THE EXAMINER IS THE OFFICIAL PAPER OF LAKE COUNTY

VOL. XXXIII

LAKEVIEW, LAKE COUNTY, OREGON, NOVEMBER 7, 1912.

NO. 45

LAKEVIEW COUPLE QUIETLY MARRIED

E. F. Cheney and Lora Barry Wedded By County Judge Daly

Mr. E. F. Cheney and Mrs. Lora Barry stole an unsuspecting march upon their many friends last Thursday evening by repairing to the office of County Judge Daly and becoming quietly joined in the bonds of wedlock. The ceremony was performed at precisely 6:15 o'clock by Judge Daly.

The happy bridegroom, Mr. Cheney, needs no introduction through our columns as he has resided in this valley several years where he has become well and favorably known. He is proprietor of the Cheney Harness and Saddle Shop in Lakeview, which he has conducted for sometime, besides owning considerable land interests on the West Side and a beautiful home in this city. He is identified with public interests and has served as a member of the city council at different terms.

Mrs. (Barry) Cheney has been a resident of Lakeview a number of years and during her time here has gained the respect of a large circle of friends. She is a daughter of Mr. Harrington, of Ft. Bidwell, Calif. She is a lady of most affable nature and social refinement.

The Examiner joins with the numerous friends of Mr. and Mrs. Cheney in extending congratulations and in hoping for them a prolonged life of happiness and prosperity.

LIGHTS TO BE ON SATURDAY NIGHT

Long Delay Caused By Parts Having to be Manufactured

N. P. Jensen, of the electric light plant, was up from New Pine Creek yesterday and stated while here that Lakeview would get lights Saturday night this week. The town has been in darkness for the past two weeks, and patrons of the system have been greatly inconvenienced by this dark period. He said that he has assurance that the necessary parts which are coming from Pittsburg, Pa., would arrive in time to have everything in readiness this week.

The recent trouble was caused by the armature coils of the dynamo burning out, which Mr. Jensen stated had been badly worn for some time, owing to the over charges the plant has been carrying. He said the residence district would probably be taken off for a night or two, but that the new repairs would place things in shape to light the entire town when once installed.

REUTER CAPTURES CANADIAN PRIZES

Central Oregon is Again Winner at Dry Farming Congress

Oregon beats the world as a dry farming country, according to awards given exhibits from that state at the International Dry Farming Congress which closed, Oct. 27 at Lethbridge, Alberta, and Tillman Reuter, of Mudras, Ore., is the man who put his state so prominently upon the dry farming map. He crossed the line into the Canadian country taking a carload of what experts pronounced to be the finest dry farming products they had ever seen.

Reuter was awarded the sweepstakes in the following classes:

Best sheaf of barley; best individual exhibit of all kinds of grains; best grasses and forage; best ninety-day corn; largest potato.

Three first prizes were awarded him besides, as follows: For the best six-rowed barley; best Spring rye; best three year's growth of alfalfa and sand-vetch.

This is not the first time Tillman Reuter has won a "world series" in the dry farming field. He first appeared in the limelight in 1910 at the first International Dry Farming Congress, which was held in Spokane, Wash. Reuter at that time, had been a resident of Crook County, Ore., about three years. He went there as a homesteader, and quickly as the great possibilities of the volcanic soil as a producer. "You see my father was a chemist before me and I took to it naturally." That is the secret to his success in dry farming. He analyzed the soil and found what it would produce best. Thus he went to work farming his land and when the first dry farming congress opened in Spokane, Reuter was on hand with an exhibit that surprised the dry farming world. At that time there was not any railway running south from the Columbia river into Central Oregon. Reuter hauled his wagon load of products fifty miles to the nearest railway and in that way got his prize-winning products into the Spokane exposition. He took down twenty three prizes at that Congress. Last year, at the International Dry Farming Congress held in Colorado Springs, Reuter carried off thirty four prizes. Reuter is prouder than ever of his accomplishments this year, because, as he says, he backed Canada off the boards. Reuter is a thorough American and feels that he has done something for the Stars and Stripes in making Canadian dry farmers take a back seat.

