A Complete Record

We have made an entire transcript of all Records in Lake County which in any way, affect Real Property in the county. We have a complete Record of every Mortgage and transfer ever made in Lake County, and ever Deed given.

Errors Found in Titles

In transcribing the records we have found numerous mortgages recorded in the Deed record and indexed; and many deeds are recorded in the Mortgage record and other books. Hundreds of mortgages and deeds are not indexed at all, and most difficult to trace up from the records.

We have notations of all these Errors.

Others cannot find them. We have put hundreds of dollars hunting up these errors, and we can fully guarantee our work.

"THE KIND THAT FATHER ALWAYS DRINKS"

BELIEF IN FATHER'S WISDOM is common among boys. They live in hopes of being like father. And if the sons as they grow up, learn to welcome a drop of pure liquor now and again it will not hurt them. The longest lived people have been careful drinkers of pure stimulants. We handle nothing but the purest and most wholesome of liquors, but we charge only reasonable prices for them.

WIDOW'S PENSION BILL EXPLAINED

Minor Children Must Be Absolutely Dependent Upon Mother Pensioned.

In view of the fact that there are frequent demands for the text of the recently enacted widow's pension bill the Lake County Examiner prints it herewith. The act has been interpreted to meet the needs only of such widows as are willing to remain at home and earn a part of the living while caring for their children. The act reads:

To provide for the assistance and support of women whose husbands are dead or are inmates of some Oregon state institution or who are physically or mentally unable to work and who have a child or children dependent for support or partly upon their labor.

Be it enacted by the people of the state of Oregon:

Section 1. Every woman, who has one or more children under the age of 16 years and whose husband is either dead or is an inmate of some Oregon state institution, or by reason of physical or mental disease is wholly unable to work, and whose child or children is dependent wholly or partly upon her labor, shall be entitled to the assistance as provided for in this act for the support of herself and of her child or children.

Sec. 2. Subject to subsequent provisions of this act, every woman, as provided in section 1, who herself, and all of whose children are wholly dependent upon her labor for support shall receive from the public moneys of the county in which she and her child or children reside the sum of $10 per month for one child, and if she have more than one residing with her, $7.50 per month for each of such additional children.

Sec. 3. Subject to subsequent provisions of this act, every woman, as provided by section 1, who is herself all of whose children are partly dependent upon her labor for support shall receive from the public moneys of the county in which she and her child or children shall reside, such a sum per month as, added to her other income, other than that derived from her labor, shall be equal to the amount which she would receive if she was subject to the provisions of section 2 of this act.

Sec. 4. The provisions of this act shall not apply to any child which has property of its own sufficient for its support, nor to any child which does not reside with its mother.

Sec. 5. It is the purpose and intention of this act to keep the children to which it is applicable, together under the guidance and control of their mother, and that the mother shall make a home for the children; and if, in the judgment of the tribunal which is to administer this law as hereinafter provided, any mother of such children is improvident, careless or negligent in the expenditure of the money received pursuant to this act, such tribunal may direct that such money shall be paid to some person, whom it shall designate, to be used for the support of such mother and children.

Sec. 6. The Juvenile Court in each county or whatever tribunal is charged by law with the discharge of the duties of such court, shall have exclusive jurisdiction in carrying out and administering the provisions of this act.

Sec. 7. Whenever the tribunal mentioned in Section 6, shall determine that an allowance under this act shall be made, it shall make an order to that effect which order, among other things shall set out in full the name of the mother, her place of residence, the names and ages of each of the children, and the amount allowed to each child, and upon presentation of such order, the County Court shall direct monthly warrants to be drawn therefor.

Sec. 8. For the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act, the tribunal mentioned in Section 6, shall have power to summon witnesses and compel their attendance and pay them the same as witnesses in criminal cases are paid.

Sec. 9. Whenever any woman on whose account any allowance shall have been made under the provisions of this act, shall marry, such allowances shall cease. No allowance for any child shall continue after such child shall have reached the age of 16 years.

Sec. 10. This act shall apply only to women who are residents of this state at the time this act is passed or who were residents of the state at the time of the occurrence of the events which entitle them to the benefits of this act as provided by Section 1.

A RESUME ON ROOSTS.

Poultry house furniture should be cheap, simple, take up little room, just fit the flock and be movable for quick cleaning and transfer.

Roosts should have these characteristics. We present two for inspection: The first shows a set with dropping boards nailed up in a corner. This roost is too heavy, costly, it cannot be moved for cleaning and red mites or ticks will hide and breed behind it like bedbugs in the cracks of a bughouse building, and if these poultry pests once get a hold a continuous fight must be kept up and often the roost be torn out to get at them. Same with stationary nests.

The second is a cheap, simple affair made of trestles, slats and a low platform, low down for big breeds. Additional trestles may be used to raise the dropping boards off of floor for lighter breeds, and thus the only floor space occupied will be by toes of trestles.

This roost does not touch the wall, may be taken down and out for cleaning in a few minutes, is transferable and may be moved to the windows or set up in the yard in hot weather.

Thus far we have had no mites nor ticks to bother our poultry at Riverside. We ascribe this to watchfulness and roosts and nests that are simple and easy to keep clean.

