FOURTH OF JULY CELEBRATION

Now that the time is reaching opportune proportions for the discussion of such things some of our local business people are beginning to talk Fourth of July celebration in Lakeview. Happy thought!

Lakeview has not attempted to hold such a celebration since 1910, and by all means she should redeem herself this year. After a manner, the safe and sane Fourth idea has worked some in-itation in the observance of the Nation's birthday and such should be continued. This year Lakeview has the opportunity for holding a safe, sane and social celebration that will be the means of bringing many people to the town. Lakeview has been playing the part of guest for three years. And now why not for once the host. It is not necessary to advertise large purses for a baseball tournament. Such attempts have usually proven unsuccessful and even detrimental to the town and past celebrations. What we need is a program and festivities befitting to the occasion and hold a day that will be replete with merriment and entertainment for the guests of the town.

Mr. Citizen and Mr. Businessman, think this matter over! Keep talking it over and get the movement started.

A HAPPY HOME

People of means and good taste may make their homes perfect dreams of beauty, but they cannot make them too beautiful, as long as the comfort and happiness of the inmates are sought and promoted. Surely money cannot be expended to a better purpose than in making and adorning a home for one's self and loved ones and furnishing it with all that is calculated to foster in the inhabitants thereof of love of home, as well as a love of the true and beautiful and the good; and even poor people will best secure their own happiness by toiling and saving to acquire and embellish homes for themselves. There is a pleasure connected with home making that is rare, rapturous and absorbing, and love of home is as noble and ennobling a feeling as can still the human soul. We look for good things in a person in whom an ardent love of home has been developed, and hope for little from one who speaks indifferently or slightly of his home. We do well for our children when we make happy homes for them, which they will naturally learn to love.

The road along which the man of business travels in pursuit of happiness or wealth is not a macadamized one, nor does it ordinarily lead by pleasant scenes and well-springs of delight, on the contrary it is a rough and rugged path, best with "wilt-a-bit" thorns and full of pit falls, which can only be avoided by the watchful care of circumspection. After every day's journey over this rough turnpike road, the wayfarer needs something more than rest, he requires solace, and he deserves it. He's weary of the dull prose of life and a thirst for the poetry. Happy is the business man who can find that solace and that poetry at home. Warm greetings from happy hearts, fond glances from bright eyes, the welcome shouts from children, and a thousand little arrangements for our comfort and enjoyment that silently tell of thoughtful and expectant love, the gentle ministrations that disengage us into an old, easy seat before we are aware of it; these, little tokens of affection and sympathy constitute the poetry that reconciles us to the prose of life. Think of this, ye wives and daughters of businessmen. Think of the toils, the anxieties, the mortifications that fathers undergo to secure for you comfortable homes, and compensate them for their trials by making them happy at their own fireside.

WOOL AT STANDSTILL

Tariff matters are taking all the attention in the wool trade of the country at this time. Very little business is passing at any point. There is no pressure to sell among producers and absolutely no present inclination among the mill interests and speculators to take hold.

This is the first season for many years that speculators have been inactive in the wool trade at this period. This is due entirely to the uncertainty regarding the tariff. The fear is not so much as to the amount of tax that will be taken off the fleece, but to the uncertainty regarding it. Buyers have been working on such a small margin during the last two seasons that if they should purchase wool on a wrong guess regarding the tariff, and pay a higher price than they should, their losses will be severe. On the other hand, producers are not willing to shade quotations to any considerable extent. There the matter lies.

GARDEN-MAKING TIME

Now is the time to begin poking around in the sheds to see what tools are on hand for the joyful game of garden-making, which will soon be the most popular pastime. The old spade and rake and wheelbarrow have been in the discard so long that they are in need of a thorough overhauling before active operations begin.

Even if you only have a patch of ground two by four, plant something in it—something that is good to eat; if you don't Nature will plant weeds, for the air is full of a number of things in the Fall, including millions upon millions of tiny seeds sent forth by the weeds of valley and hillside; they find lodgement in the idle ground, and at the first breath of Spring begin to come forth a hundred-fold. The planting of vegetables or flowers will help kill the pests, and in a short time you will be rewarded for your work.

Surely the garden-making days are almost upon us. You should plant a little one, even if Congress in its great wisdom did not send you a package of seeds.

