 J. D. Gibson is on the sick list. He has been confined to his home for the past few days on account of a severe attack of rheumatism.
 Oris O. James went to Bend and filed on a desert claim in 15-12. This is an excellent piece of land and under his method of doing things it will undoubtedly be converted into a fine ranch.
 John C. Stiles moved to his homestead west of town this week. He has built a very comfortable cottage large enough for two and has 10 acres cleared and seeded.
 Rev. Jinnitt of Prineville, stopped at the Hotel Royal Tuesday night on his way home from Sisters where he had been called to conduct the funeral services of the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Hodson.
 Claude, Ray and Fay Mudd have turned trappers and with very good success. Last week they caught a catamount of ordinary size and this week they succeeded in landing an extra large one.
 Reward—We have a standing reward of $100 for any of the "knockers" down the line who will talk about the country five minutes without speaking a falsehood.
 Chas. T. Pinkham and son arrived Thursday with three wagon loads of freight, they have worked up a nice business in this line through their business methods and promptness of handling freight.
 It is usually conceded that getting into desirable company is a hard task, but recent developments show that it is a more difficult task to leave good company when the door is locked from the outside.
 M. N. Niel has sold his interest in his restaurant to his son, Frank Niel, and Eugene Andrews. The new proprietors will take charge as soon as they can secure a cook. They intend to keep a first class restaurant.
 J. N. B. Girking returned Wednesday from Athena where he has been for some time looking after his farm interests. He was accompanied by his son Deane. Mr. Girking intends to clear and seed about 100 acres more of his farm this winter.
 W. A. Hunt filled on a homestead about two and one half miles northeast of here. He expects to move his family on the place next spring. Mr. Hunt says that he does not understand why such a choice piece of land should remain vacant so long.
 F. H. Marion moved his family to town this week in order to be near school. He purchased two lots on Strickler Avenue and will soon build a residence. He also contracted for 4 acres of C. S. I. land near his homestead.
 B. P. Nichols is contemplating installing a hydraulic pumping plant for irrigation purposes on his land north of town. An expert was on the ground Thursday going over the proposition and will soon submit an estimate of the cost.
 Lumber but in Crook county the best timber to make it out of—new and up to date machinery. We are not novices in the business—all kinds of lumber, shingles and any kind of moulding that can be made on a machine. See our material and get our prices before buying. Lumber delivered anywhere.
 DORRANCE BROS., Cline Falls, Ore.
 A very quiet wedding was solemnized in the parlors of the Hotel Prineville Monday evening, when Mrs. Nellie Chambers of Seattle, became the bride of Herbert E. Glazier of Sisters. Judge Bell performed the ceremony. The happy couple left for their home Tuesday. The Review extends congratulations.—Prineville Review.

Don Greenbald Jr. was in town today from his ranch near Forked Horn Butte.

 A petition is now being circulated for a county road from here to Cline Falls, the route has been gone over carefully by men who are practical in this line and several objectionable features to the old road are to be eliminated. It is sincerely hoped that this road may go through the regular form without delay.
 J. T. Park and family and C. A. Reeves of Amity moved in to their homesteads near Cline Buttes this week, they will at once begin clearing and fencing their land. These men are practical farmers and are just the kind of people the country needs.
 The Union Sunday School which meets in the Rutherford building each Sabbath morning at 10 o'clock sends through the columns of the Chronicle a cordial invitation to every man, woman and child interested in the best social, educational and religious conditions of our new home in central Oregon to aid by their presence and cooperation in bringing about these ends. "The Bible our Text book and all men our brothers."
 SUPERINTENDENT.
 All good things come to those that wait and now the men who have hung so tenaciously to their range horses through all the years that these animals have been practically worthless are about to have their innings. The horse that is now commonly known here as the "fuzzy tail" is rapidly taking the place of the larger breeds in railroad and canal work where size is not so requisite as roughness. The converting of the desert here into farms destroys the range that thousand of horses have heretofore roamed over and the time for them to raise in price could not have been more opportune.

