POPULAR CANDIDATE FOR ATTORNEY-GENERAL

Of the many candidates for State offices no single one seems to meet with popular approval as does the candidacy of George M. Brown for Attorney-General. The writer has known him intimately for a quarter of a century and lent his aid under the old convention system in securing his nomination and election as Prosecuting Attorney of the Second Judicial District along in the early 90's, a position which Mr. Brown has held continuously ever since. Not only has Mr. Brown the support of his many Republican friends throughout the State, but Governor West has signified his approval of his candidacy.

Perhaps no better idea of his standing can be given than is set forth in an editorial appearing in The Oregonian of the 11th inst. under the heading, "Doing His Duty by the State," which is as follows:

"Just now there is a great deal of talk about law enforcement, and it is well enough, perhaps, if it serves only to call attention to the lamentable fact that the law is not obeyed, respected, nor enforced as it should be. The ideal public officer takes the law as he finds it, and shows neither fear nor favor in its administration. But the ideal public officer is a rare jewel, a treasure to be conserved wherever found.

"There is one such in Douglas County and his name is Geo. M. Brown. He has been prosecuting attorney there continuously for almost 20 years, surviving changes of circumstance and the vicissitudes of politics by sheer ability to command the general respect. He does not consider it the duty of a public prosecutor to prosecute for the mere purpose of securing a conviction; but he has a record for energetic pursuit of known malefactors that is without a parallel in the state. His master is duty and his loyalty is to the state and its best interests.

"If the public welfare demands a conviction, Mr. Brown gets it almost invariably; if it permits leniency or suggests protection, Mr. Brown fearlessly serves justice in that way. He is a good lawyer, a faithful public officer and a high minded citizen.

"It is suggested that Mr. Brown may be a candidate for Attorney-General of the State. The State will do well if it is able to get such a man for that important place."

Locally the political situation is unusually quiet, but press reports indicate that the many candidates seeking State offices are especially active throughout the Willamette Valley. There seems to be a world of candidates for the nomination for Governor, and the Democrats are as active and almost as numerous as the Republicans. Dame Rumor, the sly old girl, is said to be of the opinion that Governor West's candidate, Dr. C. J. Smith, is likely to lose out, Judge A. S. Bennett, of The Dalles, being picked as a winner. According to the same authority, Attorney-General Crawford is picked as a winner on the Republican side. Should Dr. Smith fail in securing the Democratic nomination, it is not impossible that public pressure will be so strong that Governor West will be compelled to make the race despite his many statements to the contrary.

The naming of Tom Kay, an ex-Portland policeman, for the nomination of State Treasurer on the Republican ticket, is likely to act as a boomerang. It is said that he was named in the expectation that the similarity of his name with that of Thomas B. Kay, present State Treasurer, would result in the nomination of a third party, thus defeating the present incumbent. However, recent developments tend to indicate that the result will be far different than was hoped by the ex-policeman's backers.

Plowing is now general throughout the Valley, and there is no doubt but that with average weather conditions another record-breaking crop will be harvested this year. Farming is now being conducted upon scientific lines to a much greater extent than has been the case heretofore, and in numerous instances farmers have decided that if they cannot get in their crops in a proper manner they will summer fallow the land rather than take chances on getting a poor crop. They are certain that the increased yield the following year will more than repay them.

Paisley Pick-Ups

C. E. Robison, the United States Commissioner will return to Paisley some time before April 1st. This will be of interest to many who have land matters pending before him.

The grade from the north end of the Chewaucan River bridge to the top of the hill has been worked down by the Northwest Townsite Company and is now an easy slope from top to bottom. Everyone will appreciate the change as the old grade was pretty steep in a couple of places.

Up to the present time 70 voters have registered at this office for Paisley Precinct and three for Summer Lake Precinct. This is a good showing as compared with all other sections of the county and state. But this is not one half of those qualified to register. Of the number thus far on the poll books for this precinct only seven are women, which is a rather poor showing for the ladies. It must be that the interest in woman suffrage is decreasing around here.

Annual assessment work was started on the Paisley water system Tuesday morning by the Mayor and a number of the employees of the city. They are working on the ditch line and have started in at the river just above the old Conn headgate. The plan now is to work around the hill to a point about 150 feet above town on the hill to the south where, eventually a reservoir will be constructed and water piped from there into Paisley. The water will be carried in pipes all the way from the river.

Will Take Vacation

C. W. Class, local agent for the N.-C.-O. Railway left yesterday on a vacation trip. He will first visit Mrs. Class who lives in Sacramento and later go to San Francisco before returning home. Mr. Class has been in the employ of the N.-C.-O. company for about five years and this is his first vacation in that time.

R. H. Bolt, assistant agent to his father in the Alturas depot, will have charge of the Lakeway office during the absence of Mr. Class.

Silver Lake Items

The new city hall was dedicated last Wednesday evening by the city council that body holding their regular meeting there.

Jim Hayes an old timer of this country was seen on the streets of Silver Lake last Thursday.

The Wenandy Livery & Auto Co., of Bend will on April 1st put on three new auto trucks and will carry passengers, express and baggage.

The Fremont Creamery and Cheese Factory held a meeting this week to find out as near as possible the amount of milk will be furnished by the first of April. After some discussion it was found that there would be about sixty head of cows milked on that date. The prevailing price of milk will be one dollar per hundred pounds for four per cent milk. This will bring milk to about the same price as last year. No definite date was fixed as to when the factory would start.

F. E. Anderson, commissioner of Northern Lake County has been in town this week and viewed out several proposed roads while here. He expressed the opinion that the proposed road leading west from Silver Lake to Bear Flat was one of great importance and should be made a public highway. He was also of the opinion that there should be a county road leading northeast to Burns. He did not express an opinion as to the north and south road passing through Fort Rock but was in favor of leaving the matter to the State Highway Commission.

Home Rule Little Advanced

A settlement of the Irish Home Rule difficulty apparently has been little advanced by the British Government's great concessions to the Ulsterites and taking the assertions of both political parties at their face value the deadlock remains as immovable as before Premier Asquith's conciliatory offer was made in the house of commons on March 9.

The signers of the Ulster covenant declare strongly that nothing less than the permanent exclusion of the Protestant counties of Ulster from the Irish government at Dublin instead of the proposed six year option will be considered by them.
