CREAMERY A CERTAINTY

H. A. TROEST WILL ESTABLISH A BUSINESS IN LAKEVIEW

Will be ready to receive first delivery of butterfat about July 1st—Deal has been closed for site on Center St.

Absolute assurance of a creamery to be built and operated here is the item at present that the people of Lakeview are heartily rejoicing over. H. A. Troest, an experienced creamery man arrived in Lakeview last week from Lamolille, Elko County, Nevada, and through the efforts of some of our citizens and especially Merchant Harry Bailey, W. H. Shirk, president of the First National Bank, and F. O. Bunting, all arrangements have been completed for the establishment of such an industry in Lakeview. Mr. Troest chose for his location two lots on the corner of Willow and Center streets, and these lots were purchased from H. W. Urenkel for $1200. The only concession he asked of Lakeview was for the citizens to subscribe $600 as half payment on the lots and he would pay the remaining half, erect a building and furnish all machinery and equipment. Taking him up at his own proposition, Mr. Bailey circulated a petition among the business men and readily received subscriptions for the required $600, which money is to remain in trust un-

GOVERNOR WAITS TO FIX SIGNATURE

Anti-Alien Land Holding Act Passed by California Legislature

The California anti-alien land holding act, which passed both houses of the legislature within twenty-four hours after bringing about one of the most unusual situations in the history of the nation, will lie on Governor Johnson's desk without his signature until Secretary of State Bryan can confer with President Wilson in Washington.

This will mean a delay of about a week. Secretary Bryan left the California Capitol Monday evening for Washington and would not have reached home until this morning.

Governor Johnson will wait "a reasonable length of time" for the protests from Washington, after which he will sign the bill. He is required by the law either to sign or veto all acts passed up to him by the legislature within ten days of final passage, provided the reacting body remains in session for that length of time. Otherwise, he has thirty days.

There is much speculation now as to the next probable step to be taken. It is generally thought that President Wilson will state his objections once more to Governor Johnson, and then seek through diplomacy to answer the possible protests from Tokio.

The Japanese embassy has been supplied with a copy of the alien land bill and the ambassador will employ the time between now and Secretary Bryan's return to Washington in preparing a formal protest against the measure. Apparently the embassy has no hope that any word from the president will influence Governor Johnson to withhold his signature from the bill, so the only object of the protest will be to acquaint the American people with the Japanese contention and, if possible to influence the executive branch of the government to nullify the action of the California legislature.

PRESIDENT FIRM FOR FREE TRADE

House Votes Down Substitute for Underwood's Non-Tariff Bill

That President Wilson intends to remain firm for placing wool, sugar, lumber and other Western products on the free list was indicated in his announcement to Senators Chamberlain and Lane after a three hours conference held last week with the Oregon and other Senators from the West.

By a vote of 186 to 88, the house voted down the Mann amendment which proposed to strike the free sugar clause from the Underwood bill, which gives that body's decision in favor of the president in putting sugar on the free list after three years. It is expected that the same action will be taken by the house on wool as on all tariff questions, which meets with little interest, as the vote is regarded as a foregone conclusion. The real battle will come in the senate. The vote by which the house caucus approved the bill is significant as containing evidence that the sugar, wool and textile interests have joined forces to fight the bill. If they can withstand pressure in the Senate from the White House and the caucus leaders, they may possibly compel adoption of amendments drawing its teeth. So long as the Senators have it in their power to prevent placing wool and sugar on the free list they will exercise that power, in view of the President's stand, but they will accept the Administration bill and shift the responsibility for the free list to the President's shoulders.

There are some Democratic Senators, satisfied they cannot cut down the Underwood free list, who are talking of adopting Senator Lane's proposal and attempting in the Senate to place on the free list manufacturers of wool and other Eastern products, contending that only in this way can discrimination against the West be removed.

