Armed guards are maintaining a nightly watch over the Wyoming gubernatorial mansion that houses Nellie Taylor Ross, governor, it became known Friday. No reason for the patrol was made known, although it was learned that county officials had made inquiry regarding the identity and character of persons living in the vicinity of the mansion.

STATE NEWS IN BRIEF.

Salem. — Clarence W. Thompson, who Saturday was sentenced to a term of seven years in the state penitentiary for the theft of $3000 from the state treasury department is assigned to work in the prison yard.

Hood River.—The Oregon Lumber company has opened its logging camps on the headwaters of the west fork of Hood river and a crew of 60 men has been started getting out Douglas fir on a tract within the Mount Hood national forest.

Salem.— The Willamette valley orchard district never presented a more beautiful picture than Sunday. This was the expression of the thousands who participated in Salem's annual observance of blossom day.

Hillsboro.—Contracts were let Saturday by the county court with ten quarries for a total yardage of 34,401 broken stone for road construction this season. Fifty-seven bids were considered. The total of the contracts was $33,290.

Hillsboro.—The Hillsboro chamber of commerce at its Thursday night meeting arranged for a committee of 10 to develop a county fair at Hillsboro, and a committee to co-operate with the city park commission to arrange for a Fourth of July celebration at Shute park.

Silverton.—The executive committee of the Oregon Jersey Cattle club met at Silverton last week to discuss plans for the annual jubilee. The club is divided into six counties, each of which will hold its own jubilee in the nature of a picnic. The Marion county jubilee will be held at Salem in May.

Hood River.—L. M. Bentley, local contractor, has started a crew of men on construction of a new bridge over the west fork of Hood river at Camp Overall, replacing an old wooden structure recently condemned. The new bridge will cost approximately $5000. It is a link of the Lost Lake highway.

Salem.—Officials of the state highway department reported Saturday that the Roosevelt highway was completed to Devil's lake, 15 miles south of Neskonwin, and had been graded to the Siletz river. Before the end of 1927 the highway will have been completed as far south as Newport, these officials said.

Forest Grove.—An exact and carefully detailed agricultural survey of western Washington county is being sponsored by the Forest Grove chamber of commerce in connection with a plan to determine exactly what commodities can best be produced by the soil near Forest Grove and can be most successfully marketed.

Pendleton.—Right of way for an extension of three miles on the Pendleton-Holdman road has been obtained by the Umatilla county court, and bids are soon to be advertised for by the court. It is expected that construction of this unit of the road will be completed this season, according to I. M. Schanep, county judge.

Eugene.—Street paving in Eugene has made an early start this spring, according to Harry E. Devereaux, city engineer, and all contractors have made good headway, taking advantage of the favorable weather. Paving has been carried on steadily for the past five and a half weeks except for a few rainy days now and then.

Bend.—With 300 members lost in the past year, including many influential business and professional men, and its charter revoked, the Bend Klan No. 39, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, is virtually dead. It was stated Saturday by Klagle H. W. Giddings, formerly of Portland, that the charter has been revoked "for just cause."

Hillsboro. — A committee of the chamber of commerce, headed by George Chambers, has been appointed to develop a community program for forest week beginning April 27. The ideas to be emphasized are conservation and protection. The churches, the Boy Scouts, the public schools and various community organizations will all have a part.

Hillsboro. — The new Liberty theater, under construction by Orange Phelps, pioneer in the business in Hillsboro, will be one of the finest in the Pacific northwest. The Portland building code is being followed in its construction, and it will be a class A structure capable of seating 1000. It is expected that the opening will be the latter part of June.

Pendleton.—Possible profits in the sheep business by getting a start through raising orphan lambs have been proved by Mrs. Charles Nelson, wife of a cattle man on upper Butter creek, in the Pilot Rock district. Last year Mrs. Nelson raised 125 lambs that she got for nothing from big sheep outfits. Last fall she was offered $9 a head for them, or more than $1100.

Gold Hill.—A general resumption of the limestone industry in the Gold Hill district is at hand with the rekindling of the fires in the local cement plant. The plant has been forced to suspend operation the last two months due to flood waters of Rogue river taking out the railroad bridge at Grants Pass last February, cutting off transportation between the plant's quarry at Marble mountain and the plant at Gold Hill.

INDIANS ASK AID OF GOVERNMENT

Plea for $3,000,000 Loan Is Made to Secy Work.

TRIBAL APPEAL MADE

Half of Redmen, Unable to Subsist, Said to Have Sold Lands Far Below Value.

Klamath Falls, Or.—Members of the tribal council of the Klamath Indians Friday appeared before Hubert Work, secretary of the interior, with an urgent plea for his influence toward getting a $3,000,000 government loan.

As spokesman for the Klamath tribe, Seldon Kirk, chairman of the council, told of the hardships of his people in their efforts to farm their lands on the reservation, and declared that a government loan appeared to be their only salvation.

"But if you are now unable to make your farms pay, how would you expect to repay the government?" asked the secretary.

"Through the sale of our reservation timber," replied the tribesman.

Levi Walker, college graduate and one of the leaders on the reservation, then urged that the government be more liberal in its allowances to the Indians, in turning over the money from the sale of their timber.

"At the present time we are getting but about $200 a year for each Indian," he said. "This is insufficient to keep us. We feel that the government should make a more liberal allowance."

Other members of the tribe also voiced appeals for federal aid in the way of a loan and additional timber sales allowances. The secretary was told that 50 per cent of the Indians had sold their allotted land for a quarter of its value simply because they had been unable to subsist on their land.

The conference was staged amid a colorful surrounding. A small forest of towering pines formed a picturesque background, while the Indians in their sincere and quiet way stood almost as silent as the pine sentinels about them during the conference.

Following his meeting the tribal Indians Secretary Work and party visited the famed Wood river country, which has long been known as the garden spot of the Klamath country.

Enroute to the reservation, where luncheon was held at the agency, the party inspected the Modoc irrigation project and the sawmills which skirt the shores of Klamath lake. Secretary Work and Reclamation Commissioner Mead were honor guests at a public banquet at the White Pelican hotel. More than 200 persons were in attendance, with both the secretary and his reclamation chief promising to do whatever lies within their power to solve the problems of the water users of the Klamath district.

Giant Fossil Is Found.

Winnipeg, Man.—Professor W. E. Cutler of the University of Manitoba, leader of a research expedition for the British museum near Tendaguru, 60 miles north of Lindi, British East Africa, has discovered one of the largest dinosaur skeletons in the world, according to word received here.

Strikers Get Backing.

Washington, D. C.—Employment of non-union painters to fill the places of strikers led Saturday to the first of a threatened series of sympathetic strikes. Plumbers, steamfitters and electricians employed on a large construction project walked out and asserted that the movement would be "progressive," as other projects were surveyed to determine whether they were being operated on an open-shop basis.

Bellingham Mill Burns.

Bellingham, Wash.—Fire of undetermined origin caused damage estimated at between $250,000 and $300,000 at the plant of the Puget Sound Saw Mills & Shingle company in South Bellingham. The planing mill, nine dry kilns, four sheds filled with lumber, the office and part of the company's dock and several million feet of dressed lumber were destroyed, but the main mill was saved. The loss is fully covered by insurance.

Japanese is Jealous.

Tokio.—A letter picked up on the beach near Kamaqura and handed to the police contained these injunctions from a jealous naval officer to his wife: "Never converse with the postman or the tradesmen. Have the newspaper and letters delivered through the slit in the door. Don't go to the public bath at night."
