PEACE IS AIM OF COOLIDGE

Visit of Fleet to Australia Expected to Promote Friendship.

Washington, D. C.—President Coolidge, in greetings sent to Australia on the occasion of the American fleet's visit, expressed the hope that the people of Australia would join those of the United States in the purpose to maintain the peace of the world.

"This, I believe," he said, "can best be secured through a full and sympathetic understanding between the nations, through faith in their memorable intentions, through their common determination to eliminate causes of possible dispute and their integral fulfillment of international obligation."
"In questions touching the great region of the Pacific I am sure that our aims will always be similar; that, with the assistance of the other nations which look out on the Pacific, peace will be so clearly the established order that it will become a benefi-cent tradition."

Helen Gardener Dead.

Washington, D. C.—Mrs. Helen Hamilton Gardener, author, educator and social worker, and the first woman to be appointed to the civil service commission, died here Monday in her 72d year. Mrs. Gardener was appointed a civil service commissioner by President Wilson in 1920 and held that office until her death.

Born near Winchester, Va., she was christened Alice Chenoweth, but when a young woman she took the pen name of Helen Hamilton Gardener.
She was the widow of Colonel Selden Allen Day, U. S. A., who died six years ago.

Liquor Cargo Gets In.

New York.—The 2000-ton steamship Augusta was captured by customs officers in the Hudson river off Dyckman street Monday after the ship had run the gauntlet of the rum blockade and her crew had unloaded and disposed of a cargo of liquor worth $250,- 000 at bootleg prices, leaving only 15 bottles aboard.

The crew of 24 men was arrested and the captain admitted having turned the liquor cargo over to "retailers" for distribution.

Horse Hurts Film Star.

Pendleton, Or.—Injuries in the groin and ribs were sustained by Norman Kerry, Universal motion picture star, here Sunday when the cinch broke on a wild horse and the animal knocked Kerry down. He was unconscious for a time and his condition was serious, but he was improving today. In the accident the horse charged against Edward Sedgwick, picture director, and knocked him over, besides upsetting a camera.

Bryan Dies Content.

Winchester, Tenn.—Before leaving here Saturday, after delivering an address, William Jennings Bryan, who died suddenly in Dayton, made the following statement to a reporter: "If I should die tomorrow I should feel that much has been accomplished in the greatest cause for enlightening humanity ever known. I believe that on the basis of the accomplishments of the past few weeks I could truthfully say, 'well done.'"

Carrot Strangles Boy

Bend, Or.—Jack Marvin Mayfield, 3, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Mayfield of the La Pine country, was strangled to death Saturday night by a piece of carrot when a rooster jumped at him while he was eating the vegetable.

The carrot lodged in the windpipe and although the child lived for some time he died before a physician could make the 44-mile drive from here.

Egremont Castle Sinks.

Manila.—The steamer Corregidor Sunday reported the sinking of the British steamer Egremont Castle, which went aground off Pubbataha reef last Monday. The Corregidor went to the assistance of the Egremont Castle in the Sulu sea and found wreckage of the vessel in the vicinity.
All of the crew are believed to have been saved. The Egremont Castle was carrying a cargo of sugar.

War Gifts Disposed Of.

Washington, D. C.—Thousands of little keepsakes and comforts, intended for American soldiers in France and which never reached those to whom they were addressed, were turned over Monday by the war department to the postmaster-general for disposition through the dead-letter office.

Addresses had been destroyed or so mutilated as to prevent delivery.

Peary, Bowdoin Report.

Washington, D. C.—The steamers

SERVANT FINDS BODY

Death Caused by Apoplexy, Physicians Find After Hasty Examination.
Widow Bears Up Well.

Dayton, Tenn.—William Jennings Bryan, three times presidential nominee of the democratic party, and known the world over for his eloquence, died here Sunday afternoon.

The end came while the great commoner was asleep and was attributed by physicians to apoplexy. He had retired to his room shortly after eating a large dinner to take a short rest.
Mrs. Bryan sent the family chauffeur, Jim McCartney, to wake him about 4:30, and it was learned then that he was dead.

Dr. W. F. Thomason and Dr. A. C.
Broyles, who examined the body, expressed the opinion Mr. Bryan had been dead between 30 and 45 minutes before they arrived. The death occurred in the residence of Richard

WILLIAM J. BRYAN

Rogers, which had been assigned to the Bryans during their stay here.
Funeral arrangements had not been completed, but Mrs. Bryan indicated interment would be in Arlington cemetery.

Mr. Bryan, who was a colonel of the Third Nebraska volunteers during the Spanish-American war, on several occasions had expressed a desire to be buried in Arlington.

Mr. Bryan's death came on the eve of another crusade he had planned to carry before the American people—a battle against modernism. He returned to Dayton Sunday morning after having made addresses Saturday at Jasper and Winchester, Tenn., and after having completed arrangement for the early publication of the speech he was to have made in the trial of John T. Scopes, who recently was found guilty of violating Tennessee's anti-evolution law.

Despite the strenuous program Mr.
Bryan had been following as a member of the prosecution staff in the Scopes case and as leader of the fundamentalists he appeared in excellent health.

Shortly before Mr. Bryan entered his room to rest he told his wife he had never felt better in his life, and was ready to go before the country to wage his fight in behalf of fundamentals.

About 4:30 o'clock Mrs. Bryan said she felt her husband had slept long enough, so she sent the chauffeur, who also was his personal attendant, to wake him. McCartney shook Mr.
Bryan twice before he noticed the latter was not breathing. The physicians and A. B. Andrews, a neighbor, then were summoned hurriedly.

Mrs. Bryan accepted the shock bravely and remained calm.
"I am happy that my husband died without suffering, and in peace," she said.

"You know he was a colonel in the Spanish-American war and since it was his wish to rest in Arlington we will probably place him there."

In all the history of American politics there are few names which carry that brilliant luster of spectacular effort which has become a part of the memory of William Jennings Bryan.
His life for almost 30 years was a panorama of national sensationals, piled one upon the other. At 36 he became, almost overnight, not only the leader of his party but the idol of millions. Three times he carried the party standard as its choice for the highest office of the land; in another presidential year—1912—he reaped much of the credit of placing Woodrow Wilson in the White House and in almost every other national democratic convention in a generation he was in the very center of every storm that came.

Farmers Face Deficit.

Washington, D. C.—Farmers failed to earn a fair return on the capital invested and a fair wage last year, although they fared better financially than in the preceding year, the department of agriculture declared Friday in an analysis of the agricultural balance sheet.

On the total capital invested in agriculture, the return for the year was estimated at 4.6 per cent, compared with 3.3 the year before.

Pershing in Panama.

Balboa, Panama Canal Zone.—General John J. Pershing, president of the Acena Arica plebiscitary commission, and his party arrived at Cristobal Friday morning. He was greeted by Colonel M. L. Walker, governor of the Panama Canal zone; Major-General William Lassiter, commander of the canal department, and a guard of honor. General Pershing immediately en-trained for Panama.