CELEBRATION ASSURED

FOURTH OF JULY TO BE OBSERVED IN LAKEVIEW

Money will be raised and turned over to the Antlers Club, who will conduct celebration—Past events to be out done

Lakeview is to have a rousing Fourth of July celebration this year. This fact was settled at a meeting last evening of some of the representative business men of the town. The Antlers Club will have charge of and conduct the celebration, the citizens having expressed their hearty approval of turning the matter over to the club. A committee, composed of Harry Bailey, Jonas King and John Flynn was appointed to circulate a subscription list to raise funds for the purpose, and they will begin this work immediately. A good purse will be secured, which money is to be turned over to the Antlers Club and they are to use it to the best advantage in handling the celebration, making all arrangements for the programs and interesting features that will take place during the event.

The celebration gives promise of being the best to be held in this part of the country in several years. While the patriotic spirit in the observance of Independence Day will in no way be neglected, numerous side stunts which will add amusement and mirth

All plans in detail will be carried out with dispatch and announcements of the specialties of the program will be made as soon as it is prepared. At present suffice it is to say that Lakeview has one of the best Fourth of July celebrations in her history coming up, and let no citizen leave anything undone to bring it about.

GET READY FOR FARM EXHIBITS

Clackamas Gained Six Families By Showing in Minneapolis

Portland, Ore. May 6 (Special)—Word has already been sent out from the headquarters of the Oregon Development League urging that all sections of the state start early to arrange for exhibits at the Eastern land shows next fall. It is pointed out it is not too soon to start the work of judicious planting of crops, with exhibits in mind, so that the best products may be sent away in small quantities for this purpose.

A recent example of the effectiveness of this work has just come to light. Having become interested in the Clackamas County exhibit at the Minneapolis Land Show, six families of Minneapolis sent a man to Clackamas County to pick out suitable locations where they might settle. Actual demonstration of crops grown on Western lands is the best possible argument for immigration.

TENTATIVE DATES FOR LEAGUE MEET

August 15 Suggested as Time For Klamath Falls Assemblage

C. C. Chapman of the Portland Commercial Club has written to Secretary Lewis Wyde of the Klamath Chamber of Commerce, suggesting dates for the annual convention of the Central Oregon Development League, which will be held in Klamath Falls this summer.

The meeting will last three days and will be attended by representatives from all parts of Central Oregon. Plans probably will be arranged to take the guests on several tours of the County, including Crater Lake National Park and other places of interest. The letter to Mr. Wyde is as follows: "Time is flying, and if there is any expectation of having a large convention at the annual meeting of the Central Oregon Development League at Klamath Falls it would be wise to advise the date and do aggressive campaigning in the interest thereof. "As a tentative suggestion, I beg to submit the dates Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, August 19, 20 and 21."

IMPROVEMENT IN ROAD SUGGESTED

Viewers Find Better Route over Summer-Silver Lake Hill

Silver Lake Leader: Last week E. K. Henderson, assisted by C. S. Reed, J. S. Martin and A. E. Imbler, made an examination of the different proposed routes between Silver Lake and Summer Lake. The grade up the mountain on the north side, known as the double S, is very steep and dangerous, in two places being 19 1/2 per cent. By leaving the old road at the foot of the grade and going up the gulch some distance beyond the present road then swinging to the bench north of the double S a good road can be constructed for less money than it cost to build the old road, and in no place will the grade exceed 9 per cent.

The rocky hill on the Summer Lake side, where Mr. Keeney was killed by his wagon turning over, is a long hard pull. Going south, leave the road at the top of the hill and bear to the right for some distance then circle to the left, cross the old road just above the steepest pitch (which is 16 per cent) and on in an easterly direction, then curve to the right coming into the old road in the flat. In no place will the grade exceed 7 per cent. The work is light, and the cost will be small compared to the benefit derived.

These two places should be fixed the coming summer, for besides being hard pulls both are dangerous. This is the main road north and south through the county and is traveled more than any other. The grades suggested would be permanent and any minor changes made in the future would not affect this improvement. Let us all pull together and make some good road. There is no better place to begin.

