A GOOD INVESTMENT

The last Legislature appropriated $100,000 for a new administration and class-room building, and $75,000 for repairs and improvements to several other buildings at the University of Oregon. The referendum has been called on this appropriation and it will be decided by the people of the state at an election on November 4th.

Those behind the referendum do not deny the reasonableness of the appropriation or the fact that the money is badly needed by the University, but justify themselves on the ground that they want no improvements to be made at the University until the people have had a chance to pass upon the question of consolidating the University with Oregon Agricultural College.

Since consolidation is the avowed reason for calling the referendum, the question should be settled for all time by the vote on the present appropriation. The people of Oregon do not need to theorize on consolidation. The experiment on this in other states should be taken as an example.

It will cost the man who pays taxes on $1000 about 18 cents to uphold the two appropriations; it will cost the man who pays taxes on $100 less than two cents. It will give alike to them who pays taxes on $1000 or $100, however, facilities for education that he himself helped build, without the necessity of paying fees, there being no fees at the State University.

The Examiner has no particular interest in the outcome of the other three referred measures but it will most certainly vote for and ardently support the University appropriations. No money is wasted when properly and judiciously expended for educational purposes.

A REAL TEST

Tariff revision is out of the way; currency reform is on the way, and according to report, the next number on the program will be trust legislation. It is said by some of the wise ones at Washington that President Wilson has a trust policy formulated, and that the country will get the benefit of it when Congress assembles in regular session. Naturally enough, no one knows anything of its details, but it is believed to be one of those policies with teeth in it.

There, as we conceive, is where the test will come. Trust policies that have been tried thus far, have done very little with the trusts. Even the enforcement of the Sherman law, in which it has been sought to bring about dissolution of some of the most powerful and pernicious trusts, has failed of its purpose and has left the impression that anything like effectual control of the trusts is a futile dream. It President Wilson can amend the situation ten for a surety is he a wonderful man.

Yet, it was plainly the intent of the Supreme Court at the rendition of its Standard Oil decision, to warn Congress that there must be new and constructive legislation on the subject of trusts—not necessarily for their abolition, but for their control in a somewhat different conception for their functions than now obtains.

LAKEVIEW - OREGON

Again the question arises, will President Wilson present the plan that will meet that recommendation?

WHY NOT?

The people of Paisley are very anxious to have a good sized delegation of Lakeview people attend their second Annual Fair which will be held October 21, 22 and 23. A good crowd from Lakeview should attend this fair, and we hope they will.

In connection with this an inspiration presents itself. Lakeview has at many times had excursions to Alturas, Reno and other points outside of the county, which we are glad to admit, are followed by beneficial results to both communities concerned. But we have never had an excursion from Lakeview to any point within the borders of our own county. True we have not railway facilities for this, but we have automobiles and various other conveniences which could be brought into service.

Now, why not have an excursion to Paisley for their fair? Paisley contributed well toward the success of the Lake County Fair held here a short time ago. It is not only a duty that we repay this but it is a duty we owe our home communities—in strengthening their mutual relations—and establishing cooperating ties from which both will benefit and ultimately grow together. And in cold facts it is a business proposition.

Northern Lake News

(Fort Rock Times)

J. S. Branch passed through the East end of the valley last week on his way from Lakeview to Bend with 1,600 sheep to be delivered to a Montana party who has brought 20,000 head here for shipment to that state.

Rev. T. J. Strawbridge the newly appointed Methodist minister to Paisley and Summer Lake and surrounding country was in town Friday visiting the people. He came from Eugene where the Oregon Conference of the M. E. Church was held.

Considering that the people in the Cloverleaf district have only fished on their land a little over two years, the amount of land they have under cultivation is surprising. The following are a few of those with big clearings, there are more of them, but the writer does not know the acreage: S. W. Pennington has about 160 acres; C. R. Ashworth and Ira Ashworth will have nearly 200 acres this fall; Harry Parman has 160 acres; Chas. Wold 40 and R. W. Hanna 40 acres.

(Chewaucan Press)

A. E. Baunister returned Monday from Lakeview where he has been helping barber during the fair.

The town council has secured lumber for a new cross walk at the corner of Main and Mill streets.

Mr. Jas. McDonald who has been spending a few weeks in Lakeview with his son, returned the first of the week.

The Moss Telephone Co. held its regular annual meeting for the election of officers for the ensuing year, in the Woodman Hall at Paisley last Monday. The directors elected were S. P. Moss, Dick J. Wilcox, Eph Miller, Wm. Dohkins and S. S. Thayer.

A letter received this week from O. C. Gibbs of Lakeview informs us that Mr. Burgess and himself will be able to come to the rally of the local Democrats on October 15. That will be next Wednesday night and it is to be hoped that a good crowd will be in attendance to hear these men speak. The object of the meeting will be to organize the members of the party here into a good working body, so that something can be accomplished before the coming election of 1914.

