LAKE COUNTY ABSTRACT COMPANY

Incorporated.

A Complete Record

We have made an entire transcript of all Records in Lake County which in any way affect Real Property in the county. We have a complete Record of every Mortgage and transfer ever made in Lake County, and ever Deed given.

Errors Found in Titles

In transcribing the records we have found numerous mortgages recorded in the Deed record and indexed; and many deeds are recorded in the Mortgage record and other books. Hundreds of mortgages and deeds are not indexed at all, and most difficult to trace up from the records.

We have notations of all these Errors.

Others cannot find them. We have put hundreds of dollars hunting up these errors, and we can fully guarantee our work.

PORCUPINE MINER IN HIGH GRADE

Starts New District of Rich Gold Ledges at Head of Kelley Creek

T. S. McDougal arrived in camp from Porcupine, Canada, on May 1 and has been investing and prospecting the district. Mr. McDougal is associated with Wm. Ellingford in a group of claims at the head of Kelly Creek.

Surface rock from the ledges assay well. The formation is regular and minus the faults in evidence elsewhere in the district.

Both of these gentlemen have had long and varied experience in the mining game and both express unqualified confidence in Camp High Grade.

Mr. Ellingford has operated at Park City and Mercer Utah, and at Delmar, Nevada. Mr. McDougal has operated in Colorado, Arizona and Alaska. They say that the territory occupied by the Big Four, Sunshine and Huckleberry groups is certain to produce great mines.—High Grade News.

EXPERT'S OPINION ON HIGH GRADE

Capt. F. J. Evans With Extensive Experience Endorses Camp

(High Grade News)

Editor News: In response to your request for my opinion on the mineral conditions of this camp and in consideration of your earnest endeavor to make fair and conservative representations to the enquiring public, I will briefly give you my impressions so far as I have examined the territory.

The formations as I see them are porphyry, trachite and phonolite, with andesite lava flows. The quartz intrusions being capped with iron gosses where decomposition has set free gold values formerly held in the sulphide. Some very good values being found in the same. If granites were more strongly in evidence, I think the Cripple Creek miner would find some difficulty in classifying any very material difference between this district and that a proper system of mining will in my opinion open up many surprises, and I am quite sure this camp will be on the map as a producer for many years to come, if mining is properly done and men are found with the courage to investigate in a legitimate way. My confidence is fully established and I am here to stay and will enlist capital for development work.

Respectfully yours,
F. L. Evans, C.E. and E.M.

RICH DISCOVERY AT CEDARVILLE PASS

Californian Discovers Sulphide Belt in Granite Limestone Porphyry

These are the days in which sensations change each action in rapid succession in the Warner Range.

Mr. E. M. Root a well known mining man of Sierra County, who has been in camp for over a month. Two weeks ago he made a trip to the Cedarville Pass country about 25 miles south of New Pine Creek, returning on Wednesday, and bringing with him samples of ore.

He had eight tests made of the samples, which represented surface outcroppings. The lowest return was $1.20 and the highest $352.00.

This assay is among the best returned by W. S. Moore our local assayer.

Mr. Root says that the general rock of the locality is granite and limestone with dikes of porphyry and serpentine. The veins are large fissure in the contacts. The ore is a highly silicious material carrying sulphides. Galena is in evidence and one very high assay was made of a sample.

Mr. Root's discovery has resulted in great excitement in the district and parties are outfitting for the new diggings.—High Grade News.

Our First Locomotives.

The first locomotives in the United States were brought over from England by Horatio Allen of New York in the fall of 1829 or the spring of 1830, and one of them was set up on the Delaware and Hudson railroad at Carbondale, Pa., but, being found too heavy for the track, its use was abandoned. The first locomotive constructed in this country was built by the West Point foundry at New York in 1830 for the South Carolina railroad and named the Phoenix. A second engine was built the same year by the same establishment and for the same road and named the West Point. In the spring of 1831 a third engine was built by the same establishment for the Mohawk & Hudson railroad from Albany to Schenectady and called the De Witt Clinton. This was the first locomotive run in the state of New York. The first Stephenson locomotive ever imported into this country was the Robert Fulton. This engine was brought out in the summer of 1831 for the Mohawk & Hudson railroad. It was subsequently rebuilt and named the John Bull.

The Eaglet's First Flight.

H. B. McPherson gives a dramatic account of the first flight of an eaglet whose life from babyhood he had watched. One day he ventured to the edge of the cliff containing his cradle and looked about. Suddenly his mother swung past on silent wings and "tried to tempt him from his fastness." But he was unwilling or afraid. Again the mother hovered round, and a wild, weird cry rang through the glen. "For the first time I heard the yelp of the adult eagle, the voice of the queen of birds calling to her young. The eaglet cheered continuously until he flapped to the very edge of the abyss, listening to her call. And now he, too, changed his cry; his voice seemed to break and the adult yelp burst from his throat. The eagles called to each other, yelp answering yelp. The young eagle zipped round him, spread out his giant wings and vanished forever from my sight among the ledges below. The eaglet had left the nest and had flown."

