Lakeview, Oregon, Thursday, August 21, 1913

An initiative measure to be voted upon next November has been filed in Salem providing that no man, woman or child shall work more than eight hours a day or more than 48 hours a week. The initiative was led by the Socialist party, and it is said to be the first purely Socialist measure ever put forward under the initiative by that organization. The only exception to the provision is in case of accidents, fires or floods, when persons may be employed more than eight hours a day at double pay for overtime. It such a measure would become a law everybody would quit business to work for wages.

The Harney County News has advanced the name of William Hanley as candidate for Governor of Oregon at next election. The News states that they do not believe that the geographical location should dictate choice of candidates for the highest office in the state, and insofar as Mr. Hanley is concerned he is peculiarly a man from all over Oregon. Whether the News was acting upon any direct authority from Mr. Hanley in stating his name for Governor, is not known but the Examiner hopes it was. He would make a very strong candidate and we believe a good executive for the head of the state's government.

This is certainly a most favorable year to hold a good, old fashioned agricultural fair. A fine display of products can be assembled and much useful information furnished to all visitors. Such displays can always be passed on and afterward used for other occasions. This really should be one step in the Agricultural College Extension work, as it gives an excellent opportunity for the farmers to compare notes and study the results of the different varieties and methods of cropping.

Dental Societies Extended

The State Dental Societies have organized district societies, Lakeview to affiliate with Klamath Falls.

The object of these societies are many—changing of ideas, discussing the best methods of serving the public and chiefly to foster a system of public school dental inspection.

Dr. F. Westerfeld, of Klamath Falls who has been doing work quietly along these lines, has suggested to some of our school authorities that he would try and get the dentists to devote part of their time gratis the first year and give the children a complete dental inspection, and that he hoped the public would see the great need and benefit of such an inspection, and next year to pay for the inspection.

It is simply appalling the way the teeth of the young are decaying and the astounding amount of ignorance about the teeth even among the most educated of the laity. If we go on as we have been a few generations will see us a disfigured race of physical degenerates.

Railroad Incorporated

The Salt Lake Herald-Republican says that articles of incorporation for the Surprise Valley Railway Company, a new road to connect with the Western Pacific at Keynard, Nev., has been filed with the secretary of that state. While the new road will be a feeder to the Western Pacific it will in no way have an official connection with the Gould line. At the present time the road contemplates the construction of 55 miles of track, running northwesterly from Keynard to the California-Nevada line, and will eventually be constructed into Surprise Valley. The company is capitalized at $800,000 in 8000 shares of the par value of $100.

The rate for local delivery applies to all parcels mailed at postoffice from which a rural route starts, for delivery on such route, or mailed at any point on such route for delivery at any other point thereon, or at the office from which the route starts or on any rural route starting therefrom, and on all matter mailed at a city carrier office, or at any point within its delivery limits, for delivery by carriers from that office for local delivery.

On the day the new regulation became effective Postmaster-General Burleson mailed President Wilson a box of choice peaches which weighed 17 pounds costing 13 cents for delivery, it being in the first zone. In the box was a note containing the following announcement from the Postmaster-General:

"This is an illustration of the opportunity which has been opened to the farmer, the horticulturist, the manufacturer and to every citizen of the country who will avail himself of this valuable adjunct of the postal service in the promotion of the commerce and happiness of our people."

All Lumber Sold

The entire stock of lumber in the Lakeview yard of the Sunset Lake Lumber Co. was this week sold by auction to the highest bidders. It is estimated that there were nearly 300,000 feet of lumber on the yard, and the price ranged from $8.00 per M upward for the rough and $18 to $30 per M for the surfaced lumber.

We are informed that the yard at this place will be closed, and James Burgess who has been the local manager, this morning departed for Montana where he will go into business. J. D. Annilson will remain here to close up all business of the company at this end.

Judging by the numerous samples of oats that have been brought to this office this season the Goose Lake Valley gives glowing promise of becoming a great producer of this product. Lymon Hopkins last week brought in a sample which was grown by James Redding on the Bloomingcamp ranch several miles west of town. One bunch of the oats measures six feet and six inches from the roots to the tip of the head. Mr. Hopkins states that there is a fine stand of this field of oats and predicts that it will yield near 70 bushels per acre.