WHICH IS THE CHEAPER?

To spend $100,000, more or less, for a special state election to referend a state university appropriation of $215,000, would put a red taste in the mouth of Oregon people.

What if the $100,000 should be spent to beat the $215,000, and what if it should turn out that the $215,000 had been approved at the election? That is about what would happen, and then the cost to the people would be, not the original $215,000 university appropriation, but the $315,000 that would be made up of the appropriation plus the cost of the referendum election.

The best thing to do is to drop the plan. How would it look, anyway, for us to spend $100,000 in opposing education?

Wouldn't it look better to spend $215,000 for education than $100,000 in opposing education?

It is extremely edifying to observe that our own Senator Chamberlain, mindful ever of the interests of his constituents, is firm for a duty of 15 per cent on wool. He stands with his back to the wall resisting the ferocious onslaught of the wolves of free trade, and boldly raises the cry for moderate protection for a languishing industry. However, if he cannot get the 15 per cent duty, he will accept a compromise for no duty. His constituents will know in any event that his heart is right if his vote is wrong. Whatever he does and however often he acts against the interests of his own people, they may be assured that they have his deepest sympathy. He will give three cheers for them at any time.

Senator Lane is being deluged with telegrams from Oregon sheep and goat raisers in protest against the proposed tariff changes in these commodities. They demand at least 20 per cent ad valorem on wool and 40 on mohair. They declare the Underwood bill as to those commodities is not in keeping with the promises of the Baltimore platform of Oregon Democrats. Senator Lane is making the same reply to all, merely thanking them for the information.

Flook Ranch for Sale

I have an ideal Stock Ranch for sale. Situated 80 miles east of Lakeview, plenty of water. Cuts 150 tons of the best of wild hay, will sell on easy terms. For further particulars write or come and see. J. T. Flook, Delaine, Lake County, Oregon. A17-4t

Additional prizes are being offered for the children's industrial contests to be held in connection with the State Fair. Sums of money formerly offered are being augmented by attractive premiums that will no doubt induce many added exhibits. A list of prizes will soon be issued and circulated by the office of Superintendent Alderman, of the Department of Public Instruction.

A band of 2,800 sheep belonging to Dave Edler, of Klamath county, passed near town Wednesday, enroute from Crook county, where they wintered, to Bly.

Jack Embody and wife were in town Monday. Mrs. Embody has been snow bound at the sawmill for over three months, and enjoyed meeting her friends again.

F. M. Chrisman went to Bend last Friday in his machine. Mrs. Robinett, who has been visiting her son, at Summer Lake, accompanied him. From there she will go on to her home at Creswell.

NORTHWEST NEWS

According to the Bend Bulletin the following births recently occurred at Ft. Rock in the northern part of the county: To Rev. and Mrs. W. Theo. Mattock, a 10-pound boy, and to Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Cady, a 9-pound girl. Mr. Cady was a candidate on the republican ticket last year before the primaries for the office of County Clerk.

An anti-alien land ownership bill, designed primarily to prevent Japanese from acquiring title to real property, within the state of California, but so worded as to prohibit any alien from owning land more than one year except upon declaration of his intention to become a citizen, has been passed by the lower house of the legislature of that state.

Adin Argus: The Fernley & Lassen railroad is now within about ten miles of Susanville and the track layers stretching out a couple of miles or so every day. It will be into that place before the first of May unless the graders get in the way. Camps are now being established up Susan River canyon for the extension of the road.

Funeral services over the body of J. Pierpont Morgan were held at 10 o'clock Monday morning in St. George's Episcopal Church New York where he had worshipped for a half a century. Afterwards a special train conveyed the funeral party to Hartford, Conn., for final services at the Morgan mausoleum in Cedar Hill cemetery. The ceremonies were attended by 1500 people.

Alturas Plaindealer: Sheriff Smith went to the Fandangio Mills the latter part of last week and arrested W. R. Wilkinson, charged by S. S. Henson with forging his name to a telegram addressed to the Pierson Lumber Co. of Reno. The accused man was taken to Bidwell and will have a hearing before Justice Garrett. Wilkinson is Receiver of the defunct lumber company and as near as we can learn the affair is pretty badly mixed up. We therefore decline comments at this time.
