HOW TO PREPARE SEEDING HOTBED

Convenient Way To Do
Away With Sowing
Seed In Boxes

It is such a laborious process to raise cabbage and tomato, as well as other early plants, from seed sown in boxes in the house, and it is so little work and expense to have a hot bed, says the Rural Spirit. In many localities this should be done at once. Make a small one of two sash if you cannot afford more; it will pay well. In the warmer sections of the country it is now time to make the hot beds, but it should not be deterred later than the middle of March in any locality. Fresh horse manure mixed with an equal amount of straw, chaff, or leaves should be used. Clear manure is too nesting, but usually there is enough of the straw with it as it comes from the stable. Stir occasionally for a few days before putting in the frames so as to break up all lumps. This is for the foundation and should be two feet deep in the frame. It is well to dig down a foot before placing the manure and then build the frame high enough to give the right depth to manure and soil and give room for plants, building higher on side to allow a slant to the south. In dry climates, the whole depth of the manure may be dug out, so as to save loam. Tramp the manure in firm, making a little higher in middle. Put on sashes for a day or two so as to let the manure warm up, pouring on a little water to hasten the process, if necessary and then cover with from six to eight inches of fine, rich soil and then let that warm up. Prepare the soil for seeds by breaking with fine rakes and then sow seed.

ASSAYS MADE OF HIGH GRADE ORE

Fair Test Shows Rock Carries Values in Paying Quantities

The Bidwell Gold Nuggett gives the following about High Grade ore assays: Some assays have been made recently of the low grade ore in the Sunset mine which show up well. Of course the richer streaks were eliminated from the samples. Samples sent to Geo. A. James Company at San Francisco, show the following gold values. Drillings, $62 blue ore, $02; quartz, $39 27; silver, $1.46; making a total of $40.73 to the ton.

Frank Cutler, manager of the Modoc made assays which showed: Screenings $3 20, drillings, $2 40 in the bottom of the winze, while the blue ore in the winze ran $9 20. Ore on the dump showed $9 60. High grade samples from the north and south walls of the vein went on an average of $48.

CUPID WORKS OVERTIME

They begin life's journey under favorable auspices and the Examiner joins their many friends in congratulations and extending best wishes as they embark on life's rugged voyage together.

Maitland-Bertrand
Mr. Willis F. Maitland and Miss Alice Bertrand were united in marriage last Saturday evening. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. A. F. Simmons at the Baptist parsonage.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Joseph Bertrand of Lakeview, and Mr. Joseph Bertrand, who is at present employed in the Indian schools at Ft. Bidwell. Mr. Maitland has been in this city the past few years during which time he has been employed in different local stores. He is an expert window dresser by vocation and will be employed by the Lakeview Mercantile Company when they move in to the Herford building. They will make their future home in Lakeview.

Both are estimable young people who have numerous friends with whom the Examiner joins in wafting warmest congratulations.

Post-Watson

The Baptist parsonage was the scene of another wedding Sunday afternoon at two o'clock when the Rev. A. F. Simmons performed the ceremony that united in wedlock the hearts of Miss Inez Watson and Mr. William C. Post. The wedding was a quiet affair it being witnessed only by near relatives and a few intimate friends of the contracting parties.

The bride is the eldest daughter of T. E. Watson of this city. She is well and favorably known in this section, she having resided here a number of years. The groom is the eldest son of Peter Post, one of Lakeview's substantial business men. He has been here the past few years during which time he has made many friends. They have taken up their residence in Lakeview. The Examiner joins with their friends in extending congratulations.

Governor Gets Revenge

In a summary of the principal mistakes and irregularities charged against Governor West in his official capacity from time to time by the Portland Telegram, that which heads the list is that he has used his official power to be revenged on personal and political enemies. Because Senator W. Lair Thompson, of Crook, Klamath and Lake, as a Representative in 1911, opposed his policies on the floor of the House, the Governor vetoed all of the Thompson bills. Not content with this he afterwards caused the discharge of Thompson as attorney for the State Land Board at Lakeview.

