"GETTING TOGETHER"

In a signed editorial Senator LaFollette gives voice to the following in a recent issue of his weekly:

In many states an effort is being made to unite Republicans and restore party harmony. The plan of procedure seems to be generally the same. The Standpat leaders and the Progressive Republican leaders are invited in evenly balanced numbers. The speakers are carefully selected and the speeches impartially sandwiched. Everything moves smoothly and with precision. The revered names and great achievements of another generation are remembered. Many events of more recent date are forgotten. Soft words prevail throughout together with much applause. And then having duly and formally assembled and manifestly "gotten together" that fact is declared and published to the country.

The task which confronts the Republican party is a tremendous one. It is not to be accomplished by honeyed words and flimsy pretext. It was no trivial and accidental circumstance which wrenched asunder the greatest political organization of modern times. The events which transpired at Chicago were the inevitable consequences of a decade of betrayal by bad party leaders.

The Republican Party had fought every battle for human rights on this continent for forty years. But from Lincoln, Sherman, and equal rights to Roosevelt, Aldrich, and industrial monopoly, was a steep descent.

The rank and file of the old party still held to its sacred memories and its lofty ideals. At every call they still followed the old flag. The fight was no longer to free the black men from chattel slavery and restore a broken and divided country. It was to free all men from industrial servitude, free every business from destructive monopoly and restore equal opportunity to an oppressed country.

Again and again that great army of seven million, fought and won, to find its leaders in close fellowship with the captains of monopoly in transportation and industry,—their campaigns financed by the Morgans, the Harrimans, the Fricks, the Pergusins, and the Hannas.

Promised tariff revision was juggled for ten years. Combinations, trusts, monopolies, holding companies, interlocking directorates, the control of credit and capital—the monster evils with which we are now grappling—came into being and grew to lusty power, almost wholly within the period of the two last Republican administrations, and while Republican leadership was dominant in both branches of Congress.

These are ugly facts with which the Republican Party must deal openly, frankly, fearlessly, before it can win back the confidence of the millions of men comprising the great body of that party.

For these conditions the Standpat Republican leadership must bear the responsibility. Not an act that strengthened monopoly had the approval of the seven million Republican voters.

The first organized opposition to these evils was formed in the Progressive Republican states. From one state to another it swept across the country until it gathered so much power that, undivided, it would have controlled the Republican party in 1912. Progressive Republican control would have given the country a progressive Republican administration in 1912.

Because that Republican leadership which was directly responsible for economic wrongs under which the country suffers, divided and defeated progressive Republican control, the people protested and registered their disapproval of the national election of 1912. Unless the Republican party recognizes and accepts these self-evident and indisputable facts and "gets together" on this basis, unless it advances under such tried progressive leadership will insure a vitally sound and thorough-going progressive government, it cannot hope to win and it ought not to win the national election of 1916.

CANDIDATE FOR COUNTY JUDGE

Dr. E. H. Smith this week filed his petition with the County Clerk announcing his candidacy for the nomination on the Republican ticket of County Judge of Lake County at the coming primary election. Dr. Smith has been a resident of Lake County for a number of years, during which time he has served as Mayor of Lakeview and a member of the city council as well as being identified with public enterprises and always proved himself an earnest worker for public good. Personally he is well known throughout the county and is highly honored as a genial, affable and public spirited gentleman. As a practicing physician his career has been crowned with success and in this choice his friends have selected a strong candidate for the race.

Eight hundred and eighty-two pints of whiskey were poured into the sewer at Albany, Oregon one day last week. The liquor was forfeited to the state by order of the court, and was seized while being taken across the Willamette river into Al-

Hibernians Defeat Foresters

In a very exciting contest, which was witnessed by close to 200 people at the Wizard Hall on Friday night, the Ancient Order of Hibernians basketball team defeated the Ancient Order of Foresters team by a score of 27 to 13. The game was closely contested all the way through, and elicited cheers from the spectators from time to time.

The line-up for the Hibernians was: H. Denaby, D. Donovan, J. Sullivan, J. Q. Walsh and C. Green; for the Foresters: H. Vernon, L. Ogle, Walter Dykeman, W. A. Zner and Eldon Currey.

After the game, dancing was enjoyed until 12 o'clock, music being furnished by the Lakeview Band.

THE EXAMINER FOR JOB WORK

Silver Lake Items

(From the Leader)

The Fremont band boys have announced a band concert for Friday night, April 10th.

Everett Long and Ira Bradley this week purchased the 24 and Anchor T horses of J. M. Hayes. The price is unknown.

The roads are now dry and are in as good condition as they generally are one month later in the season. K. S. Miles, lessee of the Lake County T. & T. Co., started south with a crew of men Wednesday to repair the line and expects to have first class service inside of ten days with Lakeview.

W. W. Wells, a prosperous farmer of Fremont, purchased a load of grain from E. G. Graves this week. He reports that the Fremont section is putting in much more grain this season than last and that the soil is in much better condition to produce a crop. Let the good work go on.

E. B. Marvin and Spurr E. Hoefel, of Arrow, Oregon, have been very successful the past winter in trapping Central Oregon furs. The gentlemen have their cabins decorated with 89 coyotes, 31 badgers, 11 wild cats, besides several cats of the striped variety; and, in the meantime, while trapping these varmints, they have also complied with the land laws on their homesteads. This shows what a homesteader can do if he will only use a little ambition.

Encampment Social Postponed
The regular monthly dance and social of the Encampment lodge to have been held in the I.O.O.F. hall Friday night, April 3, has been postponed indefinitely owing to the Elks Ball which will be held on that date, and also on account of the Odd Fellows Ball which will be held later next month with the celebration of the Anniversary of the Order.

Paisley Pick-Ups

(Chewaucan Press)

C. E. Campbell and L. P. Klipple started a small crew to work on their mines south of town Wednesday.

Mr. Frank Harris and family were Paisley visitors from Summer Lake Monday. Reason Harris came to Paisley with his parents and continued to Lakeview the same day.

Manuel Sanders and I. D. Hughes of Lakeview passed through Paisley on their way north, Friday. They stopped over night at the Hotel Chewaucan.

Willard Duncan, of Abert Lake was a Paisley caller, Saturday. He was calling on the Democratic residents and announcing his candidacy for the office of sheriff.

Mr. J. S. Elder who has just returned from Lakeview reports that the Forest Service has $750.00 ready to expend on the road up the Chewaucan river from Paisley. They are ready to commence work with in the next two or three weeks at the outside. They have agreed to expend this amount on the road provided the people of Paisley will subscribe a like amount for the same work.

Local Market Inactive

Thus far the local wool market is rather inactive, the only recent sales reported being the S. B. Chandler clip, amounting to about 7000 fleeces, and W. K. McCormack's wool at Summer Lake. Both these clips were purchased by O. T. McKendree representing E. H. Tryon, of San Francisco, but the price is not given out.

Other local buyers who are in the field for wool are: Harry Bailey, representing Caverly & Co., Boston; J. Frankl, Koshland & Co., San Francisco; and E. H. Clark, Elsemann Bros., of Boston.
