Oregon's Result Gives the

Democrats

The positive announcement of the victory of Harry Lane, the Democratic candidate, for the U.S. Senate from Oregon, as soon as the machines were made over at the Union Hotel, has made victory for the Democrats in the Senate inevitable.

The addition of Oregon to the Democratic column in the Senate, or a majority by no means, is sufficient to give the N.-C.-O.

control of the Senate. In addition to the votes of all the states in which they are in the majority;

the Republicans have the states of Pennsylvania and Maryland.

According to latest information from state headquarters at Portland and through other channels, Democrats will give State Fever in Oregon, New York, Kansas, Colorado, Montana, and Delaware.

In addition to the elections of Senators in Oregon and Utah, the inquirers will be interested in the returns of the local elections in those states, but the result in either will be of small importance. In the November election.

The returns in both states were similar, and there is no reason to expect that either will be changed materially in the coming weeks.

White 50 or 10 members at the Legislature is the result of the November elections.

In most of the states there will be more members now than there were in the past. Some of the majority, according to the returns, will be in the minority, and some of the minority will be in the majority.

In the United States Senate, the Democrats will have 52 members, and the Republicans will have 48.