MRS. R. H. CLELAND DIES IN LAKEVIEW

Death Comes at Ripe Age of Seventy-Three and One-half Years

It is with a faltering hand that we pen the death of so many honored pioneers, who it seems are being steadily stricken from the ranks that are decreasing year by year. The pioneers, pathfinders, soldiers of fortune, who played an important part in carving the future of this great country from a wilderness, their deaths we record in deep sorrow.

In the death of Mrs. Roxanna Hawley Cleland Sunday evening in Lakeview marks the passing of another pioneer lady of the West. She died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Wm. Gunther, with whom she has made her home for several years. Mrs. Cleland lived to the ripe and useful age of 73 and a half years, but despite her age was always full of life and activity. Death was directly caused from a bad cold contracted a few days prior to her death, which developed into a severe case of grippe.

Roxanna Hawley (Bull) Cleland was born May 1, 1839, in Benesear County, New York. She crossed the Plains with her parents in the year 1859 by wagon route locating at Yreka, California, at which place she married David Cleland eleven years later. Nine children were born to the union, three of whom survive her demise. D. U. Cleland of Plush, Oregon; Samuel P. Cleland, of Los Angeles, Calif., and Mrs. Wm. Gunther, of Lakeview. Two brothers of the deceased are also living: James H. and John O. Bull, of Edensvale, Calif. They were formerly of Lakeview and are well known in this section. Mrs. Cleland had been a resident of Lake county since 1883.

The funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the family residence, being conducted by the Rev. A. F. Simmons, of the Baptist Church.

Buys Cattle in New Mexico

James Dodson returned last Saturday from an extended trip through Texas and New Mexico, where he bought about 4000 head of cattle. He will feed the stock in New Mexico this winter and market them in the Spring, probably in California. He says the feed is excellent in that state and that grass on the range stands about twelve inches high. Mr. Dodson also said that conditions were most flourishing throughout the southwestern states and that money is plentiful and times exceptionally good. He will return in a few days to receive some of the cattle that he bought.

Russia is now said to be in a great stir over the news of a daring but frustrated plot to arrest the Czar and force him to abdicate the Russian throne. The Admiral, the Czar's favorite, commander of the imperial yacht, committed suicide when he was warned by telephone that the police were about to search his quarters.

WILSON AND MARSHALL

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATES CARRY FORTY STATES IN UNION

SO. WARNER DRY---COGSWELL CREEK WET

Oregon's State Ticket Solidly Republican-- Equal Suffrage Wins and Single Tax Defeated--County Returns Are As Yet Incomplete

Regardless of the old proverbial phrase that democrats only vote on fair days, while republicans vote whether it rains or snows, and stormy weather prevailed last Tuesday, according to reports, over nearly all the western and middle states, Governor Woodrow Wilson, democrat, of New Jersey, was elected to the presidency of the United States and Thomas N. Marshall, Governor of Indiana, vice President, by an electoral vote that will likely exceed the 300 mark.

While as yet returns are somewhat tentative, it is definitely settled that Wilson has carried 40 states in the Union, giving Roosevelt six and President Taft two. Roosevelt was successful in Pennsylvania, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Michigan and Washington; while Taft carried Utah and Nevada.

A dispatch from San Francisco says that returns from 1520 state precincts in California out of 4372 gives Wilson 90,553, Roosevelt 85,285 Taft 662, Debs 11,020. This ratio, and according to later reports gave Wilson a plurality of about 12,000 votes in the state.

Portland, Oregon, November 6.—Wilson is safe in first place in the state, with Roosevelt second and Taft third. The United States Senatorship is any man's contest, with less than 200 votes separating Harry Lane, democrat, and Ben Seiling, republican, both of whom

First District, W. C. Hawley, republican; Second District, N. J. Sinnott, republican; Third District, A. W. Laferty, republican-progressive. The entire republican state ticket is elected.

Early reports from the State of Oregon stated that Equal Suffrage gave indications of carrying by a nice majority, while the Single Tax measure was badly defeated. The returns from no other measures have been received.

As to the Lake County election according to eight precincts heard from the total vote stands as follows: The precincts received are North and South Lakeview, Thomas Creek, Cogswell Creek, Goose Lake, Crooked Creek, Paisley and Drews Valley. Taft, 179; Wilson, 207; Chafin, 4; Debs, 50; Roose, alt. 185.

For Representative in Congress Second District: Sinnott, republican, 152; Graham, democrat, 133; Cleaver, prohibition, 56; Abercrombie, socialist, 46.

