President's Commission Raps Federal Bureaus.

CREDIT SYSTEM HIT

Need for More Aggressive Attitude to Aid Agriculture Is Cited in Report.

Washington, D. C.—Sharp criticism of the administration of certain federal laws and agencies affecting the farmers was contained in the third report of the president's agricultural commission made public Sunday night. It dealt with the conduct of the department of agriculture, interstate commerce commission, federal reserve board, tariff commission and internal revenue bureau.

Charging that administration of some departments is seriously handicapped by the interdepartmental or interbureau jealousies, the commission said it found two "unfortunate results." These were that the "dog-in-the-manger" attitude of one department may retard development of another, and that rivalry may prompt proposals for departmental expansion.

The report declared that the country lacked a unified credit system, a condition harmful to agriculture; that the interstate commerce commission has "failed or been unable to recognize its responsibility as advocate of the shipper and has developed into a court," and that the tariff commission can materially assist agriculture by "functioning actively along the lines of its constituted powers and responsibilities."

Complete separation of the regulatory and service functions of government departments was recommended and it was urged that uniform state plant and animal quarantine regulations be devised, and that co-operative marketing organizations be given full benefit of tax exemption. In many instances, the commission declared, "more effective administration requires only the adoption of a more sympathetic or aggressive attitude on the part of government officials," while in others it found need for increased facilities, personnel or funds.

Many instances of "unnecessary and unwise" duplication of effort in assembling information for use by departments which the commission said it had observed were characterized as "thoroughly reprehensible." In many cases it "seems to be done deliberately," the report added, and recommended creation of an inter-departmental agency to promote coordination in assembling and using government information and data.

LAKE DAM BREAKS; FARM AREA FLOODED

White Salmon, Wash. — An apple packing house was demolished, an orchard destroyed, two bridges were washed away and another undermined and a barn carried away when the irrigation dam in the lower lake in the White Salmon district burst at 9:30 Saturday night and 28 feet of water swept down the canyon, wiping out or damaging everything in its path. The flood waters followed the course of Jewett creek to the Columbia river. The damage was estimated at $13,000.

McDonald's new apple packing house, with equipment, was destroyed. Herbert Williams lost half of his apple orchard. The W. N. Uks bridge and an old unused span near Jewett's farm resort were washed away. The Canyon road bridge near the city limits of White Salmon was menaced. A chicken house owned by Charles Sissons was caught by the waters and live fowls killed. Larson's pumping plant was swept out. The barns of W. E. Brown and N. Bullard were destroyed.

Warden's Trial to Open.

Denver, Colo. — Thomas J. Tynan, warden of the Colorado state penitentiary since 1909 and nationally known as a prison official, will go to trial here before the state civil service commission on charges of inefficiency, incompetency and "brutal and inhuman treatment of prisoners." In published statements Warden Tynan has denied all the charges made against him and charged that Mr. Osborne and Gov. Sweet are his personal enemies.

Bandits Get $19,000.
