STANDING THE TEST

The Oregonian recently submitted to the various candidates for Governor a list of questions covering their proposed policies in case of election. In nearly every instance "the hook, bait and all" were swallowed and all sorts of economical measures were to be inaugurated. It was therefore with much surprise that the straightforward reply of Judge Bennett, one of the Democratic candidates was read. The Judge believes that business principles should be applied to public affairs, that taxation should be reasonable and tolerable, that all state commissions that are not necessary and profitable should be abolished, that taxes should not be paid oftener than semi-annually, that as a general rule he would hesitate about urging the state to go into debt for large amounts for any purpose. He further is of the opinion that months of careful study and investigation would be necessary before a determination could be reached as to just what policy would be most beneficial to the State. His conclusions are indicative of an able mind, and in case of his election Oregon will no doubt have an able executive.

From all reports it appears that either General Crawford or Dr. Withycombe will be the Republican candidate for Governor. Both are gentlemen of high standing, and in all the discussion have maintained that economy in every branch of government is absolutely necessary yet in no instance have they made wild assertions concerning the abolishment of numerous branches of government nor opposing everything and anything that tends to increase the expenses of the State regardless of its merits. The next Governor of Oregon will no doubt have many questions to settle, and if some of the rampant economists should happen to be elected they would either have to violate their pledges or lest the State suffer in consequence thereof.

The candidacy of Geo. M. Brown for Attorney-General is meeting with hearty approval all over the State, and it now seems certain that he will receive the Republican nomination hands down. His strict enforcement of the law as Prosecuting Attorney has gained him an enviable reputation and while for a time the "wets" rather opposed him, yet at present they are inclined to believe that a strict enforcement of prohibition laws will cause many to vote "wet" when they discover that their little "nips" will be shut off at the same time that saloons are closed.

Ralph Williams should receive the vote of every Republican in the State for member of the National Committee. He has been tried and not found wanting, and by placing him on the committee Oregon will have a representative of which she may be proud. He stands high in the opinion of the Republicans of the Nation, and to turn him down in favor of some untried politician who may possibly turn the organization over to the opposition, as was done in California, is something that every true blue Republican wants to avoid.

The southern part of the State should roll up such a vote for Judge Benson for Supreme Judge that there will be no misunderstanding by other portions of the commonwealth that we are to be reckoned with. No doubt every Republican in Lake County will mark a cross between the Judge's name and number, the later being 26.

While the government was preparing the expedition to Mexico, Secretary Bryan published an article in the Commoner saying: "Brute force is not the level upon which this nation settles controversies today." The Chicago Inter-Ocean says that this is why Bryan should go.

The citizen's duty is at the polls. The primary election is equal in importance with the general election. No citizen who stays at home on primary day has a right to complain at high taxes. The reason taxes are high is because of bad voting. We get what we vote for.

E. R. Crosby who passed some bad checks on Portland houses last week has not been heard of since. He disappeared completely after the shady transaction and is keeping under cover. It has been learned that he did not get the car for the purchase of which he wrote a check for $790. However he evidently got the cash for the balance of the checks or its equivalent. Besides his operations in Portland he mortgaged the same horses two or three different times, giving each party a first mortgage. Many debts were left along his trail also.

The Irish News was established in October 1912 and has been printed monthly since. The paper was started for the benefit of the Irish residents of this county, and the publishers give the reason of too much personal business to keep it going.