For United States Senator: Seiling, republican, 209; Lane, democrat, 166; Bourne, independent, 41; Clarke, progressive, 8; Paget, prohibition, 81; Rann, socialist, 82.

LOW CATTLE RATE MADE ON N.-C.-O.

Will Induce Stockmen To Bring in Cattle for Winter Feed

In order to give the farmers of Goose Lake Valley and vicinity an opportunity to dispose of their surplus hay the Nevada-California-Oregon Railway has succeeded in establishing a very low rate from southern points to Lakeview on stock cattle. The new tariff, effective December 10, is $35 per car for 12 car lots or more from Reno and $27.50 from Doyle, Calif. The new rate is against $32.50 as the former price from Reno. There is estimated to be between three and five thousand tons of hay in Goose Lake Valley over what is necessary to feed local stock this winter. It is estimated that it requires about one ton of this hay to winter an ordinary cow brute. Based upon this report there is sufficient hay in this valley alone to feed about 4000 head of outside stock the coming winter season.

There is a vast feed shortage reported throughout California at present, and it is thought that this liberal reduction in rates will be a sufficient inducement for lower stockmen to bring their cattle here for winter feed.

Handsome Present

Col. F. P. Light, of Hotel Lakeview, is the grateful recipient of a handsome watchfob that was presented to him by sixteen friends. The fob is fitted with a polished elk's tooth and gold elk head set with a small diamond. It is a most beautiful insignia of the elk order and makes a gift of which anyone would well be proud. A framed certificate of names of the donors was also given Mr. Light. Frank is very appreciative of the token and takes great pleasure in exhibiting it to his friends.

INFORMATION FOR KILLING RABBITS

Department of Agriculture Suggests Poisoning and Trapping the Pests

For the benefit of those who are interested in the extermination of the jack rabbit pest we publish the following letter of valuable information received by Mr. J. A. Donovan, of Lakeview, from D. E. Lutz, Assistant Biologist of the United States Department of Agriculture. Mr. Donovan states that the pamphlet referred to in the letter has not as yet arrived.

Washington, D. C.
October 14, 1912.

Mr. J. A. Donovan,
Lakeview, Oregon.

Dear Sir: Your letter of October 5, inquiring about methods of destroying rabbits, has been referred to this Bureau for attention. In response to your request we are sending you a small pamphlet on the rabbit as a farm and orchard pest, which contains hints for their destruction which may prove useful to you. All methods of inoculating rabbits with diseases have thus far proved unsuccessful. They may be effectively poisoned in the following manner:

Dissolve an ounce of strychnine sulphate in a pint of boiling water. To this liquid add a half an ounce of borax and a pint of thick syrup. This mixed syrup will keep indefinitely. The syrup should be poured over oats of good quality and the grain should be left about 24 hours to take up as much of the poison as possible and then distributed along the paths and runs where the animals are abundant. Another successful method of poisoning rabbits is to insert dry strychnine in pieces of apple and distribute them along the runs.

Where rabbits are plentiful they may be trapped in large numbers about alfalfa or other stacks. A rabbit-proof fence of woven wire poultry netting is first built around the stack. Outside this, and several feet distance from it, another rabbit-proof fence is built, which contains box openings through which the rabbits may pass in but not in the opposite direction. The boxes have a wire fall or grating at the inner end which closes the opening after the rabbits have passed through.

Hoping that these hints may be useful, I remain

Very truly yours,

D. E. Lutz,
Assistant Biologist.

Mr. Donovan, who is recently from San Francisco, has interests in Lake county, and noticing the numerous rabbits in this valley and particularly in the vicinity of Paisley, appealed to the Department of Agriculture for a method to effectively kill them. The contents of the above reply to his inquiry should be carefully considered by all farmers who are bothered by the pests, and if the fight against their existence is persistently carried on by all, it will no doubt prove a solution for their permanent extermination.

