COLONEL THATCHER REACHES PORTLAND

Good Roads Man Maps Highway Route Across Entire State.

Portland Journal: Having covered 26,000 miles, Colonel Charles W. Thatcher arrived in Portland at noon, August 28, traveling in his wagon drawn by two mules and a burro, and with his dog, Gorgen, trailing behind. About six days ago C. C. Chapman of the Commercial Club received word from Colonel Thatcher that he would arrive in Portland at noon August 28, providing his mules kept their usual good health. Promptly at noon today, August 28, Mr. Chapman received a telephone message from E. B. Rober, that Colonel Thatcher had arrived. A taxicab was summoned and Mr. Chapman with W. L. Crissey and Julius L. Merr, president of the Columbia Highway Association, hastened to welcome the colonel to the city. During his stay in Portland, the Good Roads Apostle will be entertained by the Commercial Club and will attend the meeting of the Columbia Highway Association at Gearhart.

Colonel Thatcher as he passes through the country paints road directions for the tourists. He says he has mapped out a highway through McKenzie Pass which leads around Crater Lake.

He left Winnemucca, Nev., about July 1, going through Duck Valley to Surprise Valley, and from there to Alturas Cal.; then via Goose Lake to Lakeview, passing through Klamath Falls, Bend, through McKenzie Pass, Springfield, Corvallis, Monmouth, Amity and Newberg.

prohibited.

8.—Shooting of migratory birds between sunset and sunrise is likewise prohibited.

6.—In no case will there be less than thirty days when birds may be shot during the period of their greatest abundance.

Birds that may be shot are divided by the new regulations into four classes. These, and the open seasons allowed on them, follows:

Dates inclusive, northern zone:
1.—Water fowl, September 1 to December 15.
2.—Rail, September 1 to November 30.
3.—Woodcock, October 1 to November 30.

4.—Shore birds, September 1 to December 15.
A closed season until September 1, 1918, is established for band-tailed pigeons, little brown, sand-hill and whooping cranes; swans, curlew, all shore birds except black-breasted and golden plover, Wilson or jacksnipe, woodcock, greater or lesser yellowlegs.

Wood duck in addition are given a closed season to September 1, 1918, in the following states: Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Rhode Island, Massachusetts, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, West Virginia and Wisconsin.

Insectivorous birds including robins, larks, etc., are protected at all times in all states, and similar protection is given the smaller shore birds and other species which have been greatly reduced in number. An open season on red or rice birds from September 1 to October 31, inclusive, is provided for Delaware, Maryland, District of Columbia, Virginia and South Carolina.

A novel and important feature is the prohibition of hunting on the great rivers of the country except during November and December.

Prohibited territory as designated by the regulations in this instance is as follows:

1.—Mississippi River, from New Orleans to Minneapolis.
2.—Ohio River, from its mouth to Pittsburgh.
Missouri river between its mouth and Bismark, N. D.

Under the provisions of the Weeks-McLean law three months are given from the time these regulations are made public until they are presented to the president for approval and are finally adopted. It is also provided that public hearings may be had if deemed proper, and it is assumed that these very probably will be held.

The regulations outlined above are an effective contradiction to the rumor widespread in the Northwestern states, to the effect that the Weeks-McLean Law prohibits the shooting at any time of ducks and other wild fowl. Full information can be obtained by writing the department of agriculture for pamphlets 92 and 93.

George Peyerl, who conducts a blacksmith shop at Fremont in the northern part of the county, was in Lakeview the first of the week attending to business matters.

Some Choice Fruit

E. Keller was up from New Pine Creek Monday, and to show what can be grown in the line of fruit in his section, left a box of peaches and apricots at the Examiner office, that came from his orchard. The peaches are the early Alexander and both they and the apricots are of large size and especially choice quality.

The New Pine Creek section is the favored fruit center of the Goose Lake Valley and the class and quality of this product which is grown in that vicinity fully demonstrates the adaptability of the soil and climate to the growing of all hardy fruits.

Under Heavy Bail

Kay Yarbrough and Len Parker were arrested Sunday morning on a charge of rape on the person of Rosie Mellett, a girl of 14 years of age. The preliminary hearing was heard Tuesday morning before Wm. Wallace, Town Recorder. On the testimony of Rosie Mellett, the two defendants were bound over to the grand jury, the bail of Kay Yarbrough being fixed at $8000, and the bail of Len Parker was fixed at $10,000. Jack Hannan on "Koman Nose" also won the 350-yard race, there being nine entries in all. Mike Murphy on "Sorrell" came in second. A handsome pair of spurs was awarded the winner.

The 100-yard dash for men was won by Pat Duane, the prize being a 15-jeweled Elgin watch, with gold-filled hunting case. Tim Burke was second, there being three other entries.

