Your confidence is what Studebaker seeks to keep

Possessing this confidence, we have never tried to produce a cheap wagon. We could, but we don't dare try the experiment. Our constant aim has been to produce the best wagon.

And in living up to this highest standard, we have won and hold—the confidence and good-will of hundreds of thousands of farmers all over the world.

Studebaker wagons are built to last, to do a day's work every day, to stand up under stress and strain and to make the name Studebaker stand for all that is best in vehicles.

Don't accept any other wagon represented to be just as good as a Studebaker. The substitute may be cheaper, but it isn't up to Studebaker standards, and you can't afford to buy it.

For business or pleasure, there is a Studebaker vehicle suited to your requirements. Farm wagons, trucks, business wagons, surreys, buggies, runabouts, pony carriages—each the best of its kind. Harness also—of the same high Studebaker standard.

TELEGRAPH LINE TO BE REBUILT

Western Union Will Make Many Improvements in Local Lines

Lassen Mail: Arthur J. Mathews, treasurer of the affiliated telephone and telegraph companies, has made a tour of inspection over the entire system and has arranged for the erection of a building in Alturas.

He says that the company has made arrangements to build a standard toll circuit from Alturas to Cedarville, to rebuild the line already existing into Port Bidwell, to build a new line from Fairport, California, to New Pine Creek and will start two new gangs on the Nevada-California and Oregon line Monday.

This line will be entirely rebuilt and new poles placed. The company has built two motor speeders to facilitate the clearing up line troubles.

E. L. Naan has gone to Alturas to survey and stake the new long distance line from Alturas to Cedarville.

RHEUMATISM QUICKLY CURED

"My sister's husband had an attack of rheumatism in his arm," writes a well known resident of Newton, Iowa, "I gave him a bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment which he applied to his arm and on the next morning the rheumatism was gone." For chronic muscular rheumatism you will find nothing better than Chamberlain's Liniment. Sold by all dealers.

When using oil for frying, the oil taste can be taken away by making the oil very hot, and then fry a piece of onion in it. When brown take out.

How to Keep a Boy Healthy and Happy

That is what every mother of a growing boy is anxious to know. We offer the solution to this problem. It is one of the very few absolutely sure ways of making a happy, manly boy.

Put him into overalls and let him live outdoors every possible moment of his life.

The dressed up boy who hardly dares to move for fear of soiling or tearing his clothes is about the most unhappy and peevish individual alive. The boy in overalls (if they are the right kind of overalls) hasn't a care on earth.

DAIRY POINTERS.

A good way to salt the cow is to keep a plentiful supply before her and trust to her judgment in using what she needs.

The best profits in dairying come from the best farms and herd. It takes more than a good creamery to make a large milk check.

Feed is an important factor in making a cow profitable, but the best feed cannot avail unless good care is given also.

Does silage fed to the dairy cow taint the milk? No. But the odor of the silage if allowed to get into the milk in open pails will taint it.

A ration for a dairy cow should fulfill the following requirements: It should be balanced, palatable, home grown as near as possible, and finally it should be economical.

PASTURE FOR SWINE.

Important Points to Consider in the Hog Raising Business.

While clover is the very best pasture for pigs and hogs, I get good results by letting them run on mixed wild grass, writes a Minnesota hog grower in the Orange Judd Farmer. I like white clover and timothy pasture in the spring, then have ready a mixture of oats, barley and rape to turn them on the last of May and a rape lot for the latter part of July and August. It is also a good plan to have ready a small sweet corn field near at hand. I always sow rape when I cultivate corn the last time, and this makes a fine rape pasture. After the green corn is cut I open the gates and let the hogs clean up both the corn and rape. Pumpkins are a good feed for old hogs late in the fall.

One of the advantages Yorkshire breeds have over other types is that they can be marketed at almost any age. With good liberal treatment they reach prime weights at six and seven months, weighing 135 to 200 pounds or better. They can be held a little longer and turned off at 225 to 250 pounds to advantage. If held a year they can be made to tip the scales at 400 pounds. With extra care they can be made to do better than that. There are many kinks in the hog business. One that I consider important is to know and like your hogs. If you like them and study them this kink will let you on to all the other kinks in time.

Select good stock and use only a pure blood herd of your favorite breed. Then treat this foundation herd well. Put them on pasture and give them plenty of pure water and provide comfortable sleeping quarters. Feed a variety of feeds but do not overfeed. Disinfect troughs and sleeping quarters and the pigs themselves either by sprinkling or dipping. Keep them free at all times from worms. Wood ashes, soot, sulphur and charcoal are good things to keep before the hogs. Do not keep too many hogs together. These things in my experience are the fundamentals of success in the hog business.

Superiority of Silage Fed Cows.

The following remarks on the economy of silage are taken from Farm and Fireside:

The results of co-operative cow testing in Minnesota during 1912 have been announced. One of the most remarkable comparisons was that between silage fed herds and herds which received no silage.

