INDIAN FIGHTERS WILL GET RAISE

Pension Will Be Increased Without Need of Application

Indian War veterans who are entitled to the benefits conferred by the act of February 19, 1913—the Richardson bill—granting an increase to $20 per month—will not be required to make application in order to receive the increase, according to the Commissioner of Pensions. In a letter to Representative Hawley the Commissioner advises that veterans now on the pension rolls under the acts of July 27, 1892; June 27, 1892, and May 30, 1908, will receive the additional money with their regular vouchers at the next payment. The pensions will date from the enactment of the law.

The Commissioner suggests, however, that all Indian War veterans who have been allowed pensions under special acts should advise him of their length of service, and whether previously pensioned under the general law.

HOW TO SECURE ISOLATED TRACTS

Applications to have isolated tracts ordered into market must be filed with the register and receiver of the local land office in the district where the lands are situated. The applicant must deposit with the receiver, in the form of cash or postal money order, an amount equal to the value of the land based upon the minimum price fixed for public lands which will be ordinarily $1.25 per acre, or $2.50 per acre if within railroad limits, or such price as may be fixed by special statute governing the disposition of the land applied for. The receiver will issue receipt therefor and deposit the money to his credit as "unearned money." Should the applicant be the successful bidder at the sale, he will be given credit on the amount bid for the sum deposited with his application, and the receiver will apply the same as a part of the purchase money. If applicant is not the successful bidder, the receiver will return the sum deposited by his official check. Should the applicant withdraw his deposit, his action will be treated as a withdrawal of the application for sale and will be promptly also reported by the local officers.

Money so deposited will not be returned by the receiver after the receipt of the letter from his office ordering a tract into the market until the sale is finally disposed of either by entry of the land, its sale to some one other than the applicant or no sale.

Applicants must show by their affidavits, corroborated by at least two witnesses, that the land contains no salines, coal or other minerals; the amount, kind, and value of timber or stone thereon, if any; whether the land is occupied, and if so, the nature of the occupancy; for what purpose the land is chiefly valuable; why it is desired that same be sold; that applicant desires to purchase the land for his own individual use and actual occupation and not for speculative purposes and that he has not heretofore purchased under section 2455, Revised State use or the amendments thereto, isolated tracts the area of which, when added to the area now applied for will exceed approximately 60 acres; and that he is a citizen of the United States. If applicant has heretofore purchased lands under the provisions of the act relating to isolated tracts, same must be described in the application by subdivision, section, township, and range.

No sale will be authorized upon the application of a person who has purchased under section 2455 Revised Statutes, or the amendments thereto, any lands the area of which, when added to the area applied for, shall exceed approximately 160 acres.

Only one tract may be included in an application for sale, and no tract exceeding approximately 160 acres in area will be ordered into the market.

No tract of land will be deemed isolated and ordered into the market unless, at the time application is filed, the said tract has been subject to homestead entry for at least two years after the surrounding lands have been entered, filed upon, or sold by the Government, except in cases where some extraordinary reason is advanced sufficient, in the opinion of the General Land Office to warrant waiving this restriction.

The officer before whom such affidavits are executed will cause each applicant and his witnesses to fully answer the questions contained upon the accompanying form and, after the answers to the questions therein contained have been reduced to writing, to sign and swear to same before him. The affidavits of applicants to have isolated tracts ordered into market, and of their co-owning witnesses, may be executed before any officer having a seal and authorized oath in the county or land district in which the tracts described in the applications are situated.

"THE COUNTRY BEAUTIFUL"

We take the beauty of the country for granted. While the organizations in the cities are vigorously agitating plans for the city beautiful the country and village have been allowed to go untouched. Attractiveness is a decided commercial asset to the farm and village and deserves to be made the subject of special endeavor. Organized efforts are essential since nothing short of a concerted community plan will bring results worth while.

Beginning with highway improvement, roadside planting, laying out the grounds around schools, churches and grange halls, the removal of hideous roadside signboards, the draining of mosquito breeding pools near public places, the campaign must go on to include the education of the people of the neighborhood to the essentials of an attractive farm, gateways, drives, trees, lawns, the care of a place to conserve its neatness.

Here is work for the granges, the farmers' clubs, the village organization and the individual.

A COMING PROFESSION.

Sumter Sets Lead With City Manager Advertisement.

So far as our knowledge goes, the city of Sumter, S. C., is justified in claiming that it has introduced "a new and coming profession," says the Scientific American. Through the secretary of its chamber of commerce that enterprising community has announced that applications will be received for the office of city manager of Sumter. From the brief summary of the requirements for this office we gather that the applicant should be competent to oversee public work, such as paving, lighting, water supply, etc.; that an engineer would be preferred; that he must state what has been his previous experience in municipal work; that he will have complete administrative control of the city, subject to the approval of a board of three elected commissioners, and that he will hold office so long as he gives satisfaction to the commissioners; that his work will be purely that of an expert and that he will be entirely free from political control; finally, although local conditions and tradition will be taken into consideration, local citizenship will not be necessary.

Form Town Planning Association.

Following a two day conference at Edmonton, attended by delegates from the principal cities and towns in the province of Alberta, a Provincial Town Planning and Housing association was formed. The objects of the new association are "to aid municipalities in their improvement and extension whereby a proper development of the town or city on hygienic and artistic lines may be assured and the securing of legislation looking to this end." It is the last clause quoted which expresses the supreme object of the new organization. From first to last the convention emphasized the urgent need of legislation if the cities which have taken up town planning are to realize their ideals of a more convenient, a more healthful and a more beautiful city.

Street Tree Guards.

The most effective guards for young trees are made by driving in the ground four strong wooden stakes about two inches square and covering these with wire mesh. These guards should always be as high as the tree, and care should be taken to make necessary additions to the height as the tree grows. The municipality should have charge of all street tree protection and provide suitable guards for all.

YOUR BABY'S HEALTH depends on its nourishment

In nature's original plan, infants were nourished by mother's milk, but in our modern civilization this is often neither possible nor even advisable.

Falling the natural food, one instinctively turns to cow's milk, but this cannot always be used, as owing to its variable quality and the heavy, indigestible curd, the delicate stomach of a young baby cannot always digest the nutriment which it undoubtedly contains.

In such cases

BORDEN'S Malted Milk
IN THE SQUARE PACKAGE meets every requirement.

It contains six times the nutrition of ordinary milk, but the curd being broken up by digestive agents in the malt every particle of nutriment is easily absorbed by the very youngest.

WHEN Things cost more, opportunities to buy economically are worth more. No housewife in this city, who feels and knows the slightest hardship on account of high prices, can afford to remain blind to the weekly opportunities of saving offered to her by the advertising merchants. These alive merchants are often able, through effecting quick and large sales of an article, to cut the selling price to very nearly cost price. The housewife should see that when they do this the volume of quick sales will always repay them. Watch Examiner Ads week by week. It pays.
