SOPHISTRY wiped off the map of reasoning over 2,000 years ago, in though it certainly deserved to be.

The Sophists in ancient Greece, you remember, taught a false philosophy of life and things. their premises being based on fallacy. They tried to make two plus two equal three. The Sophists are not all dead A few thrive today They argue of newspaper advertising:

"Oh, I never buy anything widely advertised or patronize merchants who make a splash in the newspapers. Their articles are eitner inferior or more costly because they have to include the cost of advertising."

BOSH! As a matter of fact, advertis ing enables you to buy BETTER things at CHEAPER prices Through advertising the sales are INCREASED ten, twenty, fifty fold. The manufacturer or merchant is thus able to sell BETTER and CHEAPER goods and still pay for his advertising. This recognized BUSINESS FACT is backed up by the experience of successful business men of this community and by wise home providers who closely watch the ada in this paper.

FARROWING TIME

Corn, the great fattening feed, which has made possible the great development of the por ! industry, is so handy that we feed entirely too much of it deficient in protein to make a good feed for the brood sow. The sow de veloping a litter must have an abundant supply of protein in the feed, says the Kansas Farmer.

The brood sow should never be kept in the same pens with fattening hogs It is not necessary nor desirable that the sow should be kept in a poor or emaciated condition. The supplying of feeds containing larger amounts of protein, such as oats, bran, olimeal and last, but not least, all the alfalfa hay she will consume, will keep the sow in a strong, thrifty condition. Where an abundance of alfalfa hay is kept constantly before breeding sows there is probably little necessity for the use of the grains or concentrates suggested. Our most successful hog men have long made a practice of keeping alfalfa bay constantly before the brood sows. This practice invariably results in strong. lusty pies.

As farrowing time approaches the quality the Yorkshire hog is hard to best. The packers prefer it to any other breed for bacon purposes, and the demand always exceeds the sup-ply. Yorkshires are white in color, naturally gentle and of quiet disposition, though excellent foragers. Their ears stand erect. Their bodies are long and deep, indicating max-imum bacon possibilities as well as capacity for carrying, easily farrowing and properly nourishing the large litters of pigs for which they are noted. The illustration shows a Yorkshire sow of excellent form.

herself three or four days before the pigs are due to arrive. The bed or nest should consist of a small amount of straw or chaff, and if the litter is coming early in the season the house should be good and warm. No changes should be made in the feed immediately preceding farrowing. The mistake most commonly made is to feed the sow too heavily immediately after the plus are farrowed. The danger to avoid is too heavy feeding at this time. The first twenty-four hours the sow should receive no grain whatever, but should be supplied with all the warm water she can drink. The feeding for the first three or four days should be very light, gradually working up to heavier feeds as the pigs get older and make heavier demands on the sow for milk It is a detriment to feed the sow too heavily at first. Heavy feeding tends to stimulate too large a secretion of milk, which invariably produces indigestion and kindred troubles in the pigs and at times may even produce a Teverish condition in the sow. Aft er the first week or ten days the brood sow with a good sized litter will require about all the feed she will consume.

KEEP THE SKIMMILK.

No Economy In Shipping Light Instead of Heavy Cream. The man who ships cream often asks whether he shall make it thick or thin, says the Farm Journal. All the logic is in favor of a cream that is at least 40 per cent fat. The milk mixed with butter fat is what makes it sour and spoil. Other things being right, a heavy cream will keep better and longer than a thin one. Cream of 40 per cent or higher not only stands transportation better, but is cheaper to ship, A gallon of 20 per cent cream contains one and two-thirds pounds of fat; the same quantity of 40 per cent holds three and one-third pounds, and the expense of shipping the light cream is just as great as for the heavy.

Twenty per cent cream contains 80 per cent of skimmilk, which the dairyman not only throws away, but pays expressage on besides. In other words. a pound of skimmilk shipped costs as much as a pound of fat and brings nothing, besides being given away, where if it were fed to calves a certain profit would result. The rule should be to keep at home every pint of skimmilk possible. The creamery doesn't pay for it, but the pigs do.

Frequency of Farrowing.

Experience shows that a sow that grows eight pigs to maturity twice a year is more profitable than one that produces more pigs and falls to develop them. Usually the sow has sufficient milk for eight, and when they are allowed to suckle six to eight weeks the pigs are in prime condition to wean without having any setback. The sow can generally be bred suc cessfully on the third day after weaning, and it is no trouble to have her produce two good litters a year if you give her proper attention.

Profitable Cows.

The half ton of butter per year cow is now represented in nearly all the breeds, but such performances are by no means common yet. The 500 pound On the morning of January 16 of butter cow is still a good proposi-