Annual Meeting of Squaw Creek Co.
 The annual election of officers of the Squaw Creek Irrigation Company was held in Prineville last Saturday. The meeting was well attended by the stock holders and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:
 A. Thompson, president; J. W. Howard, vice president; E. T. Slayton, secretary; Will Wurzweiler, treasurer. The board of directors consists of A. Thompson, Arthur Hodges, J. W. Howard, E. T. Slayton, and Fred Wieser.

 The New York Cash Store has just received a fine assortment of embroidery silks which are being sold at the popular prices.
 Mr. Frank Murk returned Monday from a business trip to his former home of Woodland, Wash. Mr. Murk says that in some respects the Columbia river valley may be ahead of this but when the question of climate arises this country is so far superior that there is no comparison. While he was at Vancouver a heavy fog hung over that place with a cold east wind blowing. Quite a difference in that climate and this.
 The Ladies Aid Society met at Mrs. Tullar's home Wednesday. This society was organized last June and its work since has been very commendable. By giving socials making quilts, etc. they have taken in about $75 which is to be used for the building of a new church. The officers are as follows: Mrs. J. C. Tullar Pres., Mrs. J. C. George, Vice Pres., and Miss Nellie James Secretary and Treasurer.
 The Oregon Eastern surveying party consisting of eighteen men and all necessary equipment for a winters work are now camped at Forests. They are working steadily southward and will move camp to Redmond the first of next week. J. R. Graham, chief engineer of the party left Bend today on a trip south for the purpose of looking over the country. The destination of this party is not known but it is thought by many to be Klamath Falls. It is also claimed by those who are in a position to judge that the work that is now being done is not of a preliminary character but that actual cross sectioning is being done and grading stakes set. What the ultimate result of this survey will be is only a matter of conjecture as those in charge are very averse to giving out information, but the manner in which they have proceeded since leaving Madras dispels the doubt that this is not another "duff."
 Mr. Fred Hesse representing the Columbia Engineering Works of Portland was in town Thursday, looking after business in the interest of his company. He has recently installed a hydraulic pumping plant for the Water & Light Co. of Bend and now goes to Trail Crossing to put in an irrigation plant there for R. M. Morris. Mr. Morris will use an 18 inch machine with a fall of 19 1/2 feet raising the water 220 feet and with this plant alone will have ample water to irrigate 200 acres. After finishing the work at Trail Crossing Mr. Hesse will go to Paisley where he is called by a party of Portland capitalists who are contemplating raising water out of the Chevaucan River to irrigate about 10,000 acres this installation will require two machines one 48 and one 32 inch and will cost about $20,000.

Dr. Newsom.
 Dr. Gail S. Newsom, of Arlington, arrived here last week to take up the practice of medicine.
 The doctor is a native of Crook county, his parents being among the pioneers of Prineville. Here he received his early education. In 1892 he began his literary course in the University of Oregon. After completing the Academic course he began his medical studies in the medical department of the same institution graduating from there with high honors, being valedictorian of his class. Immediately after receiving the degree of M. D. he entered the Multnomah County and City hospital as house surgeon. Soon afterward the O. R. & N. finding need for the services of an active, up to date physician and surgeon for east of the mountains tendered the position to Dr. Newsom, notwithstanding the fact that there were several applicants for the position, which was accepted and he at once moved his headquarters to Arlington. There he assumed active charge of the medical work connected with the building of the Columbia River & Oregon Central Railroad employing on an average 1200 men. The doctor's position here gave him a vast experience as an emergency surgeon, besides the treatment of the ordinary diseases of camp life.
 Coming to Prineville on a visit to his parents he was amazed to note the development of the Deschutes valley and believing in its great future decided to locate at Laidlaw.
 The people of this vicinity are well pleased to have such a competent physician here.

OPPORTUNITY! BUSINESS! PROGRESS!

Buy lots in town of LAIDLAW.
 The coming metropolis of the vast irrigated district in Crook County Oregon.

The town of Laidlaw is located on the west bank of the Deschutes river and is very near the Geographical center of some 300,000 acres of Oregon's choicest irrigated lands.

Laidlaw is also located at the intersection of the Corvallis & Eastern Railway survey and the Deschutes river which will add to the prosperity of the town. It is also the headquarters of the Columbia Southern Irrigation Company.