Much of poultry vigor and poultry profit are lost through the ravages of insect pests, and the poultryman who neglects to use every precaution against these destroyers need not expect full success.

DON'TS.

Don't try to raise poultry in town without a fence or your neighbors will quickly take offense.

Don't work with one eye on the clock and the other on the boss. You'll get caught in the cogs and go to the dogs.

Don't bite off more chickens than you can chew. Better hatch a reasonable number and raise them than to hatch a lot and raise them not.

Don't forget that every egg that doesn't hatch and every chick that dies is so much off the profit. The financial finale depends on the detail.

Don't over the first hatches go crazy and over the others get lazy. Be enthusiastic, optimistic and industrious all the way through in what you do and providence will favor you.

Don't waste time arguing about breeds and methods. If you're sure you're right then go ahead, but don't be a bullhead.

Don't expect your wife to make much on mongrel hens. Thoroughbred strains for beauty and gains.

Don't sell preserved eggs for fresh. Some customer silek will see through your trick you'll be jerked up quick and then what a shame for a few pennies gain you've lost your good name.

HOMESTEAD LAWS CHANGED BY LANE

For the last year or more public lands in the western states have been designated by the secretary of the interior as subject to entry under the so-called enlarged homestead act, on the 320 acre homestead act, only on petition of those who desire to avail themselves of the provisions of the law. This procedure was an outgrowth of the desire of the department to designate no lands which were not actually enterable under the law in question.

In order to accomplish this end the status of each tract had to be investigated to determine whether it was already entered, was a school section, was involved in a state selection, or for any other reason had been taken out of the class of "unappropriated" public lands which alone are enterable under this act. This search meant that with the meager force available to the department only slow progress could be made in the designation of lands for entry under this law.

Soon after the passage of the act lands had been designated for entry under it in a body without regard to their status, the only questions determined by the department prior to designation being that the lands were surveyed, unreserved, and nonirrigable. Under this mode of procedure designations can be made with comparative rapidity, the availability of the lands for entry being determined by the applicant when he visits the local land office to file upon his claim.

After the abandonment of this early procedure the law was extended to apply to North Dakota. The rule of designation by petition has been followed in that state, and the resulting delays have proved embarrassing both to the department and to the citizens of North Dakota, as well as to those of other western states.

At the suggestion of Senator Gronna Secretary Lane has recently decided to revert to the earlier practice and designate the lands in large bodies after it is determined that they are nonirrigable, as required by the law. He has accordingly issued appropriate instructions to the geological survey, which is charged under the department with the preparation of the lists of lands enterable under this law. This change will have the effect of greatly expediting the designation of lands under this law.

Book Company Violates

State Superintendent Churchill announces that the Palmer Company of Cedar Rapids, Ia., has violated its contract with the Oregon State Board of Education by selling a textbook in this state, known as "Writing Lesson for Primary Grades," for 20 cents when it is retailing the same book in other states for 15 cents. He also says he has evidence that the company is selling "Palmer Methods in Business Writing" in Chicago for 16 cents, and retailing it in this state for 25 cents. The company entered into a contract with the State Board of Education agreeing not to sell either textbook in any other state or territory at a lower price than that provided for in its contract with Oregon.

SUGGESTIONS FOR YOUNG FARMERS

"Young gardeners entering vegetable for premiums at agricultural, school, county and state fairs must exercise special care in the entries if they would receive favorable notice from the judges and win the valuable premiums offered," says Professor Bouquet of the Department of Horticulture, Oregon Agricultural College.

"Heretofore too many fairs have been exhibitions of vegetable monstrosities while commercial specimens of money value have been conspicuous by their absence. The boys and girls of Oregon must see that the vegetables that they exhibit are clean, smooth, uniform in size color and shape, and true to type of the variety. Something must be exhibited that will catch the eye of the judge. Nothing is of more importance than the specimen should be clean and show great care in preparation previous to exhibition. Enormous specimens of beets, radishes carrots and squash are to be discouraged, but the contestant should make it a point in selecting his specimens in the field to choose them for the qualities which have been named above. Aim for quality, not for quantity. Children must be encouraged to exhibit vegetables that are of the highest market value.

"Root vegetables should be clean, of moderate size, smooth and the individual specimens uniform as far as possible in all aspects. Cabbage and lettuce and such like vegetables should be solid and of proper commercial size.

The cauliflower which is shown should be compact, white and free from blemishes; the celery well blanched and large.

"Furthermore aim to fulfill the requirements specified in each entry. If three melons are called for, then exhibit only three; if six beets, then only six, and those of the greatest uniformity and proper size. The rules and regulations should be carefully read and then no disappointments will follow in that regard."

Potato Shortage

A leading crop expert of Chicago announced that the potato crop this year in the United States would be 100,000,000 bushels short of last year. This circumstance promises good prices to Oregon growers. Last year the tubers were a drug on the market, but this Fall they will surely be in good demand. Farmers who were not discouraged by last season's bad returns will probably receive a golden reward for their perseverance. Upon the whole it pays to plant potatoes generously. They produce exceedingly well in Lake County, and although bad and good years alternate, in the long run they yield a fair profit.
