LAKEVIEW COUPLE QUIETLY WEDDED

Dan O'Connors and Miss Mellie Vernon Were Married Sunday

A quiet wedding was solemnized Sunday last at the Catholic rectory which united in marriage Miss Mellie Vernon and Mr. Daniel O'Connors. The ceremony was performed by Father Kern, S. J., in the presence of witnesses only. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Vernon of this city and is a charming young lady of many accomplishments. She is a trained nurse by profession and recently returned from Salem, Or. where she learned and has been following her profession the past few years. The bridegroom while he has been here but a comparatively short time, to those who know him in this city, is considered one of the substantial and coming men of the community. The congratulations on the happy event are numerous and the Examiner is greatly pleased on this occasion to add its hearty good wishes to those being so freely extended.

DENTAL OFFICES MODERNLY FITTED

Dr. W. Hayden Fisk Has Latest Equipment in Heryford Building

Dr. W. Hayden Fisk was the first professional man to open offices in the Heryford building, he having opened dental offices therein some two weeks since. His offices are very pleasant, being finished in white throughout and furnished with the latest equipment. Everything is operated by electricity, a mouth lamp, antrum lamp, root canal sterilizer, cauterizer and hot air syringe being operated from the switchboard, while an instrument sterilizer, electric engine, air compressor, lathe and dentiscope are also included in the equipment. It is no doubt one of the best equipped offices on the Coast outside the large cities, and therefore much of a credit to Lakeview, as well as the doctor himself.

In conversation with Dr. Fisk an Examiner representative learned a few things that might be of interest to the general public, applying as they do to all engaged in the practice of dentistry. Dentistry as a profession is always enlarging its sphere of usefulness, and

ADEL RESIDENTS HOLD MASQUERADE

Many People Turn Out and Enjoy Big Social Jollification

Adel, Ore., March 22.—(Editor Examiner). As we have not noticed much in your paper of the doings in our little neighborhood, I will try to give you a few of the latest stunts that have pulled been off here lately, and let you know we are still on the map, even if our precinct is "dry." While we are cut off from the outside world by the snow in the mountains we have been enjoying the finest kind of winter weather, with the roads dry and dusty for some time, and while we live in the wilds of Warner we are certainly not ashamed of it. We have had some very pleasant "house warmings" here and do not have to go through snow and mud to attend them.

The latest was a mask ball given by the Base Ball Club on the 14th, and it will be remembered by all of us as a great success. Those who masked and the characters represented were as follows:

Mrs. J. N. Givan, Dawn; Mrs. Frank Conlan, Dancing Girl; Mrs. Frank Myers, same; Mrs. M. M. Caldwell, Wall Flower; Miss Hazel O'Neill, French Doll; Mrs. J. A. Morris, Mrs. E. L. Messham and Miss Myrtle Wible, Colored Dancing Girls; Mrs. O. W. Jacobs, Polly; Miss Hattie Morris, and Miss Florence Morris, Good Luck; Miss Rachel Clark, Shamrock; Miss Helen Caldwell, Hearts; Mrs. John Cronin, Coman; Miss Katy Gibson, Columbia; Mrs. Wm. Gibson, same; Pete Deisnorth, Clown; Jack Hannan, Watkins Peddler; Dad Caldwell, Clown; C. F. Caldwell, it; M. Jacobs, and Jennings Caldwell, Hobos; Frank Meyers, Indian Chief; Chas. Morris, Little Injun; Dalley Givan, Sailor Boy; Virgit McCall, Ray Clark and Lloyd Henderson, Base Ball; Arthur Parker, Base Ball Manager; M. H. Caldwell and E. L. Messham, Jim Jeffries; Raymond Morris, Buster Brown; Bill Morris, Little Injun; Billy Cays, George Washington; Dwight Fasket, Wasn't There; A. O. Kelley, Got In Late.

J. N. Givans, representing the Native Sons of Warner Valley, led the grand march and the music was furnished by Prof. McBroom and James Wakefield. At 12 o'clock the floor manager announced that there would be a short recess and tables were set in the hall and we all stood up to one of those good old fashioned basket suppers that the Adel ladies are noted for furnishing. Everything was declared a success from start to finish, and the affair was greatly enjoyed by all.

As we have not mentioned the names of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Calderwood among the masker, will say that Mr. Calderwood explained that a nine pound daughter had arrived at their home on the morning of the 13th, and now Tom wears the big smile and expects all the big boys to call him Mr. Calderwood. Mother and daughter are getting along nicely and Papa is convalescent.

Very truly yours,
Adel Reporter.

