AUSTRALIA HAS IMMENSE WEALTH
Population is Comparatively Small But Exports Rich Products

Turn to the picture of Australia as she is today. The land in size is nearly five-sixths the area of the United States, containing 2,973,000 square miles against the 3,692,000 square miles of our country. But while in extent Australia stands as 29 to 36, in population she is only as 4 to 76. Of her 4,000,000 inhabitants only 200,000 are aborigines, whose number has been steadily declining, not because of hostility on the part of the settlers, but as if by inherent degeneracy in the face of the new conditions. Moreover, there are 4000 Chinese and half-caste Chinese, and in recent years restrictive measures have been adopted to prevent the ingress of Hindus and other Asiatic immigrants. The bulk of her people, of course, are colonists from England. Two-thirds of the Australian continent is a desert, and yet her productiveness is enormous. This land contains over 100,000,000 sheep, between 30,000,000 and 35,000,000 head of cattle and horses. It has given to the commerce of the world over $400,000,000 in gold, copper, coal and tin. The two provinces of Ballarat and Bendigo alone have produced $100,000,000 of gold and as much more has come from the great Tambaroora and Lambing Flat, in New South Wales. It sends to England annually over $40,000,000 worth of metals, grains, wool, beef, tallow, hides and mutton. Consider the sheep alone: Forty years ago the output of wool amounted to 8,000,000 pounds. Now, with a record of 700,000,000 pounds, Australia furnishes one-fourth of the world's wool, and of such a quality as to make it one-third of the total value. It is recorded that the early colonists used to kill their sheep simply for the fleece and tallow, leaving the meat for the dogs. Later they began to export canned mutton to the home country, but when cold storage was introduced Australia began her shipments of frozen mutton, which have grown amazingly, until in 1900 these exports amounted to 225,000,000 pounds. Meanwhile her shipment of time! meat steadily advanced, reaching last year 45,000,000 pounds.

Look for a moment over her mineral wealth for a year. Because of the war in the Transvaal and an immense mining development in West Australia, the new federation in 1899, with $60,000,000 output, led the world in product of gold. By constant gains her silver product has come to equal one-ninth of the world's supply. For the past year her total mineral output amounted to nearly $100,000,000, or $25 to every inhabitant. Her mineral possibilities in copper, tin, lead, antimony, iron, quicksilver and coal cannot be overestimated.—Ainslie's Magazine.

Stock Experiments
"It is estimated that the farm livestock of Oregon represents a total value of $32,645,942, thus indicating that the livestock industry is assuming very large proportions," says Dr. James Withycombe, director of the State Agricultural Experiment Station, in his biennial report to the regents of the Oregon Agricultural College. "With the exception of data secured from hog feeding experiments upon a restricted scale, there is practically no reliable information in this state as to the cost and best methods for fattening stock. It would seem, therefore that the time is opportune for this station to secure, at the earliest possible moment, reliable data regarding this important industry."
"Eastern Oregon is the great meat-producing section of the state; hence it would be desirable to conduct experiments in live stock feeding under conditions prevailing there. I would therefore earnestly recommend, first, that preparations be made to take up this work at the Eastern Oregon experiment station in co-operation with this station at the earliest practical date, and second, that three hundred acres of land not at present utilized for experimental work be devoted to the growing of forage crops for the special purpose of fattening stock."
