G. Banonker editor of the Bonanza Bulletin, accompanied by Fred Hanson, of the same place, are in attendance at the Development League meeting.

H. Bailey, county commissioner of Crook county and a resident of Laidlaw, Tuesday evening joined the bunch of jolly fellows in Lakeview from that enterprising town.

Judge H. C. Ellis, of Crook County, is attending the League meet, being a delegate from Bend. He is an enthusiastic booster for his section, as well as for all of Central Oregon.

The weekly edition of the Examiner is out today, and it contains all the happenings of the week, besides. Much other interesting matter. Order a copy sent to your address.

Jason S. Elder, forest ranger, is in town from the Gearhart country. He says that so far no forest fires have been started save one at Mill flat near Bryan's which was soon extinguished.

Hon. P. S. Stanley, who is well known throughout the State as a lumberman and a promoter of irrigation enterprises, as well as an all round good fellow, is in town attending the League meet.

J. C. Oliver, of the West Side has started his header. Wm. Carter and Geo. Nelson will start Friday. One of Geo. Nelson's boys of the West Side has been very sick with ptomaine poisoning.

E. R. Reams president of the Klamath Chamber of Commerce, and wife, accompanied by Henry Rabbes yesterday afternoon arrived from Klamath Falls to join the happy throng of boosters already here.

D. B. Campbell, an extensive property owner in and a thorough booster for Klamath Falls is paying Lakeview his first visit. He is very much impressed with the country and it proved a great revelation to him.

J. D. Mariner and wife and sister-in-law, Miss Susie Springer, came up from Reno on Tuesday's train. They remain with us about ten days. Mr. Mariner said that about sixty-five people came up on his train.

H. C. Schultz of the Clover Flat section was in Lakeview yesterday and says that his crops are excellent this year. Off of sixty acres of barley he says he is confident of harvesting almost two thousand bushels.

O. U. Metcalf, of the traffic department of the S. P. and who can enumerate his friends by the score, was suddenly called away from the convention yesterday morning by a telegram that demanded his presence in Reno.

Kent Ballard, wife and son, of Klamath Falls swelled the big bunch already from that lively town. Klamath wants the next meeting of the Development League. And we would like to know who can take it from them.

A big mass meeting was held at High Grade last Saturday night to arrange for a big celebration on Labor Day. Post Master Fairchild was made chairman, and W. H. Slyton, Secretary of the meeting. Committees were appointed to provide for the exercises which will consist of Broncho Busting and other sports, a drilling contest, and ball at night.

W. H. Shell proposed a force of volunteer men to clean up the road into town on Sunday morning, which was agreed to. On Sunday morning a force of fifty men responded with 50 pounds of dynamite, donated by Mr. Joseph Guyot, and before night they had blown out all the rocks and stumps, and had a first class road into town proper.

Mr. L. B. Ross, of Texas has been in camp for a week, investigating its merits in the interests of London Capital. Mr. Ross built the Cripple Creek Electric Railroad, and has been active in mining and other Western enterprises for many years. Mr. Ross is associated with Geo. B. Mechem and Charles McCourt, of San Francisco, in the district in a general way.

In Company with Mr. McCourt, he returned to Frisco Monday morning.

Wm. Nance, is busy arranging to incorporate a company to operate the Hobo group in Gold Basin.

This group possesses rare merit, and has all the earmarks of making a great mining property.

Mr. Nance is thoroughly up to date in his ideas of mining, and has sufficient spare energy to operate half a dozen great mining enterprises.

The Gold Basin country received State Mineralogist Storms' hearty endorsement when he visited that section last week, since when much activity has been apparent.

The display of ore at the High School is an exhibit that attracts much attention. Samples from the Monarch mine of the Gaylord group near Paisley make an excellent showing while the same is true of those from the High Grade district. Of course, the later is the most prominent because of the interest now being taken in that section, but experts pronounce the Gaylord ore fully as promising as that from the other district.

FIRST GAME OF SERIES IS TODAY

Exhibition Game Yesterday Between Lakeview and Alturas Nines

Another exhibition ball game was played yesterday afternoon on the diamond between Lakeview and Alturas. The game stopped in the first half of the eighth with a score of 17 for Lakeview to Alturas 5. The contest was so one sided that it really detracted interest from the game. This afternoon a game will take place between New Pine Creek and Alturas. This will mark the first game of the series for the big buses. Some misunderstanding arose over the scheduled game to take place between Lakeview and Reno and the latter nine has withdrawn from the tournament. This leaves to compete for first, second and third money, Lakeview, Pine Creek, and Alturas.

Suit for Damages
Alturas Plaintiff: A suit against the N.-C.-O. Ry. will be filed this week by Mrs. Alice Ramer in the U. S. District Court for Nevada for damage resulting from the killing of her son last April.

A prominent legal firm at Reno has been employed to prosecute the case. There can be no doubt but that the death of the young man resulted from the criminal carelessness of the engineer, and we hope ample damages will be recovered.

C. S. Jackson, publisher of the Portland Journal is among the Portland delegation in Lakeview this week and was a very pleasant caller at the Examiner office while in the city. This country held a great surprise in store for him and he expected Lakeview to be a little village instead of a modern little city.

Let the Examiner figure on your next Job Printing.