Tuberculosis Cure

The Public Health Service has issued its first statement relative to the Government investigation of Dr. Freidmann's alleged tuberculosis cure. The statement emphasized the government to proceed cautiously, and the public is informed of the inadvisability in a great many cases of traveling long distances in the hope of receiving treatment. Considerable time will be consumed in determining the merits of his treatment and in deliberating upon granting the doctor a license to practice in this country.

consequently demanding improved mechanical aids. Not only is the dentist required to observe destructive influences and repair damage already done, but he must know the hidden causes which are latent and may become active. Today diagnostic investigation extends not only to the teeth but to their correlated parts. For that reason the antrum lamp has a great value. With it the antrum, alveolar and root conditions can be clearly seen. The hot air syringe, used on hyper-sensitive teeth, accomplishes that which nothing short of an anesthetic could do, making it possible to treat the most sensitive teeth. Compressed air is a great factor in treating disease in its earlier stages. The use of solution in spraying under a pressure of 35 pounds pressure is of vast importance in medicating depths otherwise inaccessible. The electric sterilizer makes possible the sterilization of all instruments, thus avoiding the introduction of septic matter without. The enlarged jaw after the extraction of the tooth is an indication that antiseptic treatment has not been given.

A much more extensive explanation of modern dentistry could not be given, but the foregoing will indicate to the public what steps are being taken for the preservation of their teeth, which indirectly means good health.

HARRY C. HUNKER CAPTURES BRIDE

Laundry Man and Miss L. A. Bosworth United in Marriage

At the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Bosworth last Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, was solemnized the marriage of their daughter, Miss Louise Adaline, to Mr. Harry C. Hunker.

Rev. A. F. Simmons, pastor of the Baptist church, pronounced the ceremony in a most beautiful and impressive manner. A sumptuous wedding feast was prepared for the few invited guests, and the newly married couple were the recipients of numerous presents and remembrance tokens which were both handsome and valuable.

The bride, like her husband, is a member of and sincere worker in the Baptist church, and is held in high esteem by her friends and acquaintances. She has been a resident of Lakeview about three years during which time her gentle and affable nature has gained for her a host of friends.

Mr. Hunker has resided here the past few years and is proprietor of the Lakeview Steam Laundry. He is a steady and industrious young man of sterling good habits and by his persevering qualities will doubtless meet with success in his efforts.

The young couple are at present residing at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bosworth. The Examiner joins with their friends in extending congratulations and best wishes for a happy and prosperous life.

Presbyterian Dinner

Those who failed to partake of the chicken dinner given last Friday evening by the Presbyterian Ladies Aid in the banquet room of the Masonic building certainly missed a feast of some consequence. The ladies provided an elaborate menu of chicken with all the trimmings that was highly appreciated by the patrons. In addition to the dinner a program was afterward rendered in the lodge room upstairs, consisting of music by Darnell's band, and singing and recitations. The disagreeable weather was a detriment to the affair but regardless of this the ladies realized a reasonable profit for their work.

After Old Subscriptions

According to a recent news dispatch from Alturas N. J. Barry of Reno representing J. G. Harrison, has filed suits in the Justice's Court against C. L. and J. W. Brown, H. L. McGrath, G. C. Howell, J. H. Stewart, N. A. Cornish, Postmaster Negley and other celebrities, on notes given several years ago to the Chamber of Commerce on account of subscriptions to buy railroad rights of way and depot sites for the extension of the N.-C.-O. from Lakeview to that place.

Other suits over the notes have been pending in Court for several years.

Catholic Church Services

tion of Christ is intimately and absolutely identified with the life and the history of the Church. It is the breath of its being, its very soul. It has for centuries moulded the thought, the ideals and the lives of millions.

"The sons of two thousand Easter mornings light with a stender blaze the torch of faith in the Incarnate Son of God, enkindle a purer flame of love for the King and the Redeemer and emblaze in letters of living light over the portals of the tomb the undying hope of our own final victory through the merits and power of Christ, over death and the grave."

The speaker then went on giving the historian and scriptural proofs of Christ's resurrection concluding with the words: "Division is in the camp of doubt and infidelity. The world calmly sets aside the groundless hypotheses and flimsy theories of unbelief. A thousand Easter bells flinging out their joyous tidings: 'The Lord is truly risen,' drown those discordant voices. We may still challenge the enemies of Christ's resurrection with the splendid words of Augustine the great light of the 4th Century: 'Let them explain, or, with us, let them believe.'

"Let those be confounded who admit and express in the tenor of their lives no essential difference between themselves and the brute, those who do not believe in Christ's resurrection are gravelling on the dust of this earth with none but the dreary outlook of death and putrefaction but we who have built the structure of our life not upon sand but upon faith in the infallible word of God, we see in Christ's resurrection the consoling assurance of our own glorious immortality with the Church and with the Apostle we believe 'that this corruptible body must put on incorruption and this mortal body immortality' and we exclaim today with the Apostle of the gentiles 'Thanks to God who has given us the victory through Christ our Lord, Amen.'

