POLITICS TO WAX WARM THIS YEAR

County and State Tickets Will Keep Electors Busy In 1914.

Politics will play an important part in 1914. It is to be a very busy year politically and it will spread along for the entire 12 months, so that those who take interest in such matters will have an abundance of gossip and campaigning to occupy their attention. First off, there will be the launching of booms and then will be re-registration for everyone. Then there will be the primaries; later the election and lastly frame-ups for the Legislature. This year there will be a state ticket elected and a county ticket. A legislative ticket is also to be selected by the voters.

Main interest will center around the contests for United States Senator and for Governor. Senator George E. Chamberlain's successor is to be elected and he desires to succeed himself. K. A. Booth has already announced himself as an aspirant for the Republican nomination. This will be the first direct election of United States Senators under the amendment to the Constitution of the United States. For the past eight years Oregon has had practically the direct election of Senators by means of Statement No. 1, which has served its purpose, and hereafter candidates for everything from Constable to Circuit Judge need not expect to gather votes by declaring themselves for Statement No. 1. Warm as the Senatorial fight will be, it will be mild compared to the primary fight for the nomination for Governor on the Republican and Democratic tickets, as there is a flock of aspirants already in the field and more coming.

An active contest is expected for Supreme Judges, as three are to be elected. Six months will elapse between the primaries and the general election, which is exceptionally long. It is this excessively long campaign that worries candidates. After the primaries, however, those who secure the nominations will remain under cover for four or five months and will not make their final campaign until the last month. When the general election has been cleared away, politics will continue active, for it will then be time to prepare for the Legislature and less than two months will elapse between the November general election and the convening of the Legislature.

MAKE WORK EASIER
Lakeview people are pleased to learn how it has been done. Its pretty hard to attend to duties with a constantly aching back; with annoying urinary disorders. Doan's Kidney Pills make work easier for many a sufferer. They're for bad backs. For weak kidneys. Here is convincing proof of merit: Frank Kaschauer, balliff County Court, Applegate Road, Jacksonville, Ore., says: "For years I was a miner and the work caused kidney and bladder trouble. The pain first attacked me in the small of my back, especially when I first got up in the morning. I also had trouble with the kidney secretions. Doan's Kidney Pills soon removed the complaint. You may continue using the endorsement I have given Doan's Kidney Pills before."

RULES APPLYING TO PARCEL POST

Some Important Things to Remember When Sending Out Packages.

What can go as parcel post-All fourth class mail matter, merchandise, samples, etc., except seeds, plants, cuttings, bulbs, scions. Photos take third class rate. What cannot go as parcel post are explosives, inflammable liquids, raw hides, nor any article of a nature liable to injure other mail matter. Do not send canned fruits, honey, etc., unless packed so securely that in event of breakage or rough usage the contents will not damage other matter. Liquids, except medicines, must be in a metal container and packed in wooden cases.

Size of parcel. Its length added to its girth must not exceed 72 inches. Weight up to fifty pounds in the first and second zones. Up to twenty pounds in all other zones. Address mark very plainly in one place only. Be sure to have your return address also. Insurance. Five cents additional postage will insure its value up to $25. Ten cents insures it up to $50. Don't include any writing in your parcel other than a bill or invoice. To do so subjects you to a fine. Don't send printed matter or photos by parcel post. Don't forget that all matter other than first class sealed is open to inspection by the postal authorities, so don't seal your parcels unless you want to pay first class postage at two cents per oz. Wrap it securely, using strong twine and plenty of it.

To understand the zones with this office as a center draw a circle with a radius of fifty miles, approximately. All points within this circle are in the first zone. Draw the next circle with a radius of 150 miles. All points within this circle and not in the first one are in the second zone. Draw the next circle with a radius of 300 miles. This makes the third zone. The fourth zone extends to points within 600 miles. The fifth zone extends to points within 1000 miles. The sixth zone extends to points within 1400 miles. The seventh zone extends to within 1800 miles. The eighth zone to all points beyond 1800 miles. This applies to all U. S. possessions except the Philippine Islands.

DANGERS OF A COLD.
Do you know that of all the minor ailments colds are by far the most dangerous? It is not the colds themselves that you need to fear, but the serious diseases that they so often lead to. For that reason every cold should be gotten rid of with the least possible delay. To accomplish this you will find Chamberlain's Cough Remedy of great help to you. It loosens a cold, relieves the lungs, aids expectoration, and enables the system to throw off the cold. For sale by all dealers.

GRAIN RATION SHOULD BE REDUCED While Cows Are Not Milking.
During the eight or ten weeks that cows go dry their food should be chiefly roughage. A daily allowance of two pounds of bran or oats or a mixture of two parts each of bran and oats and one part of linseed meal or corn oil meal makes a proper feed for a cow near calving. Some roots, cabbage, pumpkins or squashes are also very good. Highly carbonaceous roughage, such as straw and cornstalks, is not good at this particular time. Such feeds, with cold water, cold drafts or lying out at night on damp or frozen ground, are the chief causes of caked udder or garget.-T. L. Haecker, Dairy and Animal Husbandman, University Farm, Minnesota.

Silage For Beef Making.
A large number of experiments have been carried on at the Iowa station to determine the efficiency of silage as a steer feed and to learn the best methods of feeding it. Without a single exception, the silage fed cattle have returned a greater profit than where clover alone was fed as roughage. Still better results were obtained by giving both clover and silage. Inasmuch as it is fundamentally important that we grow legumes, such as clover or alfalfa, upon the farm, it seems very fortunate that this combination works so well for feed. Alfalfa should give slightly better results than clover because of its higher protein content and better average quality. Some oats straw may be utilized to advantage if no legume hay is available. Steers getting a full feed of silage, however, will consume very little dry roughage.-Orange Judd Farmer.

