boiled, roast beef in large quantities, high stacks of loaves of bread, olives, pickles, cheese, butter, cakes innumerable, lemonade in 40 gallon barrels, 40 gallons of the best grade of ice cream, sherbert, etc., fruits ripe peaches and apricots by the box, topped off with bit cigars for everybody. This was more than the most optimistic ever expected. And the appetite that one is possessed with when out in the pines and fresh exhilarating air. People fell to eating with a viciousness that looked desperate for the supply, but after everybody was ready to go home there were still goodies left untouched.
After luncheon which lasted for several hours and all day for some, the band gave two selections, followed by a few remarks by Chairman Dan Godsil, who ably acquitted himself in that capacity. Mrs. Frank Schmidt sang two songs one of which was the Star Spangled Banner. Mrs. Jonas Norin completely captivated the throng with the rendition of that beautiful old song

STATE PAMPHLET SENT TO VOTERS

Many Measures is Discussed Pro and Con in Official Publication

The official state pamphlet containing a copy of each of the measures, Initiative or otherwise to be submitted to the people in November, together with arguments for and against these measures, has just been issued from the office of secretary of state. It will be sent to each of the registered voters of Oregon. The pamphlet is really a booklet of respectable proportions because of the unusually large number of measures. The pamphlet containing twenty four proposed acts two proposed amendments to existing laws, fifteen proposed constitutional amendments, four general referendum measures, and considerable space is used on the highways and blue sky measures.

"Where the River Shannon Flows." Both pieces were heartily anchored and were followed by other appropriate selections. Short addresses were delivered by Attorneys Batchelder and W. Lair Thompson and Judge H. Daly. Each of these able orators laid particular stress upon the occasion of Labor Day celebration and did themselves proud in lauding this purpose and complimenting the Irish boys upon taking the initiative in its observance here. Dr. Daly's remarks relating to the early history of Ireland were very interesting.

The result of the Irish Picnic can be covered with that one big word, success, and success was due to the combined effort of all the Irish contingent and especially to Dan Godsil, Dan F. Brennan, Jack Burke, Jack McAuliffe, Dave Jones and Tom Murphy, all of whom labored untiringly to this end. Mrs. W. K. Barry, whom everybody knows took an active part in the affair and deserves special commendation for her work.

The Irish boys did it all and they did it so quietly and creditably that it was nothing short of marvelous. They asked nothing and gave everything. The manner in which the affair was so smoothly handled, without a hitch or friction to mar the merriment was a source of admiration and comment of everyone in attendance.

It is stated that the boys intend to make the celebration an annual event, and this is the earnest hope of everybody who attended the picnic last Monday.

SUGGESTIONS FOR PARENT AND PUPIL

Co-operation Necessary For Best Results During the School Year

Monday morning, September 16, is the date set for the opening of the Public and High Schools in our town.

The buildings are in almost complete readiness and school will not be molested only by the adding of some furniture that has not arrived. The small building on the lot in the north part of town has been calcimined and painted, new seats installed, and everything ready for occupancy.

The first and second grades are to attend at this building this year, and all the grades above the second, will be arranged for at the New High School building.

The old building will not be used there being sufficient room without adding the extra expense of keeping up a third building.

The first day will be spent in getting classes adjusted and making graduation of new pupils.

After the classification of pupils, a list of books will be handed each pupil, so he may purchase and be ready for school the next day.

It is suggested that parents do not buy new books until the lists are handed out, thus avoiding possible mistakes.

Pupils from a distance will not need to bring a lunch Monday as there will be no school in the afternoon; this will give time for both teacher and pupil to prepare for further work.

The aid of the parents is solicited in trying to have all pupils present the first morning, so they may be registered and classified, also receiving lesson assignment.

The outlook for a good school is splendid and by proper co-operation on the part of the pupils, parents, and teachers, the anticipated result is assured.

the fool-ish farm-er

Once up-on a time there was a fool-ish farm-er who had a hen. "Now," thought he, "if I can buy a dozen eggs and have the hen sit on them, I shall soon have a dozen chick-ens. These, in turn, will lay more eggs, which will become chick-ens, and by-and-bye I shall have a poultry farm. And they tell me there's mon-ey in poul-try."

So the farm-er went to a neigh-ber and said, "I want to buy a doz-en eggs." The neigh-ber re-plied, "I have-n't any eggs, but they say that car-rots have all the prop-er-ties of eggs—I'll sell you a bunch of car-rots for al-most noth-ing."

So the fool-ish farm-er took the car-rots and set the hen on them. The poul-try farm did-n't pay ex-pens-es that year.