DOUBT IN TARIFF AFFECTS MARKET

Radical Revision On Wool Would Be Serious Says Grower

Constant agitation by the Democrats in Congress over the wool and lumber tariffs has resulted in an unsteady market, especially on wool, says the Oregonian.

Buyers and market manipulators are eager to seize upon the possibility of tariff changes to bull the prices. That is what is the matter with the wool market today.

Yet the manufacturers declare that while the tariff may have a serious effect on the sheep industry it won't affect the price of clothing—and that seems to be the only object of revision of Schedule K which carries the wool tariff—downward.

"A difference of 20 per cent on the wool tariff," says E. L. Thompson, manager of the Portland Woolen Mills, "would not affect the price of clothes 50 cents, but it would play havoc with the man who is raising the sheep. It would be just enough, probably, to make him operate at a loss."

Leo Friede, president of the Prineville Sheep and Land company, speaks from the standpoint of a grower. He says that while a reduction in Schedule K may be harmful to the sheepmen it can be no worse than the uncertainty of constant agitation such as confronts the country today.

"Congress ought to begin action immediately after the special session opens," he declared. "That would relieve us of the uncertainty."

"I don't care much what they make the tariff, just so they fix the figure and let it stay there. It can't be much worse than at present."

"While the Ryane Aldrich tariff specifies a duty of 11 cents a pound on wool, the bill has a joker in it and we have to compete against the foreign wools to a higher grade with the result that we are operating, in effect under a duty of only 5 cents a pound."

"There ought to be a reasonable tariff on wool, or the sheepmen will be driven out of business. Sheep will be raised merely as mutton and wool will be a by-product."

Easter Services

Holy Week, beginning with Palm Sunday, was observed with much profit at the Methodist Church. The great day was Easter Sunday. The church was tastefully and beautifully adorned with palms and flowers. The day began with a red letter day for the Sunday School, the largest attendance of the year, and an offering for the benevolent work of the church amounting to more than $4300 was made by the classes. The Young Men's class was the banner class with an offering of more than $11. Following this was the morning sermon on "The Risen Lord." This was listened to by a good sized and appreciative audience. All went away saying "it was good for us to be here."

The day was fittingly closed with a Cantata by the choir of the city, under the able direction of O. M. Gardner. The choir of twenty-six voices did exceptionally well and each member deserves great credit. The church was crowded with attentive and appreciative citizens, and all seemed greatly pleased, and many expressed themselves as gratified for the treat. It would do credit to a much larger place and shows what Lakeview can do.

The range of music is as the depths of the sea and the heights of the stars. It brings us as near the heart of the Infinite as we will come until we sing the "Home at last."

New Game Control

Hereafter the federal government will take a hand in fixing the open season for the hunting of ducks, geese and shore birds. This is a result of the passage of the McLean bill by congress recently.

This measure enables the secretary of agriculture to regulate the hunting of all birds which migrate from state to state.

It is not believed, however, that federal officers will interfere except in states where the game laws are not considered adequate.

SPECIAL ELECTION WILL COST MUCH

Proposed Referendum Election This Fall Stumps Officials

Predictions have been made by Secretary of state Olcott that, should it be necessary to hold in November the special election provided for by the Day bill, passed by the Legislature, it will cost the state between $60,000 and 70,000, instead of the $12,000 appropriated in the bill.

The object of this bill, when passed, was to give the people an opportunity of voting on measures passed by the Legislature which the referendum might be invoked, this Fall instead of two years hence. A serious question has arisen as to whether or not it will be necessary to hold the election at the time provided for, even though there should be no measures to be voted upon, as its provisions on the subject are mandatory. Another question which has arisen is as to whether or not, if the election is held, any constitutional amendments and initiative measures can be voted upon. W. S. U'Ren, of Oregon City, desires information on this latter subject, and so far neither the Attorney-General nor the Secretary of State has been able to advise him. The Attorney-General is now considering the matter of bringing a test suit to determine this question as to whether it will be necessary to hold the election even though there is nothing to be voted upon.

Evidently it was the intention of the lawmakers that the $12,000 appropriated should pay the expenses of holding the election. Investigations, however, disclose that this sum will but pay for the publicity pamphlets, and that the election, if held, will cost the people between $60,000 and $70,000.

Alturas New Era: It has been noticed that Marx Lauer has a lot of business at Lakeview. It may be that he is contemplating a branch store at that place, but he denies this report. At any rate there is some attraction there, and upon his return last week, he was heard to say that he saw more nice looking ladies and more nice costumes at the ball there, than he ever imagined were in the world.
