MAKE CITY BEAUTIFUL

It is gratifying to see so many citizens adopt the City Beautiful move since the last appeal in the Examiner to the people to slash the noxious weeds. However, it is not time to quit yet as there are still too many weeds left.

During the meeting of the Central Oregon Development League Lakeview will be host to one of the largest delegations that has ever been her lot to entertain. Advertising means results. Now is the opportune time to advertise by cleaning up your property and putting everything in the most presentable shape. Every remote section of the town will be inspected by the visitors and their judgment of its citizens will be based upon the appearance of their residences and surrounding conditions. Bullard street, the main avenue to the base ball park, and one that will be traversed by hundreds of people during the ball tournament is in a very unrepresentable condition. This is mainly rendered unattractive by the growth of weeds that have been allowed to stand on either side of the street. Seems that it would be a timely suggestion to ask the city council to look into this circumstance, as well as the weeds that are left standing along the sidewalks in some of the more prominent parts of town and to urge property owners to have them destroyed. Bullard street is also in bad condition for automobiles. This too could be greatly improved by a little work judiciously applied.

We have been advertising for people to come to Lakeview to attend this meeting. And they are going to come. Now it remains the duty of the citizens to adopt every method to improve the conditions and add to the attraction of the town. The public is very hard to please and these visitors after going away are going to tell outside people just what they found here, so it is up to us to make everything just as pleasing as possible. It will not only be a public good but a private benefit.
