GOOD ROADS MOVEMENT

The Nation is now awake to the importance of good roads, and the movement promises to sweep the entire country. Farmers realize the importance to them of better roads, and the high cost of living is in a way largely the result of poor roads. In connection with this good roads movement, some telling statistics have been compiled. These show that the average haul throughout the country for the farmer in carrying his product to market is 9.4 miles. The average cost per ton mile in this country is 23 cents, which makes $2.16 per ton as the cost of carrying produce this distance to market by wagon. The cost here in Lake County is no doubt much more. In Europe the cost is but 8 cents per ton mile, which virtually means that for the same money three times the produce can be carried to market. The cost per ton of hauling these shows a saving of $1.41 over that in this country.

Estimates by the United States Government place the annual agricultural production of this country at 300,000,000 tons, which at $1.41 per ton totals a loss per year to us of over $400,000,000. This vast sum is wasted annually because we have not as yet suitable road facilities.

Another thing farmers suffer from on account of a lack of good roads is their inability to market their produce at all times of the year. Crops are rushed to market during a short time in the Fall when the roads are at their best, while frequently when prices are high the roads are practically impassable. But a few years ago 78 per cent of the population of the United States was on farms and only 22 per cent in the cities and villages.

This proposition has gradually been changing until in 1910 68 per cent of the people dwelt in the cities, leaving only 23 per cent on the farms. This no doubt is largely due to a lack of intercommunication facilities, for the farmer and his family are totally isolated for months at a time because of the condition of the roads.

A discussion of the various phases of the business and social aspect could be continued indefinitely, but enough has been said to show the thoughtful reader that the question of good roads is not solely for the automobile tourist, but is one which should vitally interest every patriotic citizen of our country, and above all, the farmer.

Makes Desert Proof

Sherwood G. Oxborrow was in town the first of the week to make proof on a desert claim near Flaggstaff lake in Warner Valley. Mr. Oxborrow resides with his family at Hood River, but has devoted much of his time the past few years in improving his desert claim. By the means of a gasoline engine, and centrifugal pump ample water for irrigation purposes can be diverted to the land from the lake. He has a seven-horse power engine, having a pumping capacity of 1800 gallons of water per minute. He states that the land successfully grows grain, potatoes and all the hardy vegetables and could be made to produce considerable hay.

Their quality could not be surpassed. Everything from the farm and garden was to be seen at the exhibit hall. The room provided which by the way was many times that of last year, was well taken up. There were plenty of blue ribbon winners and competition was keen in almost every class.

MEXICO ELECTION COMPLETE FARCE

Situation Less Grave But Monroe Doctrine May Be Reinforced.

According to press reports the election in Mexico which was held Sunday, so far as the president is concerned has been a farce, as not sufficient votes were cast to constitute a legal choice for the presidency to succeed General Victoriano Huerta. Only about 10,000 of the 80,000 eligible voters in Mexico City went to the polls. There was no semblance of disorder in the Republic's chief city during the election, and there was no secrecy about the voting.

Huerta might as well have issued a certificate of election to himself, as with this failure he will keep on doing business at the old stand. He, with Blanquet, will continue what is practically a military dictatorship in Mexico. In the meantime the constitutionalists are constantly defeating the federalists and limiting the sphere of Huerta's influence. General Diaz has resigned from the army.

The international situation which was grave, seems to be letting up a little. Europe does not seem disposed to press opposition too rashly, but if Europe is no more prudent the American people may expect a restatement and a reinforcement of the Monroe Doctrine in the peculiarly clear and forceful diction of President Wilson.

Mexico City, Oct. 28.—In the event that the Huerta-Blanquet ticket is shown to have polled a majority sufficient to be declared elected, as now seems probable, congress will declare the Huerta votes void and Blanquet will take the oath as vice president and assume office as president, pending the calling of further elections.

This statement was made by the Mexican foreign minister tonight. The clause in the constitution prohibiting the president from succeeding himself, does not apply to the vice president. Senor Moheno explained, and General Blanquet would be eligible for election.

town, receiving for their labors about $25."

Including the practical completion of the Panama Canal among the marks of "beneficent Providence," which the Nation he says, has engaged in the past year, President Wilson has issued his first Thanksgiving proclamation, naming Thursday, November 27, as a day devoted to gratitude for the people's blessings.

While loading some baled hay at the Transfer Company's barn last Saturday evening John P. Duckworth, president of the company, fell from the wagon receiving a broken leg just below the knee joint. He was using a hook in handling the bales and the breaking of a wire was the cause of his losing his balance. He is under the care of Dr. Smith and is reported to be recovering nicely.

The Klamath Northwestern states that dynamite, sufficient to blow up the entire city, was discovered last Thursday in a canal near the new court house building now in course of erection, and that it tears all the marks of having been a frustrated plan to blow up the county structure. The explosive was discovered by a child playing near the ditch. Exercising precaution in the event a plot was intended, the County Court has placed a night watchman at the partially completed building, with instructions to shoot anyone found prowling near the place.

Al Smith and family returned to Lakeview Saturday evening from Fallon, Nevada where they went a short time ago. Mr. Smith was interested in a lease on the Temple Theater at that place but sold his share to his partner J. F. Mayfield, and has returned to resume operation of the Smith picture show in the Wizard hall. Mr. Smith and family are occupying the Baxter house in the Walters Addition.

Halloween, the name popularly given to the eve or vigil of All Hallows, or festival of All Saints, which being the 1st of November, Halloween is the evening of the 31st of October. As this is the time when the urchins, and sometimes grownups, indulge in various sorts of pranks it may be well to look after the condition of your gates, signs or others forms of property that may be easily made portable by these fanmasers.