Banish the Sheep Tick.
Ticks are reddish gray insects that live on the blood sucked from the sheep. One of the quickest ways to lose money in sheep raising is to allow your flock to be half eaten by ticks. The very best treatment is to dip them, using a good commercial dip.

KEEP THE BULL UNTIL HIS VALUE IS KNOWN

Ten years ago I bought a Guernsey bull of a fashionable breeder of world-wide reputation, writes R. E. Dimick in Kimball's Dairy Farmer. This breeder had bought the bull as a calf to head his own herd, but at the age of about a year the calf developed a somewhat dark muzzle, and as this is not permissible in fashionable Guernseys the animal was offered to me as one of the most promising animals of the breed for practical purposes. I got the bull when he was a year and a half old and bred my common cows for the next three years, the third year inbreeding to his own heifers. It happened that spring that there was a great deal of trouble with calves all over the country. They had scours and were weak and puny. My own were no exception to the rule, and I attributed the trouble to the inbreeding and so decided to sell the bull. I got another and have had no trouble since; neither have my neighbors who did not use my bull. I am convinced now that the trouble was not with the bull or the breeding, as those who had

While there are minor differences in her appearance under different breeders and in different countries, the Ayrshire cow shows the same strong breed characteristics of shapely udder, good constitution and vigorous appetite. She is a fine dairy cow under all conditions. In Scotland, Canada and the United States she has been bred not so much for individual phenomenal records, but all along the line she has been pushed as a cow of uniform dairy superiority. The bull shown is Howie's Fitzaway. He is a topnotcher.

him after had no such trouble, and I had just as much trouble with the old cows as with the daughters. The party I sold to sold the bull at auction for $15, although I paid $75 and he paid me the same. The party that had him last used him two years, when he was killed by the cars. When I let him go I had not yet milked any of his daughters, but as soon as I did I found that I had lost a prize in letting the bull go. The calves that came from the inbreeding were even better than the first grades. Others who had used him found the same thing, and, though bulls that have cost three times as much have been brought in, anything with the blood of my old bull commands a premium over anything else in the country today. The man that had him last told me recently that if he could dig him up alive today he would willingly pay $2,000 for him, and I believe he was worth $5,000 of any man's money.

We cannot know the real value of a bull until we have tested his daughters, and for that reason when selling a bull it is well to reserve the right to buy him back if desired when his daughters have been tested.

BOURNE SCORES PAID PETITIONS

Ex-Senator Proposes Bill to Abolish Oregon System Menace.

Washington D. C., Dec. 27. (To the Examiner)-It has been quite generally agreed that under the system of paid circulation of initiative and referendum petitions two evils exist: The submission of many measures for which there is no popular demand, and the forging of signatures. To remove these evils, I shall propose an initiative measure prohibiting payment for circulation of petitions but placing restriction upon the right of the people to circulate petitions for any measure in which they feel an interest.

One of the fundamental purposes of the Oregon System is to increase the power of men and decrease the power of money. I am surprised, therefore, to find that there are some sincere advocates of better government who oppose the plan of prohibiting paid circulation of petitions. Most of those who oppose my bill acknowledge that it is right in principle but say it will not work satisfactorily in practice. I contend that it is right in principle it will ultimately be adopted and will work in practice.

An initiative petition is supposed to represent the desire of 8 per cent of the voters. It does no such thing. It represents merely the expenditure of a certain amount of money.

Possibly circulation of petitions serves to notify about ten per cent of the voters that the measure is being proposed, but, it that is the end to be gained, it certainly could be done more effectively by expending the money in the printing and circulation of copies of the bill which voters could read, rather than in securing signatures of voters to a petition which few take the time to read.

The adoption of my suggested bill would make the petition represent public opinion, for the number of volunteer circulators would be in proportion to the extent of public desire for the measure.

I admit that so long as the custom of paying circulators continues, practically every measure must be initiated in that manner, but I am confident the time will come when the question of citizenship in procuring and protecting desired laws under the initiative and referendum will be performed without special compensation.

The hiring of paid circulators for measures of candidates is no less unrepresentative than the hiring of workers or vehicles on election day, which have both been prohibited by the corrupt practices act.

Silver Lake Items

(Silver Lake Leader)
A heavy rain commenced falling Tuesday night and continued until Wednesday noon. Nearly an inch of water came down and soaked things generally.

Mrs. J. W. Embury returned Tuesday evening from San Francisco via Portland, where she has been visiting relatives. Snow is reported heavy in all the surrounding country. In the east trains have been snow-bound and at The Dalles over a foot of snow fell last Saturday. Here at Silver Lake the roads are dusty.

Last week we stated that more pork would be produced in Silver Lake Valley this year than will be consumed and much will be shipped to outside markets. In discussing the matter with some old timers and men well versed in such matters we are informed that within the next two weeks there will be about a thousand head of hogs killed, producing about 200,000 pounds of pork. From merchants we learn that this supply will be insufficient to satisfy the home demand for any length of time and before another season Silver Lake merchants will be shipping in bacon from outside points, throwing the balance of trade in pork against us. The only way to stop this is for our farmers to raise more hogs.
