, Neb., as the representative of numerous O. V. L. contract holders of his section. His party own several tracts over the valley and Mr. Dickinson will spend about a week here investigating these properties.

Ike Robinett came up from his ranch down the Valley Saturday and was shaking hands with numerous Lakeview friends. He has been living in California the past few years having had his ranch leased out, but has come back to the Goose Lake Valley to make his future home.

Barney Mack, recently of Peona, Colo., has arrived and become an ardent booster for the Goose Lake Valley. He is representing several mining men of his district and upon his report of local conditions depend the actions of his followers. After making an inspection of the High Grade district, he continued to the Sprague river country where he has some land. The trip was made in an endeavor to search for a placer prospect.

Carl R. Gray, former president of the Hill lines in Oregon, has been appointed to the Presidency of the Great Northern railway, having succeeded Louis W. Hill. John H. Young, of Seattle, becomes president of the Hill lines in Oregon. Mr. Gray is considered a most capable man for that position. It is supposed that Mr. Hill will devote considerable of his time to the colonization of Central Oregon.

E. B. Hall and C. H. Daggett yesterday came over from Klamath Falls to make an investigation of the resources of this section, with the view of investing. They are representing several capitalists of the Falls, and if they find anything they can recommend it is likely that quite a bit of capital will come in from our neighbor town. Today they went down to New Pine Creek to take a look at that section.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Pratt, former residents of Lakeview together with their children this week arrived from Salt Lake City and will again make their home in Lakeview. They left here about 13 years ago, and their return is gladly welcomed by their many friends as well as relatives. Their oldest daughter was married sometime since to Mr. Martin and they also came to live in Lake County.

Frank Schlagel Injured

Oregon Journal: In trying to save the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Morton, 1656 Brazee street, from being destroyed by fire, Frank Schlagel, the well known attorney had a close brush with death last night at 9 o'clock and an unknown man was severely cut by bits of flying glass when a hot water boiler in the kitchen of the Morton home exploded, shattering all the windows and blowing furniture in all directions. Frank Schlagel is a brother of our townsman, G. Schlagel.

Silver Lake Items

(Silver Lake Leader)

Wm. McCormick sold his wool during the week, to an eastern buyer, to be delivered some time in June.

The residence of F. W. Silvertooth, at Antelope, was destroyed by fire on the 30th of April, the day Mr. Silvertooth left here for home. The entire contents went up in flames.

Spring has come at last. The present week has been all sunshine and everybody is busy finishing up their seeding. The grass and early sown grain are growing rapidly, the meadows are green and promise a heavy crop. Nowhere on earth does vegetation grow faster than here in the growing season.

The Circuit Court meets in Lakeview next Monday, May 13th. E. B. Brewer and Chas. Pitcher have been summoned as jurors, and the following persons have been subpoenaed to appear as witnesses before the Grand Jury at 10 o'clock next Monday morning: Everett Emery, P. D. Reeder, G. M. Marvin, K. O. Buick, Everett Long, Wm. La Sater, Dave Dotson, B. F. Lane, Floyd Lane and Oliver Brandt. It would seem from this array of witnesses there had been some law-breaking in this vicinity lately.

Paisley Pick-ups

(Chewaucan Press)

W. S. Blair went to Summer Lake Saturday to attend his father who is reported as being very ill.

Martin Lauritsen and William Dobkin started out with a bunch of about 120 head of cattle for the Little Chewaucan country, Tuesday.

It is possible that Louis Hill and William Hanley will be down through this country in the near future on an exploration trip.

C. R. Potts has hauled in the equipment for his new mill and will install the same at once. The capacity of his plant will be practically doubled.

C. H. Keith, of San Francisco, arrived in Paisley Saturday in the interests of the corporation of which C. M. Sain is the head, which has leased Summer and Albert lakes from the state for the purpose of extracting the mineral deposits contained in the water. Mr. Keith has been in Paisley before and will be remembered as the former publisher of the Chewaucan Post about six years ago. He states that Mr. Sain will be here in a week or so and at that time we expect to be in a position to give some details of the enterprise in which he is engaged.