There were but two entries in the 220-yard race for men, Pat Duane and Tim Burke, and they finished in a tie. The prize was a handsome watch fob with safety chain. A similar prize was won by Loren Cummins for being the fastest boy under 16. M. Barnes was second with five other entries.

The sports were most admirably managed, ropes having been placed to keep the crowd back, and no crowding around the participants was permitted. Everyone had a clear view of the contests, which is something unusual in affairs of the kind. The picnic will long be remembered with pleasure by all who were fortunate enough to be present, and all will look longingly for its repetition next year.

CENTRAL OREGON BEING DEVELOPED

State Official Says Prettiest Country On Trip at Lakeview.

Portland Oregonian: That the arid lands of Eastern Oregon and Southern Oregon are being reclaimed through the application of correct principles of dry farming and irrigation was an announcement made recently by Secretary of State Olcott and Treasurer Kay upon their return from a tour of the territory. They are enthusiastic over the improvement that has been made in the past two years.

"I went all through the same territory two years ago," said Treasurer Kay, "and was astonished at the vast improvements made since then. There is more acreage, the crops are better and the farms are in far better condition. What especially impressed me were the improved conditions in dry farming. Dry farming is a great success in Eastern Oregon."

"We found fine crops on desert land which never had been watered except by rains. A crop or two is turned in to give the land the necessary humus and after that the land produces abundantly."

Messrs. Olcott and Kay went to Redmond with Secretary of the Interior Lane, and after the meeting there they drove in an automobile 100 miles through Central Oregon. They found conditions much better than they were two years ago.

They found six camps established at the Tumalo, formerly the Columbia Southern project, where it is proposed to irrigate about 30,000 acres. The state has appropriated $450,000 for this work.

Mr. Kay said no work was being done by the Deschutes Land Company, J. M. Morson, president, explaining that work had been discontinued on account of a delay in obtaining from the Federal Government a release to the right of way for water from Crescent Lake. The pipes will be laid on government land. Mr. Morson said he could put water on 10,000 acres within 60 days.

Messrs. Kay and Olcott found much dry farming was being done near Fremont and Fort Rock. They were amazed at the excellence of the crops and the improvement of the farms. They inspected the work of the Northwest Townsite Company at Paisley. Although work has been suspended temporarily during the harvest season, the place has a prosperous appearance and is future seems assured.

A half day was passed at the plant of the Summer Lake Company, which is obtaining salt and alkali through the evaporation of water from the lake. The company has spent about $50,000 and is working on one of the biggest projects in the state. It is declared by the promoter that the business will yield hundreds of thousands of dollars in profit to the stockholders.

"We probably saw the finest crops and prettiest country of our entire trip at Lakeview," continued the State Treasurer "There has been only a little irrigation, but one of the biggest private projects in the state is under way and soon thousands of acres will be watered. It is a great country."

Harry K. Thaw is still in the Sherbrooke, Quebec, jail and will remain until Judge Hutchinson renders his decision on the question of dismissing the habeas corpus writ, which was obtained in behalf of the Chief of Police who first arrested Thaw after his escape.

SCHOOL INTEREST SHOWN IN COUNTY

Attention Is Given Educational Work in Northern Lake.

County School Superintendent Oliver, who a few days since returned from a trip over the northern part of the county reports great school interest in that section. He states that the Fort Rock district will maintain ten separate schools this year. Silver Lake will have three rooms, including one for high school, and will employ three teachers for outside localities. Christmas Lake will have four excellent schools, and a new school district will be organized on the west side of Summer Lake to accommodate children now seven to ten miles from school.

New buildings will be erected at Greendale, Sunset, Valley View, Clover Leaf, Lost Valley, Horning Bend, Thorn Lake and Valley Falls.

"Many of the school children will bring or send exhibits to the County Fair," says Mr. Oliver. "Several school gardens may be seen at Paisley and from which some fine exhibits will be sent."

The northern part of the county has some excellent teachers, many being University and Normal graduates.

The standard of all schools will be elevated during the present year, and the coming annual institute will be the largest ever held in this county. The dates are fixed for October 13, 14 and 15, and the State Superintendent and some of the best instructors in the West will be in attendance.

A local school fair will be held at Paisley for the Chewaucan and Summer Lake Valleys.

As the new edition of the school law has not been printed, there are many questions to be answered by mail, asserts Mr. Oliver.

The schools with the teachers as designated below, opened Tuesday, September 2: Fort Rock, Mrs. Stratton; Fremont, F. A. Everett; Connelly, Hildner Finley; Valley View, Mrs. H. B. Dodd; Pleasant Valley, Stella Patison; Arrow, T. S. McKinney.

Miss Gertrude Vernon, who will teach the coming year in the Lakeview schools, returned Monday evening from her vacation which was spent on an automobile trip with some friends from Klamath Falls. The party was out for several weeks, spending seven days in Canada. They traveled 3500 miles on the entire trip.