Baboons and Water.

In Captain Drayson's "Sporting Scenes Among the Kafirs" we find the following: "Well," said Kemp, "when I go into a country where there is not much water I always take my baboon." "You don't drink him, do you?" "No, but I make him show me water." "How do you do that?" "In this way: When water gets scarce I give the baboon some. If he does not seem thirsty I rub a little salt on his tongue. I then take him out with a long string or chain. At first it was difficult to make him understand what was wanted, for he always wished to go back to the wagons. Now, however, he is well trained. When I get him out some distance I let him go. He runs along a bit, scratches himself, shows his teeth at me, takes a smell up wind, looks all round, picks up a bit of grass, smells or eats it, stands up for another sniff, canters on, and so on. Wherever the nearest water is there he is sure to go."

The Tyrant in the Field.

There have been few commanders so tyrannous as Lopez, the dictator of Paraguay, when, in the war of 1865-70, he fought single handed the neighboring countries of Argentina, Brazil and Uruguay. Lopez, says Mr. W. H. Koebel in his "Argentina," was wont to carry the theory of victory or death to an uncomfortable point. "Officers were executed for mere remarks whose tone fell beneath the standard of confidence that Lopez had set up for himself. One, for instance, was shot for having announced in the course of his duty that the enemy was strongly entrenched! Another met his end on account of an unguarded speech to the effect that the Paraguayan army was accustomed to count the enemy's losses and forget its own."

Old Time Railway Travel.

Third class passenger coaches in England used to be coupled on next to the engine. The travelers came in for terrible treatment when an accident occurred. At times the engine was driven tender first, in which case frozen hands could be warmed at the smoke-stack. The passengers were packed, seventy of them, into a truck eighteen feet in length by seven and a half in width. There was no roof and not, as a rule, proper protection at the sides.

Vigorous.

Victim—If your hair restorer is good, why is it that you are bald yourself? Barber—Well, sir, once I had a very big order for ladies' platts, and to execute it I used some extra doses of my restorer over my hair and got half a dozen long platts, sir. But it drew all the hair out of my constitution, sir.—London Mail.

EVANS BUYS THE DEL FLOY MINE

Portland Man Invests and Will Sink the Shaft 500 Feet

(High Grade News)

Another High Grade top notcher has been secured by outside people. Capt. F. L. Evans, of Portland, who has been investigating High Grade properties for a week, has closed a deal whereby he secures from Ed. Keller, I. S. Smith and Birt Wade the famous Del Floy property located between the Sunshine and the Big Four.

The terms of the contract necessitate sinking the shaft 500 feet and the expenditure of $5,000 in development during the first six months. Work will begin within ten days on a practical up-to-date system and will be pushed with vigor.

Capt. Evans has plenty of money behind him. He is certain that he has secured a fine property and being an experienced mine operator and the News expects to hear good reports from the Del Floy.

Cecil Rhodes on Mining

The late Cecil Rhodes, the millionaire mine owner and operator of large mining concerns in Africa, has been quoted several times upon this subject, the following being from one of his later speeches:

"I speak advisedly, and say what every man who has investigated knows to be the truth, that less money is lost proportionately in mining than any other business in the world, and larger fortunes are made in mining and in investments of mining stocks than in any business or any investment on earth. A good mining stock will pay the investor more easily twenty, thirty, forty or one hundred per cent, annually than municipal bonds, railroad bonds and stock for government bonds can possibly pay five per cent. Money invested in a good mining stock is safer than in a bank, than in mortgages, railroad securities, municipal or government bonds.

"The security of good mining stock is the raw material of money itself; it is the 'stuff' at whose feet governments, cities, banks, railroads, mortgages, land corporations and all forms of business kneel.

"I speak only of gold and silver mines, from the metal of which blooms and develops the everlasting dollar. The crude metal in our gold and silver mines is the first and best security in all the world. This is what makes banking a possibility; this is what gives legs to a municipality, spine to a government and creates the business of the world into a living, breathing, active creature of life."

These words are from one who made mining a study and who has been eminently successful in its pursuit. He gives us the advice of a man who knows, who has no axe to grind, and is the exact opposite of the unreliable promoter who has nothing to offer but unproven theories and the worthless advice of inexperience.

Mingus Returns

(High Grade News)

S. M. Mingus returned from a circle whirl to Sacramento, San Francisco, Oakland and Reno on Monday night after an absence of three weeks. Mr. Mingus is extensively interested in the High Grade district both on the hill and at Willow Ranch.

He has lined up a bunch of mining men who will visit the district soon with a view to investing. He reports that many people will visit the camp during the season.

A Good Position

Can be had by ambitious young men and ladies in the field of "Wireless" or railway telegraphy. Since the 8-hour law became effective, and since the wireless companies are establishing stations throughout the country there is a great shortage of telegraphers. Positions pay beginners from $70 to $90 per month, with good chance of advancement. The National Telegraph Institution of Portland, Ore., operates under supervision of R. R. and wireless officials and places all graduates into positions. It will pay you to write them for full details.