The silage fed herds which were tested for milk and butter fat production were twelve in number and included 216 cows. The average net profit in the silage fed herds was $33.04 per cow.

There were sixteen herds, with a total of 229 cows, which did not receive silage, and the net profit of these animals was $22.08 per cow.

In round numbers the cows receiving silage made a profit of slightly over $10 each more than the cows which did not receive silage.

Profit in Horse Raising.

Good colts are about as paying an advertisement as a farmer can have, and one of the strongest incentives toward getting good colts is a determination to show them at the range fair, the county fair or the state fair, says the Kansas Farmer. This determination results in increased interest in the individual animal and better care and feed for the colt and its dam. In giving this care the farmer is training himself and is learning how to develop a prize colt. He should know that late foals or those in poor condition are not likely to show well alongside of early ones or those which have been well cared for. The first six months of a colt's life is not expensive to the owner, and such colts find a ready sale at good figures, but, of course, the little added expense to bring him to a yearling more than pays for itself.

Salt the Cows.

Cows should be salted regularly, winter and summer. Salt is an essential part of the ration even though it may not have much direct food value. Many farmers who otherwise are careful feeders neglect the salting of their stock, especially in winter. The best plan is to mix a certain percentage of salt in the main feed when it is mixed. A pound and a half of salt per 100 pounds of grain is about right. The salt will make the grain more palatable, and one will not be so apt to neglect feeding and salt. The best plan to keep a supply of salt where the cattle can reach it whenever they are loose.

WOOL SITUATION YET UNSETTLED

Estimated That Fifty Per Cent of Wool Machinery Is Laying Idle

J. Bateman & Co., wool commission merchants of Philadelphia give the following latest report on the wool situation:

The wool market during the past month has been unsettled, with light sales and no firm basis of value. Manufacturers are finding it difficult to secure new business, and considerable machinery has been stopped upon completion of old orders. It is estimated that not over 50 per cent of the woolen machinery in the country is now running, and the consumption of wool is of course much smaller than it was a year ago.

Apparently the demand for wool is going to be light until the tariff matter is finally settled and manufacturers can tell just what competition they will have to face. The future of the market will then depend upon whether they are able to run their mills and compete with foreign manufacturers under the new schedules.

During the past month there has been a further reduction in prices in an endeavor to clean up the balance of last year's wools. In order to do this it has been necessary to accept prices which average four or five cents per pound less in the grease for territory wools than the ruling prices at the time of Mr. Wilson's election.

There is no close precedent for the conditions now facing the market and we hesitate to make any predictions as to the course of prices during the next few months. A comparison of prices of American fine and fine medium wools with foreign wools of corresponding grade, seems to indicate that there is no reason to expect a further decline on this class of wool, providing American mills are able to secure sufficient business to create a demand for the new clip. Manufacturers, as a rule, are carrying very light stocks of wool, and if they can succeed in keeping their mills running in the face of the tariff change, there should be a good steady demand. It is realized that the unfamiliarity of foreign manufacturers with our domestic wools will act as a handicap in attempting to market American wools in Europe, and the immediate future of the market depends on the demand from American manufacturers.

On a scored basis we quote today good fine wool and medium fine territory wool at 52 to 53 cents and short and average at 48 to 50 cents.

Filming Ranch Scenes

Moving pictures are being taken of the great Central Oregon country, so the millions of people in the United States may see the actual development of this territory. In order to get scenic and industrial pictures of Harney county stock raising, Ralph E. Earle of Portland, in charge of the picture taking outfit, accompanied by Lloyd W. McDowell, publicity manager for the Hill railroad lines, is spending a week on Colonel William Hanley's ranches in order to secure real "buckaroo" scenes and reproduce methods used in handling large herds of cattle.

It is through Louis W. Hill, former president of the Great Northern railroad that the Pathe's Weekly is enabled to get these pictures. He considers the moving picture one of the greatest things in the present generation to help educate the people regarding their own country.

Paisley Pick-ups

(Chewaucan Press)

M. S. Barnes and family of Lakeview were in Paisley Tuesday on their way to the ranch on Summer Lake.

Roy Moss, the champion roper of the Northwest was in Paisley this week, stopping over on his way to California where he expects to add to his laurels. He won the grand championship at the Pendleton Roundup last fall. Roy is a cousin of Stephen and Alfred Moss of this place.

J. A. Richards, who for some time past has been a resident of New Pine Creek has returned to Paisley and is now residing on his homestead north of town, which is located just at this end of Summer Lake. His many friends in this section will be glad to welcome them home again.

Divorce of Railroads

Attorney General McKeynolds has decided to contend that the Southern Pacific must give up the Central Pacific, the line from Ogden to San Francisco, in the pending dissolution of the Union Pacific merger. He will bring a suit under the Sherman Law to accomplish that end if the dissolution plans fail to include it.
