A Complete Record

We have made an entire transcript of all Records in Lake County which in any way, affect Real Property in the county. We have a complete Record of every Mortgage and transfer ever made in Lake County, and ever Deed given.

Errors Found in Titles

In transcribing the records we have found numerous mortgages recorded in the Deed record and indexed; and many deeds are recorded in the Mortgage record and other books. Hundreds of mortgages and deeds are not indexed at all, and most difficult to trace up from the records.

We have notations of all these Errors.

Others cannot find them. We have put hundreds of dollars hunting up these errors, and we can fully guarantee our work.

FARM ORCHARD AND GARDEN

(This matter must not be reprinted without special permission.)

Some markets prefer a pure white egg and some those that are a rich brown. There seems to be no good reason for this difference except mere whim.

Connecticut, for many years supposed to be quite outside the limits of the peach belt, this season gives promise of a yield of 1,000,000 baskets of this fruit, or 2,000 carloads.

A hen is a small institution, but when she goes on a rampage in a neighbor's garden she is a larger factor in kicking up neighborhood ill will than anything we know of.

Now that the fly killing campaign is in full swing it will be in order to keep fly poison out of reach of the little folks in the home. Many die yearly because of getting hold of it.

Millet intended for use as a forage ration should be cut shortly after the blossoms appear and before the seed heads form. The hay will be the finer if the ground is seeded rather heavily.

The reason for the shallow cultivation the last time through the corn is that by that time the lateral roots have spread a good deal, and setting the shovels deep would tear and destroy them.

In one or two counties in central New York the tent caterpillars are so numerous that they have stripped fruit trees of all their foliage and are swarming over the ground in search of other green stuff.

Twenty thousand pounds of Australian frozen beef were sold one day recently in New York city, the price paid for it being 1 1/2 cents per pound less than the prevailing market price for American beef of equal quality.

In many sections of the country the potato grower is this year freed from both his worst pests—bugs and blight. He isn't able to explain the situation on any scientific basis, but he's mighty thankful it's so, however.

Effective work on the part of government forest rangers in the Chugach national forest reserve in Alaska recently resulted in extinguishing fires that threatened the 28,000,000,000 feet of lumber which the reserve is said to contain.

A former Japanese student at the University of Wisconsin has lately purchased a Holstein bull in that state at a long price for shipment to Japan, there to become the head of a herd of dairy cows which this breeder intends to establish.

There is little gain in waging a campaign against the different diseases from which the farm animals or poultry may suffer if one does not at the same time clean up and thoroughly disinfect the premises whereon these same diseases have developed.

Not in years have we seen the gro-beaks go after the green peas in the pod as hard as they have this season. This is doubtless due to the fact that there have been no potato bug larvae, which usually constitute one of the chief items in their bill of fare.

A handy torch for burning out nests of the tent caterpillar is made by winding a coil of old rags or waste at the end of an iron rod and fastening this to a pole of some kind. Where the trees are not too large a handy and quick method is to do the job on horse-back.

Much may be done toward improving the quality of fruit at picking time by removing as soon as possible all fruit that shows defects of any kind. The nourishment that would otherwise be needed to ripen this imperfect fruit will thus be diverted to apples that are of good shape and free from disease.

A couple of months ago the writer nailed up a second wren's house (a tin can with a small triangular hole cut in the end) a few yards from a can that was already occupied by a pair of the birds. They paid no attention to it, but now that their little ones have left the nest the parents have started housekeeping in the new quarters.

A report recently published by the Canadian department of agriculture states that Dominion farmers lose $1,000,000 a year through merely leaving the male birds with the hens after the breeding season is over, about the middle of June, thus resulting in partially incubated eggs. If Canadian farmers suffer such a loss as this it is fair to assume that the loss to American farmers from this source would be several times as great.