RINEHART GETS THE MAYORALTY

Vote Was Heavier Than Any Ever Polled at City Election

An unexpectedly large vote cast at Tuesday's city election, according to returns, as were tabulated up, resulted in electing the Citizen's Ticket straight giving E. E. Rinehart mayoralty of the city; electing Wm. Wallace, recorder; A. Bieber, treasurer; and J. P. Duckworth, W. F. Grob, Lee Beall and Dan Godsil, as councilmen. There were 304 votes polled which is the largest number ever cast at any previous election. There were four tickets ushered into the field just before the polls opened. Two of these were labeled The Peoples Ticket, one Citizens Ticket, and one Republican. Following is the lineup of each ticket, and the number of votes cast for each candidate, according to the official bulletins as posted:

CITIZEN'S TICKET.

For Mayor, E. E. Rinehart, 128.
For Recorder, Wm. Wallace, 244.

Sam'l Bailey, 51.

The votes for councilmen of names written in, were: F. P. Light, 1; E. H. Smith, 2; E. F. Cheney, 1; George Johnson, 1; E. E. Rinehart received one vote for Recorder, as did F. W. Payne.

California Ducks Diseased

According to a dispatch from San Francisco, California game ducks are dying by the thousand of a disease new to sportsmen and scientists. After a careful examination of the bodies of six ducks found dead of the disease at Vista Lake, Kern county, the United States bureau of health is unable to make a diagnosis, but finds that the symptoms resemble those of an epidemic on the Great Salt Lake in which it is estimated that 1,000,000 ducks died.

Bacteriologists are making further tests on dead ducks brought from preserves in El Dorado marsh. In the last stages of the disease, the birds look and act as if they had been starved to death. They do not eat and become so emaciated that they cannot fly at all and can barely move in the water.

HIGHWAY ACROSS STATE IS PLANNED

Association for Purpose Recently Organized at The Dalles

Some exchanges contain the information that the Inland Highway Association was organized in The Dalles a short time ago and that the purpose of the organization is to aid in building a substantial highway from that place through Central Oregon. The proposed road is to come via Wasco, Shaniko, Prineville, Fort Rock, Silver Lake, Paisley, Lakeview and on to Alturas. It is also said that a branch will run from Prineville to Crater Lake and Klamath Falls.

One of the features of the highway will be the placing of signboards wherever needed. The road will be extensively advertised to attract tourists and homeseekers and sport lovers.

In the event that this great hope should be realized it will mark the opening of this inland empire to a broader and better civilization, and will be a factor for opening markets for the farmer. It is a laudable enterprise, and now that is once definitely announced, no effort should be left undone in agitating its construction.

The Chewaucan Press says, while out hunting for deer last Sunday, Frank Dobkins came upon three bear but was unable to capture any of them. He was hunting in Innes canyon at the time. The bear were discovered in the afternoon and he chased one of them until dark but was unable to get a shot.

DIAZ IS AWARDED DAMAGES BY JURY

Prosecution Closed in the Willis Furniture Fire Insurance Case

In the case in the Circuit Court last week of Bartholomew Diaz vs. Joe Ambrose, suit to recover damages for alleged slander, the jury allowed plaintiff $250.

The Willis Furniture Co. vs. the Horticulture Fire Relief of Oregon case for fire insurance, is still on trial, the prosecution having closed yesterday. The defense was opened yesterday evening and it is thought that the case will require about another day to finish.

The grand jury was to have been recalled Wednesday to return a true bill against J. Bertuca for larceny of money, but owing to the absence of Mr. Calderwood the grand jury has had no session.

FUNERAL OF C. U. SNIDER, SATURDAY

Procession Was Joined By Members of Three Fraternal Orders

Last Saturday at 2 o'clock p. m. the last rites in the memory of the late Charles Ulm-Snyder were performed. The funeral ceremonies were conducted by the Lakeview Lodge No. 71, A. F. & A. M., escorted in the procession by the Lakeview Lodge No. 111, A. O. U. W. and Lakeview Lodge No. 63, I. O. O. F., of which orders Mr. Snyder was a member in high standing. He was also a member of the auxiliary of each of these orders, but the inclemency of the day prevented the ladies from marching in the funeral procession, other than from the lodge rooms to the family residence, from where the funeral was held.

The members of the three fraternal orders joined by the long list of mourning friends made a long procession and an impressive funeral. The steady and silent tread of that mass of sorrowing humanity on their march to the cemetery marked the esteem and respect of the one whose remains they were proceeding to the last resting place.

Mr. Snyder's life was full of usefulness, and he has left for his fellowman an example that may well be emulated.
