

FREE FRUIT LAND AT PAISLEY

Don't Be Afraid of U. S. Government Carey Act Irrigation Projects in Oregon--

The day of irresponsible irrigation companies in this state is past. When the Northwest Townsite Company of Philadelphia took over the Paisley Project in Lake County, it gave the largest bond ever given in the state—fifty thousand dollars—guaranteeing completion of the project. Every three months it makes an itemized statement of expenses to the Desert Land Board. All of its advertising books, maps, contracts, subscription agreements and literature is submitted to the Desert Land Board for inspection before being issued.

THE LAND IS LEVEL, FREE FROM ROCK, AND IS A RICH VOLCANIC ASH SOIL. The climate is perfect for fruit, which now grows to perfection at Paisley.

Apples, Peaches, Plums, Pears, Prunes

Construction work upon the dam and reservoir has now been in progress for three months with Thomas Hawthorn, State Inspector, on the ground. He was formerly with the U. S. Government Reclamation Service on the Umatilla Project.

Send for 32 page illustrated book. Go to Paisley by automobile stage from Bend and see the land. Our agent at Paisley, Hugh K. Gilmore, will show you the land. It is free to those who pay the cost of putting water on it.

Northwest Townsite Co. are among the largest taxpayers in Oregon, owning townsite subdivisions at Prineville, Madras, Redmond, Bend, Burns, Vale and also the 840-acre Conn ranch at Paisley, including a 50-barrel-a-day capacity flour mill, and general store.

Woman's World

Miss Mailey, Socialist Candidate For Governor.

MISS ANNA AGNES MAILEY.

The Socialist candidate for governor in the state of Washington is a woman—Miss Anna Agnes Mailey. This very efficient and clever lady was born in Minnesota thirty-nine years ago. Reared on a farm, at thirteen Miss Mailey went to Minneapolis, where "she worked for her board" and attended school until a three years' course in the high school was completed. After graduating she taught in country schools until she was twenty-two years of age, when she took up stenography.

Later Miss Mailey returned to school, doing special work at the University of Minnesota and in the Rand School of Social Science of New York city. From 1900 till 1911 she was a special organizer of women for the National Socialist party. For the past year she has been connected with a Socialist paper published in Washington state.

Miss Mailey is already in the field campaigning, and she is regarded as likely to run second among the candidates for governor, and her election is not impossible if the old parties remain split, as they are at present.

"I care nothing for myself personally," said Miss Mailey recently. "It is the principles, aims and methods of the National Socialist party that I desire to see succeed. Our party has stood upon this unmodified platform since its organization—social ownership and democratic control of the socially necessary industrial property."

Queen Mary "Sassed" by Lady Constance.

"Lady Constance Stewart Richardson, the beautiful young woman who danced over here some time ago, has offended Queen Mary," said a diplomat's wife, according to the Washington Post. "She actually told the queen to stand out of the light at a picture exhibition."

"Lady Constance, you know, is capable of anything. They are telling an anecdote about her at the Bath club."

"She was walking in Piccadilly the other day—so the anecdote runs—and a young man attempted to pass her on the right when she also turned that way. The young man veered to the left, and Lady Constance did the same. And there they stood for a minute or more, overcome by that ridiculous something which makes two people face to face on a wide sidewalk dodge simultaneously this way and that without being able to pass each other by."

"Lady Constance after nine or ten of these awkward movements smiled demurely and said:

"Well, I'm sure if you want to dance I don't mind. But what's it to be—the turkey trot or the grizzly bear?"

Memorial to Mrs. Decker.

The women of Colorado will probably erect a memorial in the form of a woman's building at the State university to the life and work of Mrs. Sarah Platt Decker. The movement was started by the alumnae of the university, and Mrs. Decker was enthusiastic about it. The building will be for the use of needy women students at the university. Mrs. Dewey C. Bailey, president of the Denver Woman's club; Mrs. James D. Whitmore, a past president, and others will attend a meeting at which the matter will be discussed and the memorial idea take form. Mrs. Whitmore says in regard to the proposed memorial, "I know that its erection to her memory and in honor of her life and work would be the most fitting and beautiful tribute within the power of the womanhood of Colorado to bestow."

Said About Womankind.

Life is not long enough for a coquette to play all her tricks in.—Joseph Addison.

If a fox is cunning, a woman in love is a thousand times more so.—Proverb.

The happiest women, like the happiest nations, have no history.—George Eliot.

A mother's prayers, silent and gentle, can never miss the road to the throne of all bounty.—Henry Ward Beecher.

A good tempered woman, of the order yeelpit buxon, not only warrants a pair of expansive shoulders, but bestows our approbation of them.—Lelgh Hunt.

PARALLEL ROADS ACROSS CASCADES

A dispatch from Bend to the Oregon Journal says, reports reach Bend from across the mountains that engineering parties, representing both the Harriman and Hill interests, are engaged in surveying a line up the McKenzie river, eastward from Eugene, with the apparent intention of establishing a route across the Cascades connecting with the Central Oregon roads at Bend. There are several parties of surveyors, numbering in all about 75 men. The most easterly camp is located at Vida, a small place some 30 miles from Eugene. Other camps are established near Waterville, 15 miles further west. Two surveys are being worked out, each following the immediate valley of the McKenzie. There is said to be keen rivalry between the two parties, recalling the competition seen a few years ago, when both systems began building up the Deschutes Canyon.

Statement Necessary

Restrictions on newspapers and all other publications except religious, fraternal temperance and scientific periodicals are made in instruction just received from Washington.

It is specified that any article, news, editorial or otherwise, for whose publication money is received or for which there is hope of pecuniary reward, must be plainly marked "advertisement."

It is also directed that every newspaper must make affidavit at intervals as to the names of its editor, business manager, owners, stockholders, bondholders, mortgagees and other interested, and must publish the affidavit after having filed it with the postmaster.

Business conditions are getting brighter every day, in the Pacific Northwest. The lumber industry has never been more prosperous. So heavy is the demand for lumber that the price of logs is advancing steadily. The supply houses also report a brisk sale of mill machinery and equipment. The farming districts of the several states have heavier crops than ever before. To move them, the railroads are adding to their rolling stock. So material is the increasing freight business of the Oregon-Washington Railroad & Navigation Company that it is adding a $100,000 addition to its freight house facilities in Seattle.