State Budget Made

The budget submitted by the House Ways and Means Committee providing for the maintenance of the executive, judicial and other departments of the state totals $1,224,716.90. The items cover every department of the state, among the largest being $90,000 for Supreme Court $165,000 for Circuit Judges; $1260,000 for District Attorneys; Railroad Commission, $700,000; for the legislative expense, at this session, $62,500, Board of Forestry $75,000.

Madero Killed

Former President Francisco J. Madero of Mexico and former Vice-president Jose Pino Suarez were killed Monday night while being taken under guard from the national palace to the penitentiary. The circumstances surrounding the death of the deposed president and vice president of the republic are unknown, except as given in official accounts which seem to vary in some cases. The only witnesses were those actually concerned in the killing. Some reported that the prisoners attempted to escape and were shot in the act. The "forgive law" is a fearful thing and is apparently being practiced frequently in Mexico.

COURT BILL IS PASSED

Viewed from any standpoint, it is certain that a big fight is coming between the Governor and the Legislature.

Among the important bills that were adopted by both Houses last week appear the following:

Resolution to submit to the voters in 1914 the question of making the term of county officials four years.

Providing for a tax levy of one fourth of a mill on the taxable property of the state, to create a public school fund. This is to be distributed pro rata to the county schools.

Repealing the State Printer flat salary law and substituting the competitive contract system, to take effect in May 1914.

Bill that provides to send an expert into every county by the state tax commission at least once a year and for checking of all books where public funds are kept.

These bills have been signed by the Governor.

Sterilization bill.

Creating the office of secretary to the governor at salary of $3000 a year.

One of the important house bills signed is No. 433, which creates the state board of control and places all the state institutions under the supervision of this board.

Consenting to the purchase of the locks and canal at Oregon City.

Creating a state board of accountancy. This bill was defeated once in the house, was later resurrected and passed and now becomes a law. It provides that only the public accountants who pass the examination prepared by the board can use the title "Certified public accountant."

Providing that the school board in any district in the state may provide for and maintain continuation of evening schools.

Regulating the sale of liquor on Sunday.

Relating to mining corporations.

SWAMP LAND BILL LAW

Forbes of Crook, detailed the features of the bill, showing that it provides for the sale of the land by the State Land Board, composed of Governor West, State Treasurer Kay and Secretary of State Oicott. Forbes declared that they should be able to handle the case well; if not, "they should quit."

Nearly all of the lands concerned are in Klamath, Lake and in Harney Counties. It is estimated that there are 150,000 acres of the rich-est lands in the state included.

Chautauqua Notes

The Chautauqua Rally program given last Monday evening in the High School auditorium was both very interesting and entertaining. The Chautauqua Circles appreciate the interest shown, and feel grateful to those who so kindly assisted.

The Lakeview Chautauqua Circle will meet at the home of Miss Gertrude Vern on Monday evening, March 13, at 7:30 o'clock. Program, roll call; current events:

"The Science," Powers, chapter XI, Mrs. L. Vanderpool.
"Leonardo, the Magician of the Renaissance," Powers, chapter XII, Miss Gertrude Vern.
"Drama Through the Centuries," Smith, chapter VII, Mrs. Harry Bailey.
"The Century of Discussion the Eighteenth," Smith, chapter VIII, Mrs. A. Bieber.

Band Dance Successful

The Lakeview Bard, under the direction of their leader, Jesse Darnell, made a trip to New Pine Creek last Friday evening and gave a Benefit Dance. Despite the inclemency of the weather a large crowd greeted the boys, both from Lakeview and New Pine Creek, and all reported having had a fine time. At midnight supper was served at the New Pine Creek Hotel by Mrs. Cora Nissen and about three o'clock the dancers departed. The New Pine Creek people were both pleased and surprised at the music rendered as the band has been organized only a short time and most of the members are amateurs. The Band expects to give a Benefit Dance in Lakeview in the near future and is deserving of a large attendance.

