A GOOD CHOICE

Dr. James Withycombe, the successful candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor, is a man who has long been held in high esteem by the people of Oregon. His connection with the Agricultural College at Corvallis has made him many friends in all sections of the State, and he has always been very popular in the farming districts. Should he be elected, of which there seems to be no doubt, his administration of State affairs will reflect credit upon himself as well as the State generally.

One member of the Federal Reserve Board, Henry A. Wheeler, is a Republican, the other three members being Democrats. All of the members rank high in the financial world, although Dr. A. C. Miller, of Berkeley, Cal., is said to have been a "radical" economic theorist in his academic days." Dr. Miller is a rank conservationist, it being only through sufferance of the general Government that we of the West are permitted to enjoy the free range of the vacant public lands. At the meeting of the Central Oregon Development League at Klamath Falls last August the doctor gave expression to numerous ideas that did not meet with the general approval of the delegates. During his remarks he took a rap at Bill Hanley for his broad ideas concerning conservation that made the delegates sit up and take notice.

Regardless of whether or not County Attorney Gibbs lost his first case, he has shown himself to be a painstaking officer and has greatly expedited the criminal work that has been brought to his attention. While perhaps he has not had the experience of some of the older members of the bar, yet at the same time he has shown his ability and willingness to learn and to inform himself generally of conditions that are against public welfare and to abolish the same. Numerous instances could be cited where Mr. Gibbs has acted promptly in abolishing conditions that are considered detrimental to the public welfare, and for such acts he is certainly entitled to credit.

Occasionally one hears of a rumor to the effect that the recall is to be brought to bear upon some official or other, or words to that effect. That there may be no misunderstanding as to the position of the Examiner in case an attempt is made to recall any public official in Oregon, either State, County, Precinct or City, it will state unequivocally that it is opposed to such measures, first last and all the time, and will to the utmost of its ability endeavor to prevent the starting of the recall against any official, and if unsuccessful will continue the fight until the final result is reached.

Lake County is assured of an efficient administration of public affairs during 1915 and 1916 as the result of the primary election held last Friday. All of the candidates chosen, both Republicans and Democrats, are men of ability and well fitted for the positions to which they aspire, and were it not an "off year" in politics it is not at all improbable that some of the Democratic brethren might be successful. The Examiner can see no reason why every candidate should not receive his full party vote, and such being the case the result of the Fall election is easily foreseen.

Weather conditions continue to be ideal for the farmer, and the outlook has indeed a roseate hue for the husbandman. The hay crop will be unusually bountiful, and unless there is a large shipment of feeders into Goose Lake Valley next Fall there will be a big surplus. In numerous instances the hay crop is as good at the present as it was at haying time last year, and with harvest time more than a month in the future the yield should be a record-breaker.

Complaint is heard of the treatment accorded citizens of the United States residing in Mexico. How about the poor unfortunates who happened to be in Colorado a few weeks ago?

The death roll of American citizens in Colorado promises to exceed that of Mexico, and yet the former attracted much less attention than the latter.

Barred from Pool Rooms

In an opinion rendered by Attorney General Crawford, at the request of W. A. Cowley, Mayor of Central Point, he holds that it is unlawful under the code for minors to play cards in pool rooms for amusement. The statutes are not clear, and the authorities conflicting, he declared, but the weight of them seem to regard it a violation of the law. He holds that towns unincorporated under title 26 of the statutes, can pass ordinances regulating pool rooms.

to carry the northern mail so as to be here at noon every day, last Wednesday. This gives us much better service both ways.

Silver Lake Items (From the Leader)

The Silver Lake public schools will close for the summer vacation next Friday. The schools are preparing an excellent program for the occasion.
 The rains of the past few days are a guarantee of bumper crops around Silver Lake this fall. All kinds of vegetation is looking unusually thrifty. Farmers coming in from all parts of the country report the crop prospect never better.
 Elnor Olson, who owns a homestead near town came in from Portland Monday. He reports that although much has been said to discourage settlers there will be a large immigration into the Silver Lake Valley this summer.
 The Wenandy Auto Co.'s truck passed through town Monday with another load of passengers. The load consisted of two families, in all ten persons, two dogs and a half dozen chickens, together with household goods, farm implements, etc. They were bound for Summer Lake where they will make their future home.

Northern Lake News (Fort Rock Times)

The Fremont cheese factory began business for the season Monday morning.
 Eickemeyer brothers have been given the contract of clearing about 250 acres of land for Geo. W. Price with their traction engine.
 The Valley View people who left last week to dig a well near China Hat Mt. on the proposed Bend road dug to a depth of about 34 feet and struck solid rock. There were signs of water but for want of blasting material the job was temporarily given up.
 The Times has received a complete copy of the report of J. W. Brewer of the Oregon State Immigration Commission relative to the eliminated area of the Des Chutes and Fremont National Forests. The report is too lengthy to publish. It is a frank statement of conditions here, not being overdrawn or antagonistic. It by no means agrees with statements recently made in the Portland Journal. One of these statements was to the effect that four out of five of every homesteads in the Fort Rock country were deserted.