Lyman on Trial

The Klamath Northwestern says that Fred Morley has gone to Los Angeles where he was called as a witness in the case of Dr. John Grant Lyman, charged with fraud in connection with a Panama land deal.

It will be remembered locally that Sheriff Snider of Lake County arrested Dr. Lyman here about two years ago after he escaped from an Oakland hospital. He was taken to Klamath Falls and later to California and given eighteen months for conspiring to escape. He served his time on McNeill's Island and now has been returned to Los Angeles for trial on the Panama land fraud deal. He is declared to be the original for the Wallingford series by Randolph Chester in the Saturday Evening Post.

Bode Buys Cows

Max Bode last week returned from a trip through central and southern California where he went in search of dairy stock. He finally succeeded in buying 19 head of cows and heifers which were secured on the J. S. Rose ranch near Susanville. They were received the first of this week. Mr. Bode states that owing to the plentifulness of feed, the high price of butterfat, dairy cows are hard to get in California. He brought back a copy of a cream slip received by a dairyman near Oakland which showed that he was getting from 41 1-2 to 45 cents for his butter fat. The stores at that place are also making a leader with butter fat the price of 45 cents per pound.

Mr. Bode will Winter the herd on his Crane Creek hay ranch.

William S. Moss Dead

This week S. F. Moss received the sad news of the death of his brother, William S., which occurred at his home near Mt. Vernon, Wash., on September 24. Death was due to a stroke of apoplexy. Deceased was 74 years old the 15th of last April, and was known in this county, having spent a Summer on the S. P. Moss ranch near Paisley some time ago. Besides a family he leaves to mourn his death two brothers S. P. and L. B. Moss of this place; a sister, Mrs. Simmons, of Lebanon, Oregon, and two nephews of this county, W. Z. Moss of Lakeview and Alvin Moss of Paisley. The remains were interred in the Mt. Vernon cemetery.

Klamath to Bond

Following its progressive policy in regard to better highways, Klamath County is now considering the advisability of bonding herself for the construction of a series of first class permanent highway, and expects to call an election some time next month for this purpose.

Among the proposed routes for highways are the following: From Klamath Falls to the Siskiyou county line through Merrill; to the Lake county line through Bonanza; to the Jackson county line through Keno, and to the Crook county line via Fort Klamath and Crescent. Following these other roadways would be improved.

Snow at Baker

A news dispatch from Baker dated Oct. 10, states that early snowfall in Eastern Oregon is the order this year. For several days the fall was steady and very heavy in some localities near that place, making good sleighing at different places. The item says that the snow ranges in depth from a few inches to a foot or more.

The storm caused much trouble to railroad traffic and considerable loss to sheepmen who still had their stock on the range. It is the earliest continued snowfall in that section for several years.

Warrants Payable

The following General Fund, Town Warrants are now payable: 2099, 3039, 3043, 3057, 3060. Interest on above has stopped, Oct. 10, 1913.

A. BIEBER, Town Treasurer.

NEWSY NOTES

Orders for 500 blooded Holstein and Jersey cows are being placed by Geo. Wingfield, says, the Nevada State Journal, with the intention of developing the dairy industry in Churchill county on a large scale. Mr. Wingfield has recently purchased the Fallon creamery. He is now importing blooded cattle to sell to farmers on easy terms. The farmers must pay at least $2.50 a month on the purchase price of each cow, or he can pay for the animal by giving half the cream receipts.

Last Sunday marked the four hundred and twenty-first anniversary of the discovery of America by Christopher Columbus, the Genoese navigator who sailed under the Spanish flag with the delusion that the world was not strictly on the square, as formerly believed. Owing to falling on Sunday the local banks remained closed the following day, as did other clearing house banks over the country. The grand jury which was to have set on that date did not convene until Tuesday morning.

The United States government has informed Provisional President Huerta that it looks with abhorrence and amazement upon his assumption of both executive and legislative powers in Mexico and in review of his course could not regard as constitutional the elections planned for October 26. Two notes, one by Secretary Bryan and one by the president, which is said to constitute the last efforts of the Washington government to deal with the Huerta authorities by diplomatic means, unless a decided change of spirit is shown have been forwarded.

Both the Senate and House Journals of the last Legislature will be printed in the open market this year by Mrs. W. S. Dunway, widow of the late State Printer Dunway, the printing board having made arrangements for this with Mrs. Dunway. State Printer Harris said the late State Printer had failed to reach them before his death and demurred against printing them because of no profit, and that it would interfere with the showing he expects to make under the flat-salary law. Informed of this Mrs. Dunway said she would complete the work,

DIARRHOEA QUICKLY CURED "I was taken with diarrhoea and Mr. Yorks, the merchant here, persuaded me to try a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. After taking one dose of it I was cured. It also cured others that I gave it to," writes M. E. Gebhart, Orleto, Pa. That is not at all unusual. An ordinary attack of diarrhoea can almost invariably be cured by one or two doses of this remedy. For sale by all dealers.