High School Notes

Don't forget, "The Feast of Seven Tables" at the School House Friday night.

"There is victory in defeat" that is the feeling of the Basket Ball team which was defeated here Saturday night.

Parents are asked to look over the report cards which were given out this week. Perhaps they may assist in raising some of the grades.

The Art Exhibit has again been postponed but will be given at the Assembly room March 12-15. Material is beginning to arrive so we are sure of the exhibit on this date.

The night school is progressing nicely. A new pupil has registered and the interest of all is good.

RABBITS CAUSE A SERIOUS PROBLEM

J. F. Hanson Says Pests Are Numerous Near The State Line

The rabbit question is proving a serious one with J. F. Hanson, of the Point Ranch. Mr. Hanson states that the pests are literally swarming in his neighborhood, and as a consequence he is doubtful as to the advisability of seeding several hundred acres of his land which lies adjacent to the rabbit infested district. Much of his land is surrounded by raw sagebrush lands which have not been cleared, and the sage brush affords cover for many thousands of rabbits. As soon as the grain comes up the rabbits swarm into the fields and practically eat the entire crop, or at least that is what they are likely to do this coming season, for never before have they been nearly so numerous.

Mr. Hanson will fence a portion of his ranch with rabbit proof netting, but he deems it impractical to enclose all of his ranch in that manner. He is of the opinion that a small bounty should be placed on the pests, for in that way more would be killed. The location of Mr. Hanson's ranch makes it impractical to have rabbit drives, inasmuch as the distance from Lakeview is too great to get a sufficient number to participate in making a successful drive.

Paisley Pick-ups

(Chewaucann Press)

D. B. Conrad made a business trip to Lakeview the first of the week.

Mr. Guy Foster is soon to remove to the desert north, in the interest of his father in herding cattle for the coming season.

Mr. McCormack started the plow on his ranch last Saturday. Others will soon follow.

Carl Ewing has erected a new house on his homestead, and will soon move his family into it. He says he will attend to ranching this year.

The Ladies of the Library Association held donation day last Friday and secured 52 books and $19.50 in money. The town is now assured of a public library.

Frank Harris and family who have been in sunny California during the winter will soon return to their ranch home on Summer Lake. Mr. Harris has improved so much in health that he thinks he will be fully able to resume his ranch work. He had rented the ranch to Fred Foster and son, Guy.

ALTURAS TEAM VICTORS

Campbell, Ralph Williams, Warren Caldwell, Kenneth Wells, and Jess Pierce, while Clarence Orem, Legal Bartling, James Thompson, Willard Heminger and Marshal Ayres constituted the Lakeview team.

The Alturas team arrived Friday evening and the members were entertained by the pupils of the Lakeview High School. On arrival they were escorted to the High School building and assigned rooms about town. After the game Saturday evening a reception was tendered the visiting team at the building, and a short program rendered. Saturday refreshments were served by the Domestic Science class of young ladies, and the visitors expressed themselves as highly pleased at the entertainment afforded them during their stay.

Extension Work Favored

If Governor West signs the bill granting an appropriation of $50,000 for agricultural extension, it will become a law. Both branches of the Legislature have now put their seal of approval upon it. There was little opposition to the bill when the House was considering it.

This is believed to be one of the best measures passed by this Legislative session and those who have been deeply interested in its passage are jubilant, as it is declared to be a most important bill. Under its authority the Agricultural College will be enabled to extend its work to ever county in the state, each county to receive an amount from the funds appropriated by the Legislature equal to what the county gives for such work.

According to reports the local sheepmen are causing considerable uneasiness about securing help this Spring to care for their flocks. County Stock Inspector Malloy is in receipt of letter from Sheepman McDade at Steins Mountain asking him to send out five men. Mr. Malloy says he was unable to find any men, and stated that he had no hopes at present of finding that many men who wanted work.
