T. J. Little was down last week from the new mining district on Crane Creek. He has been working on his property about two years and says he has secured some fairly good assays from the samples. He is now sinking a shaft which he has down nearly 50 feet from which level he will crosscut.

J. F. Hanson and family returned Saturday from Los Angeles where Mrs. Hanson and children have been spending the winter. They made the trip up in Mr. Hanson's Dorris car which was driven by Paul Drenkel. Sunday they went out to their West Side Point ranch where they will spend the summer.

Friday evening at eight o'clock the Senior class of the High School will give their orations in the auditorium. The class consists of eight members each of whom will participate in the program. The class is devoting diligent study in preparing their respective orations and the occasion will be well worth attending. No admission will be charged public in general being invited.

Alturas Plaindealer: We learn from private sources that a phenomenally rich strike has been made in the Sunshine mine at High Grade. The information came through a miner employed at the mine, but the owners are not giving out any information. As a matter of fact, the Sunshine owners are a pretty close corporation and are not giving information of any kind.

The recent unearthing of a human skeleton on the east side of Warner Valley about ten miles from Adel has caused considerable speculation on our streets. Conflicting stories of the affair are being circulated, some contending that the remains are but bleached bones while others state that the flesh of the body is yet decomposed. Sheriff Snider and Coroner Wallace will soon make a trip to Warner and further investigate the case.

Dr. J. P. Schell, who for the past several months has held the pastorate of the local Presbyterian church, left Monday morning for S. Dakota where he has an engagement for the coming summer. Dr. Schell is a very pleasant and affable gentleman and during his stay in Lakeview made many warm friends among his acquaintances.

Japan, through Baron Chinda, has entered an earnest protest against the proposed California anti-alien land law bill, and the Washington administration has urged Governor Johnson to use all possible delay in affixing his signature to the bill. The purport of the Washington communication would indicate that it favored veto of the bill.

Silver Lake Leader: White Pelican Meadows is now the legal name of J. L. Cliff's ranch in Silver Lake Valley. The old custom of giving a farm or plantation a distinctive name can be followed by sending a description of the land, the name desired and one dollar to the county clerk, and he will do the rest.

John S. Rose, lately of Susanville, this week closed a deal for the purchase of A. W. Orton's residence property on the corner of Dewey and Bul-lard streets. Mr. Rose is in the stock business, and his wife is a sister of Mrs. K. E. Winchester, proprietor of the Goose Lake Valley Meat Market. They arrived here a few months ago their recent investment is evidence of the faith they hold in Lakeview and its future.

Alturas Plaindealer: H. V. McNamara, of the N.-C.-O. Ry. arrived in Alturas Tuesday night to superintend the loading and getting ready of the big auto freight truck which the N.-C.-O. expects to run between Alturas and Surprise Valley this summer. The truck started for Cedarville Wednesday, but owing to its heavy load and the soft condition of the road was stalled about 5 miles from Alturas. However, when the road dries out a little more, regular trips will be made.

Frank V. Wood, of the firm of Wood & Son, Susanville, last week bought a carload of cattle each from Henry Leehman and A. C. Robinett of this valley. Mr. Leehman received $87 per head and Mr. Robinett $77 per head. The stock was shipped to Susanville and will be used for supplying beef for the railroad construction camps at that place.

At a recent meeting of the directors of Sunshine High Grade Mining Company at New Pine Creek, C. N. Miller, of the N.-C.-O. Railway, became President of the company, F. M. Green having resigned from that position. It is reported that Mr. Miller will now have active leadership of the company and the management of its affairs. He is an experienced mining man and his connection with the company will doubtless enable them to accomplish much development this year.

The Alturas Club will tomorrow evening give their first social, to which only members and their ladies are expected to be present. The Club's quarters in the Heryford building are now open and will soon be completely furnished. Much of the furniture is already installed, rugs cover the floors and the walls will soon be adorned with pictures, and other decorations. The magnificent elk head donated by George Wingfield, of Reno, occupies the place of honor and all other decorations are subordinate to it.

The fire alarm Tuesday afternoon summoned a large gathering of people to the demi monde district where one of the Harry buildings had caught fire from a defective flue. The flames were light and soon extinguished by the bucket brigade before the arrival of the hose cart. However, one important thing was discovered, and that was the condition of the fire plug on Water street which was entirely out of commission, caused by being frozen and burst. The city council took immediate steps to order a new plug to replace the defective one.

E. K. Henderson, editor of the Silver Lake Leader, and E. M. Gooch a homesteader of the northern part of the county, came down Sunday in Mr. Henderson's Reo machine, having been subpoenaed on the jury list. Mr. Gooch gave plausible reasons and was excused Monday morning but Editor Henderson was less fortunate and as a consequence is still in the city. He reports that everything is in good condition in his section, and that much development is being accomplished by the homesteaders in the northern part of the county.

Dr. J. Irving Russell, is now the possessor of a new Ford Automobile, he having purchased the machine last week from George Biehn of Klamath Falls, who has the agency for Klamath and Lake Counties. The 1913 model is an elegant little machine and presents a most handsome appearance.

L. L. Hopkins of the Lakeview Ranch a few miles west of this city is going into the hog business quite extensively. Last week he received two more blooded Duroc-Jersey dams, and now has something over 250 head of hogs on the ranch. He made arrangements with Mr. Troest, who will establish a creamery in Lakeview, to receive 100 gallons of buttermilk daily to feed his swine herd.

As a result of no market for potatoes it is reported that some of the farmers especially in the vicinity of New Pine Creek, are giving away the tubers to get rid of them. This method is also being practiced at other places, last week 600 sacks having been placed in the streets of Vancouver, Wash, which were free to anyone for the taking. It is predicted that the acreage planted here this year will be short of last.

The trustees of Lakeview Lodge No. 63 I.O.O.F. this week made arrangements to have the streets and alleys of the local cemetery plowed and graded, preparatory to getting the grounds in good condition for Memorial Day services. However, the least fault lies in the appearance of the streets and alley ways, the private lots showing the greatest neglect. Parties owning lots or blocks or having any interest therein should, by all means, see that they have attention and get them rid of weeds. This could best be accomplished now in cooperating with the work being done by the lodge, and it is to be hoped that the matter will receive immediate attention.