Patrick Brown, a native of Ireland, who on his way to Lakeview six weeks ago was taken ill in Reno with appendicitis, arrived in Lakeview Monday evening. Owing to not being able to secure accommodations at a Reno hospital Brown was taken to the Hotel Golden where for three weeks he occupied two rooms. Realizing the young man's finances Mrs. Golden, proprietor of that popular resort refused to accept compensation for the rooms, having returned a receipted bill to local boys who made inquiry as to Mr. Brown's indebtedness. This act was very much appreciated by the Irish boys, and will not soon be forgotten.

EDUCATIONAL MAN WILL VISIT LAKE

N. C. Marris Will Hold Meetings in Interest of Fairs

N. C. Marris, Field Worker Industrial Fairs, Department of Education for Oregon will arrive in Lakeview Saturday from Klamath Falls and spend next week in this county in the interest of local school fairs as well as of the state fair at Salem.

He and County School Superintendent C. E. Oliver will hold public meetings over the county as follows:

New Pine Creek Monday May 12; Lakeview Tuesday May 13; Paisley Wednesday May 14; and Silver Lake Thursday May 15. The meetings will be held evenings and during the day he will visit schools and explain something of the splendid results to be obtained by assisting the children to remain on the farm and prepare for the work of country life.

Mr. Marris states that last year we imported $12,000,000 worth of butter; $1,000,000 worth of eggs and $15,000,000 worth of meat products. This, he contends, is largely on account of the exodus from the farms to the towns and our educational system is responsible in a large degree as we too often try to teach children to earn a living by their wits instead of the productive labor of their hands.

By establishing these local fairs we will dignify and popularize all legitimate labor especially that of the farms, and great results will accrue to all.

All parents and friends of schools and the home are urged to attend these meetings. After hearing Mr. Marris it will be easy to arrange a school day exhibit in connection with any Commercial Club or Development League.

The entertainment given by the pupils of the sixth and seventh grades in the High School auditorium last Friday evening was very much appreciated by the audience. Those who participated in the program showed marked ability and talent as well as the effects of careful training. Several other entertainments are being planned before the close of the present school year and they promise to be very interesting. The school programs are well worth attending and the proceeds derived are being expended for a good cause in buying property for the school.

The receipts of the evening were $54.80.

N.-C.-O. VS. DALY CASE DISMISSED

Demurrer By Defendant is Sustained By Judge Benson

The suit of the N.-C.-O. Ry. Co. vs. Hernard Daly, to recover $1600, the cost of the abandoned grade south of town, came up before Judge Benson this week, and was dismissed on demurrer by the defendant. It was alleged in the complaint that the defendant agreed to pay the cost of the abandoned grade on condition that the railroad build on its present survey. It has been held by the Oregon Supreme Court that the policy of railroad corporations in securing bonuses for the locations of their lines is against public interest, and therefore notes given in payment thereof cannot be collected. It was held that the cases were similar, hence the demurrer was sustained. James Glynn, of Reno, appeared for the railroad company, while Dr. Daly, who was admitted to the bar some time since appeared in his own defense.

INFORMATION SENT FROM LAND OFFICE

Prospective Settlers Are Placed in Touch With Homesteaders

The Lakeview U. S. Land Office is doing some excellent work in the way of furnishing information to prospective settlers. In addition to the circular letter, a copy of which appeared in the Examiner a few weeks since, Register Orton has received from the various Postmasters throughout the district a list of homesteaders who have made good on Government land and who will probably give desired information to prospective settlers in their vicinity. The list includes residents of Summer Lake, Fort Rock, Tule Lake, Merrill, Lapine, Arrow, Lake and other places. When information is sought from the Land Office, in addition to the circular letter the list above referred to is also included, and the prospective settler can then correspond with parties living in the particular section in which he desires to locate.

The plan is an excellent one, and can be profitably adopted by Commercial Clubs and other booster organizations.
