TUSKEGEE HOSPITAL ROW TEST OF HARDING ADMINISTRATION SAYS N. A. C. P.

James Weldon Johnson, Secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, 69 Fifth Avenue, New York City, has issued a statement calling the contest over the Tuskegee Hospital for Colored War Veterans a test of the Harding administration's attitude toward Negroes.

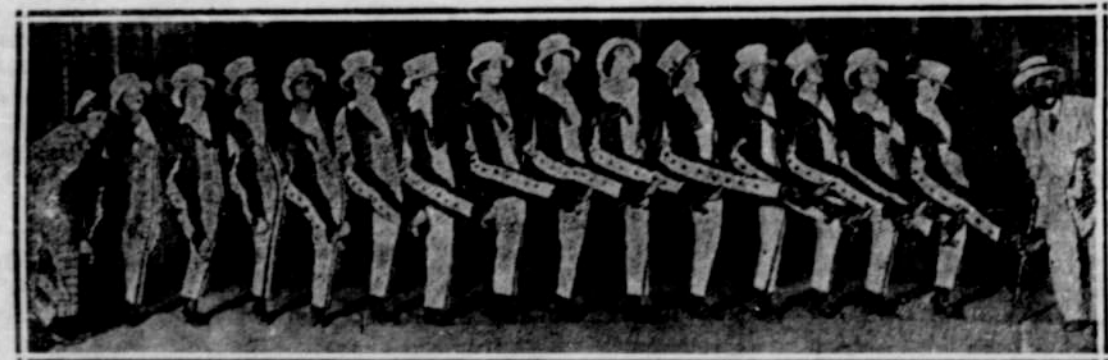

"Despite the government's promise made by President Harding to the staff of the Tuskegee Hospital for Colored War Veterans, with colored doctors and nurses, the Ku Klux Klan, with the apparent connivance of Col. Stanley, have already driven away Dr. Kenney, a colored physician of high standing, who has had to flee with his family from Tuskegee.

"The contentions of the Alabama white people are untrue and absurd. They pretend to fear the menace of a colored personnel in charge of the hospital, whereas the Tuskegee Institute, entirely manned and attended by Negroes with several hundred teachers and fifteen hundred students has never given them, although in their midst, grounds for the slightest apprehension.

"Colored people through the United States are waiting to see how the United States government will meet this challenge of the Ku Klux mob-bists.

13TH ANNUAL REPORT N.A.A.C.P.

A copy of the 13th annual report of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People came to our desk this week, containing a wealth of information about the Dyer Anti-Lynching Bill in the U. S. senate.

WHY GARVEY DENIED BAIL

The Advocate is unable to understand why Marcus Garvey is denied bail pending the outcome of the appeal of his case. There are hundreds of cases where people, convicted of using the mails to defraud, and even murder, have been admitted to bail pending an appeal.

The election in Minnesota Tuesday in which the Labor Party candidate for U. S. senator defeated the Republican and Democratic candidates for that office, is indisputable evidence of the dissatisfaction amongst voters of the old parties.

PARSON KNOCKS DEVIL OUT OF "WORST SINNER"

A preacher down in Texas advertised that on a certain Sunday the "worst sinner in town" would join his church. The church was crowded to the doors to see his "worst sinner" join the church.

HARRY T. BURLEIGH

Harry T. Burleigh was born in Erie, Penn., about fifty years ago, of parents who were very modestly endowed with this "world's goods," and thus in acquiring his education he was handicapped from this viewpoint as well as from the color of his skin.

At the next concert, Teresa Carreno was the visiting artist. In those days she was making her early American tours. With her was a kindly lady, of whose identity the boy had no knowledge. But she played an important part in his musical life.

In 1894, competing with sixty applicants, he won the position of baritone soloist at St. George's church in New York, which position he has held for twenty-nine years.

Mr. Burleigh has toured Europe, and in this country as a concert baritone and has won much praise for his gifts as a singer.

He copied many of the orchestral parts of the "New World" symphony from Dvorak's original partitur, getting it ready for its first performance by the Philharmonic orchestra.

Mr. Burleigh says the second theme of the first movement of the "New World" resembles strongly "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot." Mr. Burleigh used to play and sing the "Spirituals" for Dvorak, for Dvorak was keenly point with John White and Max Spicker. And here he met Dvorak and Mr. Burleigh says that while he was never really a pupil of the master, he knew him better and saw perhaps more of him than some of his regularly enrolled pupils.

He told her that he was the boy who some years before had opened the door when Mme. Carreno played at Mrs. Russell's. The lady told him to come back after a few days, that his case would be reconsidered. And when he returned he was awarded a scholarship. The lady was none other
