FOR VICE PRESIDENT, JAMES S. SHERMAN

Mr. Sherman is fifty-seven years old, being a native of Utica, N. Y. He was admitted to the bar in 1880. He was mayor of Utica 1884-85, New York congressman 1887-91 and 1893-1909.

LEADING FEATURES OF THE PLATFORM.

Roosevelt's previous administrations indorsed.
Against recall of judges, but for simplification of process of removal in case of corruptness.
For amendment to anti-trust law providing for criminal punishment.
For protective tariff, but with "proper" reductions.
Federal trade commission to have administrative power over interstate affairs.
Law urged to aid farmers in loans.
Extension of federal civil service law recommended, with creation of retirement list.

[The platform is silent on the initiative and referendum and some of the other progressive demands. It was adopted by this vote: For, 686; against, 53; not voting, 243.]

time to conform to changing conditions and to reduce excessive rates, but without injury to any American industry. To accomplish this correct information is indispensable. This information can best be obtained by an expert commission, as the large volume of useful facts contained in the recent reports of the tariff board has demonstrated.

We condemn the Democratic tariff bills passed by the house of representatives of the Sixty-second congress as sectional, as injurious to the public credit and as destructive to business enterprise. The steady increase in the cost of living has become a matter not only of national but of worldwide concern. The fact that it is not due to the protective tariff system is evidenced by the existence of similar conditions in countries which have a tariff policy different from our own, as well as by the fact that the cost of living has increased while rates of duty have remained stationary or been reduced.

For Safe Banking Methods.
The Republican party has always stood for a sound currency and for safe banking methods. It is responsible for the resumption of specie payments and for the establishment of the gold standard. It is committed to the progressive development of our banking and currency system. Our banking arrangements today need further revision to meet the requirements of current conditions. We need measures which will prevent the recurrence of money panics and financial disturbances and which will promote the prosperity of this country by producing constant employment.

It is of great importance to the social and economic welfare of this country that its farmers have facilities for borrowing easily and using the money. It is important that financial machinery be provided to supply the demand of farmers for credit. Therefore we recommend and urge an authoritative investigation of agricultural credit societies and corporations in other countries and the passage of state and federal laws for the establishment and capable supervision of organizations having for their purpose the loaning of funds to farmers.

The party stands committed to the maintenance, extension and enforcement of the civil service law, and it favors the passage of legislation empowering the president to extend the competitive service as far as practicable. We favor legislation to make possible the equitable retirement of disabled and superannuated members of the civil service in order that a higher standard of efficiency may be maintained.

It is of great importance to the federal employees' liability law so as to extend its provisions to all government employees as well as to provide a more liberal scale of compensation for injury and death.

For Clean Campaigns.
We favor such additional legislation as may be needed more effectually to prohibit corporations from contributing funds, directly or indirectly, to campaigns for the nomination or election of the president, the vice president, senators and representatives in congress.

In the interest of the general public, and particularly of the agricultural or rural communities, we favor legislation looking to the establishment, under proper regulations, of a parcels post, the postal rates to be graduated under a zone system in proportion to the length of carriage.

We approve the action taken by the president and congress to secure with Russia, as with other countries, a treaty that will recognize the absolute right of expatriation and that will prevent all discrimination of whatever kind between American citizens, whether native born or alien and regardless of race, religion or previous political allegiance.

The Mississippi river is the nation's drainage ditch. Its flood waters, gathered from thirty-one states and the Dominion of Canada, constitute an overpowering force which breaks the levees and pours its torrents over many million

HIRAM HIGRADE IS BACK TO MINES

What They Did To Him In San Francisco and How They Did It

(High Grade News)
Back to the mines. That's you Uncle Hiram.

And there's classical satisfaction in the thought,
Frisco, with its glitter and glam.
Frisco, with its lure of "Native Son" and otherwise.
Frisco, with its clatter and cavort.
Frisco, with its coming Panama. All hail.
Frisco, where Occident and Orient meet and mix un.
Frisco, the old, the one and the only.
Oakland, the end of the world, the spot where you swap orange groves for bounding billows. "All Aboard" for nowhere(?)—everywhere.
Frisco—the emphatically "IT."
Back to good, old Krooked Kreek, and Old Quartz and the Krumber. And that's the very best thing that has happened to Hiram since Fraktion Jack located his first 1-133rd on the extension of the Hardscrabble.

What did they do to Hiram?
Let the lonesome winds and the sad sea waves relate.
And what did they try to do Hiram? Let the pelican of the simoon and the lobster of salt soaked sands recite. Across the bay rode Hiram in his greatness.
Hoary haired whiskers robbed his complexion, and he yearned for San Francisco emancipation from the fuzz that refuses to cease. And Hiram found rest and restitution at 90-92 Market Street under the legend "Modern Shaving Parlor" within 15 minutes and after dissolving partnership with a tourist berth on the Western Pacific. "Shave!" inquired he of deft action and peculiar maneuver.
"Shave," responded your Uncle Hiram.

I striped and prepared for the ordeal. It came in short swift curves and festive gyrations.
"Neck Shave?" interrogated he with razor and foam.
"Yep," I reluctantly responded.
"Massage?" whispered the man at the helm.
"Sure thing." Responded your Uncle Hiram.
"Tonic" interrogated that man behind the chair.
"Two of them," retorted myself.
"Wet or Dry Comb?" Once more inquired the man.
And I shrieked in his long, pale ear the answer, "Both."

When I arose from the dissecting table and an eternity of doubt and uncertainty to place my person once more on the inside of a free man, this idolator at the shrine of the almighty American dollar confronted me with a bill for $6.75 for services rendered.

When I gazed upon that bill with my two pale blue eyes I thought I should then and there proceed to faint. It was the most supreme effort at awfulness I have yet encountered. Full grown throbs tumbled over each other to find an abiding place within my bosom.

I walked up to the altar in front of the cash register and placed thereon the munificent sum of fifteen cents, jumped twenty seven feet through the door, dodged a hard hearted policeman, and boarded a Market street car, without bidding the pail faced Israelite in charge,—Poor Jew: No flag, no home, no country—Nothing but money, "a fond farewell.

I was a poor orphan, far from home and the endearments of mountain trout and sage hens three times per twenty four hours; miles and miles from Krooked Kreek and its everlasting murmur and charm and thrill, and festive esper. But the artists who endeavored to pry a piece of filthy coin from your uncle Hiram's underwear in the "Modern Shaving Parlor" will never forget that Hiram is something of a barber himself.

I then went to the Joss House in Chinatown to transfer all of my sins and the sum of two bits for absolution pure and complete. The joss is a good, old pagan deity, manufactured in Hong Kong, with powers conferred by his manufacturers to forgive the smoking of Oriental dope in the fraction of an Irishman's pipe, and to convey the souls of yellow men from the here to the great over there with dispatch and safety.

Then I went to a department store to purchase, purloin or otherwise possess myself of a pair of soft pink cuff buttons for Old Quartz. One young lady clerk who was also intensely interested in said roof, "I'm a Rube". And the other young lady clerk giggled in several languages and responded, "I'm a Rube." I there and then satisfied the gray matter within my noodle that they were flirting with your uncle Hiram and that is a thing which I permit no woman to do with impunity.

I gave them both a "copy of the