NEW TELEPHONE LINE

LINE FROM BONANZA TO LAKEVIEW MAY BE EXTENDED

California-Oregon Power Co. Officials Make Trip of Inspection—Nothing Definite Given

Sidney Sprout, chief engineer of the California-Oregon Power Co. with headquarters at San Francisco, Geo. J. Walton, division superintendent, with headquarters in Klamath Falls, and J. T. Bradley, of Bonanza, paid Goose Lake Valley a visit this week. The purpose of the visit was the investigation of this valley with the view of extending the power line from Bonanza. They reached Lakeview Tuesday evening, and after looking over the possibilities here went down to New Pine Creek, returning here Wednesday afternoon and leaving for home this morning. The gentlemen expressed themselves as being well pleased with the Valley, but gave out nothing definite as to the conclusions reached in regard to extending the line over here. The distance from Bonanza to Lakeview is slightly in excess of 50 miles on an air line, and the expense of building the line between the two places would probably be close to $75,000.
 The California-Oregon Power Co. is one of the largest concerns on the coast and has a number of large power plants, notably those on the Klamath, several on Rogue River and one at Klamath Falls. All are connected up so that if one or more goes on the "blink" there will be several more ready to supply plenty of juice.

Peace Conditions Favorable

The belief that satisfactory arbitration will be effected in the Mexican situation is strengthened in the report that Huerta has authorized the Mexican mediation delegates to submit his resignation, in case such a course is found necessary to a settlement of peace negotiations.

A new magazine is to be launched before the reading public and Miss Margaret Wilson, daughter of President Wilson is to be the editor. The first issue will be in June and it will have for its purpose the promoting of the use of public school houses as centers of co-operative enterprises and recreation, forums of common counsel and as public polling places.

Wool Brings Big Price

The local wool which doubtless brought the biggest price of any local clip this season was that of J. P. McAuliffe and D. P. Maloy which was bought yesterday by J. Frank representing Koshland & Company of San Francisco. The wool is considered of the best quality and it is understood that it brought 16 1/4 cents per pound.
 Mr. McAuliffe has about 35,000 pounds and Mr. Malloy about 1,500 pounds.

State Loses Taxes

Western Oregon Counties will lose an aggregate of $460,395.32 in taxes this year through the decision of the Southern Pacific Company not to pay on lands whose title now is subject of litigation in the famous land grant cases in the Federal courts. Although the Southern Pacific has appealed the decision, which was adverse to the company, to the Supreme Court, it declares its intention of withholding payment of taxes until the case is decided. If the land finally is declared the property of the Southern Pacific, the unpaid taxes will be paid, with interest.

Runaway Accident

An accident which might have resulted very disastrously occurred yesterday afternoon just below the George Lynch place in Bullard canyon. The accident happened when the team driven by W. P. Dykeman, of the Mammoth Stables became frightened at a pack outfit near the road. He was coming down the canyon and when the team started Mrs. Lloyd Morris and Miss Mildred Struck, who were with Mr. Dykeman attempted to get out of the rig caused to upset.

When the buggy turned over the team was stopped allowing the occupants to free themselves. Miss Struck sustained a dislocated shoulder and Mrs. Morris received a sprained ankle and other minor bruises. After Mr. Dykeman got in front of the team they took a second fright dragging the rig over him. He is now nursing a quite badly smashed foot, but is fortunate in sustaining no worse injuries. The rig was badly demolished.

Boys' Short Course in Agriculture

In connection with the regular summer session of the Oregon Agricultural College, a two weeks' short course in Agriculture will be given for boys of the Seventh, Eighth, and High School Grades. A special illustrated circular of 16 pages has been issued and mailed to all county school superintendents and to city and village superintendents and principals. Copies may be secured of them or of the director of the summer school, Prof. E. D. Ressler, Corvallis, Oregon.

The circular contains a description of the instruction to be given, full information in regard to R. R. rates, cost of board and room, supplies and clothing to be bought by boys, method of application for enrollment, etc. There are also pictures of the boys of last year's course in class, laboratory, field, swimming pool, on hikes and at games. Thirty-five boys representing over a dozen counties, attended the first session. Accommodations for 100 boys are provided this year.

Preparatory to resuming work on the construction of highways in Crater Lake National park, the war department is establishing a road camp at Wild Cat, at the Southern boundary of the park as a base of supplies. This is a road from Wild Cat to Kirk, the northern terminus of the railroad, over which machinery is shipped into the park. According to George Sparrows, who has charge of the work now being done, there will be 60 men at work
